Prospective investors should carefully consider the risks described below, in addition to the other information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus before making any investment decision relating to our Equity Shares. The occurrence of any of the following events could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operation, financial condition and prospects and cause the market price of our Equity Shares to fall significantly and you may lose all or part of your investment.

Prior to making an investment decision, prospective investors should carefully consider all of the information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the restated consolidated financial statements included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus beginning on page 150. Unless stated otherwise, the financial data in this section is as per our restated consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with Indian GAAP. In this section, any reference to "we", "us", "our" or "the Company" refers to Suzlon Energy Limited on a consolidated basis and any reference to "Our Group" refers to Suzlon Energy Limited on a consolidated basis and our Associate Companies.

Unless otherwise stated in the relevant risk factors set forth below, we are not in a position to specify or quantify the financial or other implications of any of the risks mentioned herein.

RISKS RELATED TO THE WIND POWER INDUSTRY

The demand for wind power projects is primarily dependent on the demand for electricity.

The demand for electricity in India and in international markets such as the United States and China is closely linked to economic growth in these countries. As the economy grows, economic activities, such as industrial production and personal consumption, also tend to expand, which increases the demand for electricity. Conversely in economic downturns, activities such as industrial production and consumer demand decline or stagnate, causing demand for electricity to decrease. If either the Indian economy or the economies of major international markets, such as China and the United States, do not continue to grow at their current rate, or if there is an economic downturn, demand for electricity generally and demand for renewable energy sources such as wind power particularly are likely to decrease. A sustained economic downturn would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The demand for wind power projects is dependent on the cost of wind-generated electricity compared to electricity generated from other sources of energy, as well as on the reliability of wind patterns.

The demand for wind power plants is dependent on the cost of wind-generated electricity compared to electricity generated from other sources of energy. The cost of electricity produced by wind power plants is dependent on the cost of establishment of the wind power plants themselves, financing costs, maintenance costs and wind conditions at the designated site. The cost and limited supplies of oil, coal and other fossil fuels are key factors in determining the effectiveness of wind power, as from an economic perspective, cheaper and large supplies of fossil fuels favour non-wind power generation, while more expensive and limited supplies of fossil fuels favour wind power generation.

In addition to energy produced from other renewable energy sources, the main competition to wind power is oil, coal, gas and nuclear-fuelled power generation. The cost-competitiveness of energy from renewable energy sources, particularly from wind power, has been enhanced by the current near record-high prices for crude oil and petroleum products. Also, continued investment in product techniques and technical advances in WTG design have led to a continuing reduction in the cost per kWh of power from wind energy. However, an increase in cost competitiveness or a leap in technology for other sources of power generation, the discovery of new and significant oil, gas and coal deposits or a decline in the global prices of oil, gas and coal and other petroleum products, which is currently tracking or near all-time highs, could result in lower demand for wind power plants, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, as the viability of wind power is dependent on the wind patterns, which are not constant and which vary over time, WTGs are generally not considered as viable base load sources of electricity. This means that while demand for wind power may increase, it is unlikely that wind power will be considered a large-scale substitute for fossil-fuel generated power and for renewable energy from more reliable sources, such as hydropower. This may adversely affect the future growth prospects of the wind power industry in general and our growth prospects in particular.

A wind farm project requires higher upfront capital investment per kWh of energy produced as compared to fossil fuel-based power plants. The terms of financing that our customers can obtain for wind power projects has a significant influence on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

A wind power plant requires higher initial capital investment per kWh of energy produced from our customers as compared to that required for a fossil fuel-based power plant. Our customers are generally required to obtain financing approval and the financing terms obtained for investments in wind power therefore have a significant influence on the wind power industry's opportunities to sell its products. Higher interest rate levels will cause the costs of investing in wind power to increase, thus making wind power a less attractive investment proposition. The creditworthiness of a wind power project proponent and the terms of any such financing also determines whether financing for a project can be obtained. In most cases, wind power plants are financed over terms that are shorter than what is available for conventional forms of energy. As a result, WTG customers assume a higher degree of risk regarding upward interest rate movements in the event a WTG project requires refinancing. Factors having an adverse impact on the financing terms for wind power plants therefore influence our opportunities for selling our products and could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The ability to obtain financing for a wind power project also depends on the willingness of banks and other financing institutions to provide loans to the wind power industry, including their willingness to participate in financing of large wind power projects. If lenders decide to reduce their exposure to the wind power industry or to one or more suppliers of WTGs, this could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The decrease in or elimination of government initiatives and incentives relating to renewable energy sources, and in particular to wind energy, may have a material adverse effect on the demand for wind power.

In recent years, governments in many countries, including India, have enacted legislation or have established policies that support the expansion of renewable energy sources, such as wind power, and such support has been a significant contributing factor in the growth of the wind power industry. Support for investments in wind power is typically provided through fiscal incentive schemes or public grants to the owners of wind power systems, for example through preferential tariffs on power generated by WTGs or tax incentives promoting investments in wind power. In India, various state governments have also provided wind power generators with wheeling facilities and have also allowed wind power generators to bank power with the grid, due to wind being an intermittent source of power. In addition, in some countries governments also prescribe specified levels of electricity that utilities are required to obtain from renewable energy sources. Further, the international attention being paid to reducing carbon dioxide emissions and the possibility of trading carbon dioxide emission quotas taking place has led to extra duties being applied to those sources of energy, primarily fossil fuels, which cause carbon dioxide pollution. The imposition of these duties has indirectly supported the expansion of power generated from renewable energy and, in turn, the wind power industry in general.

In the past, the decrease in or elimination of direct or indirect government support schemes in a country has had a negative impact on the market for wind power in that country. There can be no assurance that any such government support will continue at the same level or at all.

If direct and indirect government support for wind power was terminated or reduced, this would make producing electricity from wind power less competitive. Our ability to sell WTGs and to offer, in coordination with our Associate Companies, wind power-related services could therefore decline sharply, which would adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

The construction and operation of wind power projects has faced opposition from local communities and other parties.

The construction and operation of wind power plants in a number of countries has faced opposition from the local communities where these plants are located and from special interest groups. WTGs cause noise and are considered by some to be aesthetically unappealing. Certain environmental organizations have expressed opposition to wind turbines on the allegation that wind farms cause the killing of birds and have other adverse effects on flora and fauna. For instance in India, some communities have claimed that the local climate has been adversely affected by the operation of WTGs. Legislation is in place in many countries, which regulate the accepted distance between wind power plants and urban areas to guard especially against the effects of noise. It is possible that such legislation could be amended to place further restrictions on distance, or to limit the size or height of WTGs in a given area, to prohibit the installation of WTGs at certain sites, or to impose other restrictions, such as noise requirements. A significant increase in the extent of such legislation or other restrictions could cause significant constraints on the growth of the wind power industry as a whole. This would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The construction and operation of wind power projects is subject to regulation, including environmental controls, and changes in these regulations could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Many countries, including India, have introduced legislation governing the manufacture, erection, operation and decommissioning of WTGs, including compliance with procedures relating to the acquisition of land to be used for wind power plants, compliance with relevant planning regulations and approvals for the commencement of a wind power project, including clearances from environmental regulators. Further, the extraction activities on land used for wind farms and the refining and consumption of raw materials used in the manufacture of WTGs, the impact of noise pollution from manufacturing facilities and noise from the transport to and from production sites are subject to regulation. In the event legislation and regulation relating to the foregoing activities are made more stringent, such as increasing the requirements for obtaining approvals or meeting government standards, this could result in changes to the infrastructure necessary for wind power projects and the technical requirements for WTGs and the methods used to manufacture them, increasing the costs related to changing production methods in order to meet government standards and increasing penalties for non-compliance. These could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be unable to keep pace with rapidly evolving technology in the design and production of WTGs.

The global market for WTGs involves rapidly evolving technology. WTGs are progressively becoming larger and their operational performance has improved, and our customers are demanding more cost efficient WTGs. To maintain a successful business in our field, we will have to quickly and consistently design and develop new and improved WTGs that keep pace with technological developments and changing customer standards and meet the constantly growing demands of our customers in terms of WTG performance. Our ability to design, develop, manufacture and market financially viable and cost-efficient WTGs on an ongoing basis is particularly important. Our inability to adequately respond to the technological changes in our industry in a timely manner would have a material adverse effect in our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We operate in a highly competitive industry, which could limit our ability to grow.

The market for WTGs is intensely competitive. Important factors affecting competition in our industry include performance of WTGs, reliability, product quality, technology, price, and the scope and quality of services, including O&M services, and training offered to customers. Some of the key competitors in the industry are listed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus under "Business — Competition" on page 71 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Although we have expended considerable resources on product design, development and manufacture, some of our competitors have longer industry experience and greater financial, technical, personnel, marketing and other resources. Some competitors may also be able to react faster to trends and changes in customer demand. Our competitors may be willing and able to spend more resources to develop products and sales and may be able to provide products faster or at a lower price than we can. If our competitors consolidate through joint ventures or cooperative agreements with each other, or even otherwise, we may have difficulty competing with them.

While we believe that we have historically been able to provide our products and services in our principal markets at competitive prices, there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so in the future, as our competitors may be able to offer products and services that are more effective than ours.

Growing competition may result in a decline in our market share or may force us to reduce the prices of our products and services, which may reduce our revenues and margins, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We cannot be reasonably certain that we will be able to compete successfully against such competitors, or that we will not lose potential customers to such competitors. Additionally, our ability to compete also depends in part on factors outside our control, such as the price at which our competitors offer comparable products and services.

RISK RELATED TO OUR BUSINESS

We are substantially dependent on revenues from sales to Indian customers. Changes in or termination of policies of state governments in India that encourage investment in power projects may have a material adverse effect on wind power projects.

Since incorporation, almost all of our revenues have been derived from sales of WTGs to Indian customers and the provision of O&M services to these customers. During fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, income from India contributed 88.4% and 99.7%, respectively, to our total income. We anticipate that the contribution of revenues from Indian customers will continue to comprise a substantial portion of our total revenues. Consequently, our future success, to a large extent, will depend on continued demand for and market acceptance of our WTGs in India, our ability to provide, in coordination with our Associate Companies, integrated wind power solutions and the overall Indian market for renewable energy sources. Competition, technological change and changes in government policies or incentives, as well as other factors, could reduce demand for, or market acceptance of, our WTGs and this could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, several state governments in India have adopted policies that encourage investment in wind power projects. Among these policies are the ability of companies to establish captive power generating facilities with relatively low wheeling charges imposed by SEBs, as well as allowing private sector power generating facilities to sell electricity to third parties. As a result, many entities, particularly those with high power usage, have established captive generating facilities, including facilities utilizing WTGs. Many of our key customers have purchased WTGs and participated in wind farm projects due to these state policies. In the event these policies change in a manner that makes it less attractive for investors to establish captive generating facilities or state governments decide not to extend the effective date for these policies, demand for our WTGs could decrease and this would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our revenues and results of operations fluctuate depending on many factors, particularly on the timing of sales, and can vary significantly from period to period, which could adversely affect our results of operation and could cause our share price to decline.

In India, which is currently our primary market, WTGs sales are usually higher during the second and fourth quarters of each fiscal year. We believe that this is primarily for two reasons, namely commissioning of WTGs in time to take advantage of the high wind season and availment of the tax benefits prior to the end of the fiscal year. Therefore, a large portion of revenue is generated and cost of materials are incurred during these two fiscal quarters. However, a significant portion of our overhead expenses cannot be adjusted for seasonal variations in business activity. As a result, a drop in sales revenue in one quarter may have a disproportionately adverse effect on our results of operations in such quarter. Our revenues and results of operations may therefore vary significantly in the future from period to period. Therefore, we believe that period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations may not be necessarily meaningful and may not be relied upon as an indication of our future performance. It is possible that in the future some of our results of operations may be below the expectations of market analysts and our investors, which could cause the price of our Equity Shares to decline significantly.

Key factors which could also affect the results of our operations include, inter alia:

- the size, timing and profitability of the orders for WTGs and related services;
- the ability to modify and upgrade our WTG models based on customer needs and evolving technologies;
- changes in our marketing strategy and commercial terms of sales or those of our competitors;
- our ability to pass increases in cost of goods sold to customers;

- the size and timing of expansion of facilities;
- unanticipated cancellations, contract terminations or deferrals of projects; and
- unanticipated variations in the duration, size and scope of projects.

In addition, our recognition of revenues is dependent upon the timely dispatch of WTGs. Delays in dispatching WTGs resulting from the deficiencies in our manufacturing capabilities will cause cost overruns and adversely affect our working capital. Further, we normally require customers to make all payments for each WTG component upon delivery thereof, although in some cases customers are given from 30 to 60 days from the invoice date within which to pay a portion of the amounts due. As of March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005, the aggregate value of customers (including deferred credit receivables) from whom payments have been outstanding for more than six months totaled Rs. 1,599.9 million and Rs. 1,190.0 million, respectively, comprising 46.5% and 17.2%, respectively, of total amounts due from sundry debtors. This represents a substantial improvement from March 31, 2003 when receivables over six months comprised 59.8% of total receivables. We also have not made significant provisions in relation to these outstanding amounts. Our inability in future to realise or accelerate the realisation of these outstanding amounts could adversely impact our financial condition, liquidity and results of operations.

A significant part of our total overhead expenses, particularly expenses related to personnel and facilities, are fixed in nature. As a result, unanticipated variations in the number and timing of orders for our WTGs may cause significant variations in our operating results in any particular period.

There are also a number of factors, other than our performance, that are not within our control that could cause fluctuations in our operating results from period to period. These include:

- the availability and duration of tax holidays or exemptions and the availability of other incentives, including those relating to the renewable energy sources;
- changes to policies relating, to and regulatory support for renewable energy sources;
- the occurrence of natural disasters, such as floods, earthquakes, storms, cyclones and tsunamis;
- currency exchange rate fluctuations, such as when the Rupee depreciates in value against foreign currencies, which affect the cost of key components which we import from foreign suppliers;
- changes in Indian law relating to the acquisition and development of land for wind power projects and to regulations relating to the construction and operation of wind power projects, as well as changes in environmental regulations.
- changes in Indian law relating to foreign exchange management and to foreign equity ownership in Indian companies that could constrain our ability to raise capital outside India through the issuance of equity or convertible debt securities;
- oil, gas, coal and other fossil fuel prices which affect the effectiveness of wind power to our customers; and
- the economies of India, the United States and other international markets, as well as other general economic factors.

Any of these factors could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are highly dependent on our Associate Companies in providing integrated wind energy solutions packages to customers in India; we do not control our Associate Companies.

Our business strategy in India involves the ability to offer customers integrated solutions relating to wind power projects. This involves the acquisition and/or lease by certain of our Associate Companies of land identified by us as suitable for wind farms, which is then sold or leased or sub-leased exclusively to our customers by these Associate Companies. These Associate Companies are members of our Promoter Group.

Our integrated solutions strategy also involves another Associate Company, Suzlon Developers Ltd., or SDL, which is engaged by our customers to develop the wind farm site and to construct the necessary infrastructure. SDL also installs and commissions the WTGs acquired from us by the customer. Further, certain of our Associate Companies are involved in the development of wind farm projects and for this purpose they apply for approvals from the Indian central government and various Indian state governments to participate in the development of wind farm projects. Upon receiving the required approvals, these wind farm projects are developed by our Group.

We have entered into agreements for services with certain of our Associate Companies, including SRL, under the terms of which these Associate Companies undertake to procure land identified by us as suitable for wind farms and to exclusively offer such land for sale, lease or sub-lease, as appropriate to our customers, and cannot sell, lease or sub-lease such land to any other persons or entities without our prior consent. We have also entered into an agreement for services with SDL, pursuant to which SDL undertakes to provide the services related to wind farm infrastructure construction and development, such as access roads, site levelling, civil foundation, transmission facilities, control rooms and sub-stations, as well as WTG installation, exclusively to our customers and will not provide such services to any other persons or entities without our prior consent.

Notwithstanding these agreements, as we do not exercise any degree of control, whether directly or indirectly, over the business or operations of any of our Associate Companies, we can provide no assurance that these agreements will be complied with or continued. Neither can we provide any assurance that customers will agree to use the land acquired by our Associate Companies or engage their services. In the event an Associate Company breaches its agreement with us or customers chose not to enter into transactions with an Associate Company, we may be required to incur significant expense and undertake the acquisition of land for wind farm projects in our own name and in directly undertaking infrastructure development and WTG installation, all of which would involve substantial capital risks and expense, especially from lawsuits by others claiming rights over land acquired, which would involve significant and direct management attention. We have no significant experience in such activities. Further, if we incur higher costs than what would have been incurred by our Associate Companies in carrying out their activities, this would increase the cost to our customers of using wind farms developed by us and so adversely affect the competitiveness of our wind farm projects. Any of the foregoing could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have a significant number of transactions with our Associate Companies.

As our business strategy involves providing integrated wind power solutions in coordination with our Associate Companies, we have a significant number of transactions with these companies. In certain states, such as Rajasthan and Maharashtra, we along with our Associate Companies have applied for approvals from the relevant state nodal agency for the allocation of generating capacity and/or government land to be used for wind power projects. Further, we often provide financial assistance to our Associate Companies in the form of advances and have also guaranteed their obligations to banks and other financial institutions. As of March 31, 2005, loans and advances to Associate Companies totalled Rs. 1,861.4 million and we had guaranteed Rs. 14.0 million of our Associate Companies' loans. We are not paid any consideration for providing these guarantees. We also lease certain properties to Associate Companies, for which we are paid rent. Further, under our agreements with them, SRL and SDL receive an annual commission of 11% and 5.25% (for SDL) respectively and our other Associate Companies are paid an annual exclusivity fee of Rs. 10,000 per megawatt (for the Windfarm Developers) in relation to the services offered by them. For more details please see the section titled "History and Certain Corporate Matters - Agreements with our Group Companies" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

As both we and our Associate Companies are controlled by our Promoter Group, there can be no assurance that transactions with our Associate Companies will be entered into on an arm's-length basis. Further, because our Promoter, along with other members of our Promoter Group, is the controlling shareholder of both us and our Associate Companies and has a conflict of interest with respect to dealings between us and our Associate Companies, there can be no assurance that any dispute that may arise between us and our Associate Companies will be resolved in our favour. For more information, see the section titled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations —Transactions With Associate Companies" on page 238 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and see the section titled "Related Party Transactions" on page 142 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We are heavily dependent on a few key products which carry a high degree of technical risk.

Our future performance depends almost entirely on the acceptance and marketability of WTGs, and in particular, on the future success of the models which we currently manufacture or are developing. The performance of our WTGs in the medium- and long-term is subject to important technical and physical risks. For some models, such as our 2.00 MW model, there is no experiential data on long-term, full-time operation. Although our machines are designed for a 20-year life cycle, no definitive statements can be made about the service life of our WTGs or their components, or about their medium- to long-term operational reliability. While the direct risk from limited operational reliability and reduced life of WTGs is borne by our customers, disputes between WTG manufacturers and customers based on actual or alleged product defects may take place.

Further, we undertake various testing processes on new models of WTG and rotor blades in different operating conditions to acquire data for making decisions for series production of such new models and the WTGs and rotor blades used in the course of such tests may get damaged or become unfit to be used. Based on our understandings with customers to whom such new models are sold, any loss incurred in the course of such tests, is borne by us. Such instances could damage the reputation of our products and therefore impair the marketability of our products.

Further disputes or claims may arise in relation to any performance warranties for our WTGs that we provide our customers. If such disputes or claims do occur, defense against claims from customers, even if such claims are not meritorious, could be expensive and divert our attention and resources from our business, and our financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected. See "Risk Factors – We face product liability and warranty risks and may face related claims".

Further, if demand for our products declines, or the marketability or life span of our products diminishes so that the products can no longer be sold on the market or can only be sold in small quantities, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We can provide no assurance that our new products will be commercially successful.

Our growth depends on designing, developing and marketing new and more cost-efficient WTGs. We have recently developed a 0.60 MW WTG model and are currently developing additional MegaWatt (1.00 MW to 1.50 MW) and Multi MegaWatt (greater than 1.50 MW) WTG models. The development of new WTG models requires significant investments. Whether our new WTGs will be accepted by and be successful in the market and whether we will recoup the costs of developing such new WTGs cannot be assured. For a variety of reasons, including uncertainties in forecasting future developments in technology, the success of our products cannot be predicted with any certainty. There can be no guarantee that we will succeed in introducing new products into the market in a timely manner, that the newly introduced products will be accepted in the market, or that such acceptance will continue for any period of time. Any of these factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We plan to invest significantly in research and development and to commit a significant investment in personnel for product development over the next few years. However, there is a risk that our development of new and existing products may be delayed, may result in incurrence of higher than expected costs or may fail technologically. It cannot be assured that we will be able to develop more cost-efficient WTGs or that this will lead to profits for us or that we will be able to continue to successfully develop and exploit our expertise in the future. In addition, it cannot be assured that the costs of developing new products will not be greater than future income from those products. Any of these factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We face product liability and warranty risks and may face related claims.

As part of our business model, we provide our customers with a generation warranty for each WTG purchased. This warranty can consist of (a) an absolute "unit" warranty on the number of units of electricity that will be generated by the WTG, subject to grid availability although regardless of fluctuations in wind speed or (b) a power curve warranty pursuant to which we warrant that a WTG will produce a specified number of units of electricity at different wind speeds. While we believe we have made adequate provisions for potential claims arising from generation warranties, there can be no assurance that the provisions we have made or may make will be sufficient to cover these claims. With regard to customers to whom we have provided unit warranties, there can be no assurance that wind patterns will be such that the unit warranty will be achieved. In the event such provisions are not sufficient, the amount of claims arising from the failure of our WTGs to meet generation warranties could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We also offer O&M services for our WTGs, which includes round-the-clock monitoring and maintenance and repair of the units. Our standard service package includes preventive and planned maintenance of WTGs, transformers and related structures and includes a warranty on machine availability, which typically ranges from 95% to 97%, depending on the agreement reached with the customer, as well as warranties relating to the maximum allowable percentages of reactive power and transmission losses. If the machine availability warranty is not met, we are liable to our customers up to a certain percentage of the annual maintenance fees we receive for each WTG that did not perform as warranted. We also offer, for a higher fee, a comprehensive service package that includes free repair or replacement of damaged components in addition to the services offered in the standard service package. Depending on the number of WTGs that a customer has acquired and that do not perform as warranted or are damaged, the amount of claims against us can be significant. Although our WTGs are tested comprehensively before delivery and ongoing production is subject to quality assurance measures, there can be no assurance that defects will not arise or latent defects will not become apparent during the operation of WTGs that would entitle our customers to seek compensation based on warranties or component breakdowns. The costs related to addressing and settling claims against us arising from our O&M services, including costs related to repairing and replacing WTG components, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, we do not obtain insurance coverage for product warranty claims for WTGs sold in India. As such, product defect or warranty claims brought against us by our Indian customers may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. We only carry insurance coverage covering claims arising from defects in the construction, materials and manufacture, including warranty claims, only for WTGs sold to customers outside India. In connection with product defect or warranty claims that could be brought against us by international customers, there can be no assurance that our insurance coverage will prove adequate.

There is also a risk that product liability claims, including claims arising from manufacturing defects, could also be filed against us by our customers or third parties who may be harmed by defective WTGs or WTG components that we have sold or may sell in the future. Claims for damages brought by these third parties against us could be substantial and could have material adverse effects on our business, financial position and results of operations.

WTGs and its components supplied by us may get damaged owing to wind and other loads at the locations where such WTGs are erected exceed the design load. The insurance coverage may not be available for such damages or may not be sufficient to cover the costs incurred, in which event, there may be claims made by the customers and we may be required to bear such claims or replace the WTG or its components so damaged.

Further, any WTG or WTG component malfunction or the failure of our WTGs to meet specified performance levels could damage the reputation of our products and therefore impair the marketability of our products, materially adversely affecting our business and results of operations.

We may be unable to seek compensation from suppliers for defective components or raw materials.

In the event we become subject to product liability or warranty claims caused by defective components or raw materials obtained from an outside supplier, we can attempt to seek compensation from the relevant supplier. However, our agreements with suppliers often include limitations against recovery for lost profits and indirect or consequential losses. In some cases, warranties provided by suppliers may be for shorter periods than the warranty periods we provide to our customers. Further, warranty claims against suppliers may be subject to certain conditions precedent. Also, we only carry insurance coverage covering claims arising from defective materials only for WTGs sold to customers in overseas markets. If no claim can be asserted against a supplier, or amounts that we claim cannot be recovered from either a supplier or from our insurer, and the defective raw materials or components affects a large number of the relevant WTG model or various WTG series using identical components or raw materials, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

We and our Associate Companies may not be able to secure suitable locations for wind farm projects.

Our ability and the ability of our Associate Companies to acquire sites that we have identified as suitable for wind farms either through lease agreements or purchase agreements depends on many factors, among which are whether the land is private or state-owned, whether the land is classified in a manner that allows its use for a wind farm site and the willingness of the owner or owners to sell or lease their land. In many cases the area that we have identified as a suitable site is owned by numerous small landowners. Further, in certain cases the approval of Government authorities is required for the purchase or lease of land. We also face competition from other WTG manufacturers and operators in the acquisition of suitable sites for wind farms. Given that the acquisition of these sites is of fundamental importance to our "integrated solutions" business strategy in India, difficulties in acquiring new sites could have a significant impact on future project development by our Group as well as our sales. Any of these could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In certain states in India, such as Rajasthan and Karnataka, we are required by law to directly acquire the land on which a wind farm will be established. Further, if we were to acquire private land in India, this would involve us in the difficulties related thereto, such as litigation relating to ownership of and liens on land, where title records are often inaccurate, as well as negotiations with numerous land owners, with wind farm sites potentially owned by numerous small landowners, and obtaining government approvals. We may also become liable for environmental hazards on land that we acquire. Each of the foregoing can be time-consuming, require us to incur additional costs and can involve a significant amount of attention and effort from our management and in certain cases we may not be able to acquire land at all, which would adversely impact our ability to provide "integrated solutions" to our customers. Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have been named as parties in several litigation proceedings against our Associate Companies relating to acquisition of private land by our Associate Companies for the setting up windfarm projects.

We have been named as parties in several court proceedings arising out of the acquisition of private land by our Associate Companies that was used to develop windfarm projects. Most of these proceedings pertain to disputes regarding the ownership by the transferor of these parcels of land or the ability to use of such parcels of land for windfarm projects. Some of these proceedings also involve land where WTGs have already been installed or are in the process of being installed. In some of these cases injunctions have been sought against the installation and setting up of WTGs. The granting of such injunctions or an order for the payment of damages by the Associate Companies may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. For more details, see the section titled "Outstanding Litigation and Material Development-Land Related Disputes" on page 245 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

If wind patterns at sites we have previously identified as suitable for wind farm projects change, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

The viability of a wind power project is dependent on the supply of wind, which by its very nature is intermittent. The viability of wind farm projects at sites we have identified is primarily dependent on the wind patterns at these sites conforming to the patterns that were used to determine the suitability of these sites for wind farm projects. Although both the Government of India and we conduct wind resource assessments based on long-term wind patterns at identified sites, there can be no assurance that wind patterns at a particular site will remain constant. Changes in wind patterns at particular sites that we have previously identified as suitable for wind farm projects, and which have been acquired and developed by our Associate Companies, could affect our ability to sell our WTGs to potential customers as part of our "integrated solutions" wind power strategy. Also, changes in wind patterns at wind farms where our WTGs have been installed could give rise to warranty claims from customers whom we have provided an absolute "unit" warranty, i.e., a warranty on the number of units of electricity that our WTGs will produce. Further, any change in wind patterns at sites we have identified as suitable for wind farms could also damage our reputation and the reputation of the wind power industry as a whole. Any of these could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we are unable to implement our growth strategies in a timely manner, our business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

As a part of our growth strategy, we have made and will be making substantial investments in new production capacities in India for the manufacture of WTGs and components such as generators, tubular towers and rotor blades. At present, our growth plan also involves establishing an integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China and rotor blade and tubular tower manufacturing facilities in the United States, as well as further investment in marketing and distribution to increase penetration levels in the domestic market and acquisition of more customers in the overseas markets. Our success will depend on, among other things, our ability to secure required financing, assess potential markets, time our capital investments, control input costs, attract new customers in India and in international markets, maintain and enhance our position with our current customers both in India and internationally and maintain sufficient operational and financial controls. Our growth strategy may place significant demands on our management and other resources.

Our growth strategies involve risks and difficulties, many of which are beyond our control and accordingly there can be no assurance that we will be able to complete our plans on schedule or without incurring additional expenditures or at all. If market conditions change, if operations do not generate sufficient funds or for any other reasons, we may decide to delay, modify or forego some aspects of our growth strategies. Our future results of operations may be adversely affected if we are unable to implement our growth strategies successfully.

Expanding our market outside of India could increase costs and may decrease profits.

Our strategic objective of expanding sales of our WTGs to overseas customers carries certain significant risks. We have historically generated only limited revenue and profit from the sale of our WTGs in foreign markets and as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus have completed only one international project, a 22.8 MW project in the United States.

As such, our international marketing experience is limited and there can be no assurance that we will be able to expand our export activities as planned. Our business strategy of expansion into foreign markets will require us to adapt our products and our marketing strategy to foreign markets. In many markets we may have to establish subsidiaries or affiliated companies using local partners or conclude co-operation agreements with companies who are already established in the local wind energy market. In the case of such joint ventures and other co-operation arrangements, there can be no assurance that we will be able to negotiate attractive terms or prevail in a potential disagreement with our business partners.

Our expansion into foreign markets will also expose us to risks associated with different legal and taxation regimes and economic conditions in each country and to different (and potentially more onerous) legal regimes with respect to product liability and warranty requirements. We will also increase our exposure to risks of fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates. As a result, our strategy of expansion into markets outside India could increase our costs of operations and thereby could have an adverse effect on our future prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Any disruption affecting our manufacturing facilities could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

At present all of our manufacturing facilities are located in India. The manufacture of our WTGs, as well as of their key components, involve many significant hazards that could result in fires, explosions, spills, and other unexpected or dangerous conditions or accidents. Any significant interruption to our operations as a result of industrial accidents, floods, severe weather or other natural disasters could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. There can be no assurance that such events or natural disasters may not occur in the future and that if they do occur, that our manufacturing ability and capacity would not be materially and adversely impacted. For example, during the current monsoon season, flooding in the state of Gujarat, including the Vadodara district, resulted in the shut down of our tooling facility for a few days and affected the transportation of raw materials and finished WTG components. Although this has not yet had a material effect on our results of operations, there can be no assurance that continued flooding in the Gujarat region would not have any adverse effect on our future results of operations.

We are also subject to mechanical failure and equipment shutdowns. In such situations, undamaged manufacturing units may be dependent on or interact with damaged sections of our facilities and, accordingly, are also subject to being shut down. If such events occur, our manufacturing capacity may be materially and adversely impacted. In the event we are forced to shut down any of our manufacturing facilities for a significant period of time, it would have a material adverse effect on our earnings, our other results of operations and our financial condition as a whole.

We also require power for our manufacturing facilities and we are currently able to provide sufficient power for our facilities. However, industrial accidents, natural disasters or other factors that may affect our ability to produce or procure the necessary power to operate our manufacturing facilities. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As a manufacturing business our success depends on the smooth supply of raw materials and components to our plants and transportation of our WTGs from our plants to our customers, which are subject to various uncertainties and risks.

We depend on various forms of transport, such as air, seaborne freight, rail and road, to receive raw materials and components used in the WTG production and to deliver our products from our manufacturing facilities to our customers. These transportation facilities may not be adequate to support our operations. Further, disruptions of transportation services because of weather-related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in the road infrastructure and port facilities, or other events could impair the ability of our suppliers to deliver raw materials and components and our ability to supply our products to our customers. For example, in August 2004 a nationwide strike by truck drivers in India adversely affected our ability to receive shipments of raw materials and components, as well as our ability to deliver WTG components to customers. Finally, we also have limited storage facilities and may not be able to store sufficient WTG components and raw materials.

Our employees and third parties may also sustain injuries in the course of manufacturing, transporting or loading and unloading our WTGs and related components, such as rotor blades, nacelles and towers, which could cause delays in delivery of our products.

Although we have not encountered any significant disruptions in the supply of our raw materials and components and in the transportation of our products, we can provide no assurance that such disruptions due to occurrence of any of the factors cited above will not occur in the future.

We are dependent on external suppliers for key raw materials and components.

While we manufacture some of the components needed for the manufacture of WTGs, we source from outside suppliers raw materials that we use to manufacture WTG components, such as glass fibre and epoxy resin for rotor blades, as well as several key WTG components, such as gearboxes, yaw and pitch drives, generators and a portion of our tower requirements, from suppliers in India and overseas. The quality of our products and customer acceptance of our products depends on the quality of raw materials and components and our ability to deliver our products in a timely manner. The failure of our suppliers to deliver these raw materials or components in the necessary quantities or to adhere to delivery schedules or specified quality standards/technical specifications, could adversely affect our production processes and our ability to deliver orders on time and at the desired level of quality giving rise to contractual penalties or liability, for failure to perform contracts, and a loss of customers and damage our reputation, any of which could materially adversely affect our results of operations.

Some key components, such as the gearboxes for our WTGs and the rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTG, are developed and manufactured by particular suppliers specifically for us. As there are very few suppliers who are able to supply the gearboxes and the 0.35 MW rotor blades that we use, we believe it is not practical for us to broaden our base of suppliers to any significant extent, as our current suppliers have demonstrated the ability to meet the necessary quality and technical standards for these components and it would be time-consuming and costly for us to qualify other suppliers for these components. As a result, any increase in the prices of rotor blades and gearboxes, the inability of our suppliers to meet our supply needs or the failure of our suppliers to deliver these components in a timely manner may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Also, qualifying alternative suppliers that can meet our technical and quality standards, and who can supply these components in necessary quantities, would entail substantial cost and could cause delays in deliveries of our products. Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, if the costs of raw materials and components were to rise due to factors such as rises in input and commodity prices or shortages in supply, and we are not able to recover these costs through cost saving measures elsewhere or by increasing the prices of our WTGs, our results of operations could be adversely affected. In addition, under the terms of our agreements with customers, prices for our WTGs are generally fixed as of the date of the agreement, with limited or no mechanisms for periodic price increases. As such, should cost of raw materials or components rise, we can provide no assurance that we will be able to pass on any additional costs to our customers, and accordingly our results of operations could suffer. Finally, as we often purchase in advance raw materials and components based on our estimate of customer demand for an upcoming period, in the event prices for these raw materials and components subsequently decline there can be no assurance that we will be able to price our WTGs based on the raw material and component costs we actually incurred, which would make our WTGs uncompetitive compared to those of competitors who have not locked in raw materials supplies.

Fluctuation in the value of the Rupee against other currencies could adversely affect the cost of our borrowings and repayment of indebtedness, the costs of our raw materials and revenues from exports.

In fiscal 2004 and for fiscal 2005, imported raw materials and components accounted for approximately 54.5% and 50.2% of SEL's raw material cost, respectively, on a standalone basis. A devaluation or depreciation in the value of the Rupee increases the total costs of such imports and we may be unable to recover these costs through cost-saving measures elsewhere or by passing on these increased costs to our customers. Similarly, we source certain types of equipment from overseas, which we pay for primarily in Euros. A depreciation of the Rupee against the Euro increases the cost of such equipment in Rupee terms. We have not identified the amount of equipment that we will need to import for our future expansion. Although from time to time we engage in currency hedging in order to decrease our foreign exchange exposure, a weakening of the Rupee against the Euro and other major foreign currencies would have an adverse effect on our cost of production.

Also, as of March 31, 2005 approximately 20.9% of our total indebtedness was denominated in foreign currencies, primarily the U.S. dollars. Any depreciation of the Rupee against such foreign currencies, particularly the U.S. dollar increases the Rupee value of our total indebtedness and the cost of servicing such debt from our earnings, which are primarily in Rupees.

Further, in the event we begin to generate significant revenues from customers outside India and receive payment from such customers in foreign currencies, an appreciation of the Rupee decreases the Rupee value of such revenues and also affects the competitive advantage we derive from lower costs in our Indian manufacturing facilities. Further, we may import certain hardware and software for future expansion. An adverse change in currency exchange rates will increase the cost of these imports.

We may not be able to obtain or maintain adequate insurance.

Our operations are subject to hazards and risks inherent in the use of chemicals and other hazardous materials in the course of our production processes, such as explosions, chemical spills, storage tank leaks, discharges or releases of hazardous substances and other environmental risks, mechanical failure of equipment at our facilities and natural disasters. In addition, many of these operating and other risks may cause personal injury and loss of life, severe damage to or destruction of our properties and the properties of others and environmental pollution, and may result in suspension of operations and the imposition of civil or criminal penalties. While we believe that our insurance coverage is consistent with industry norms for India, we do not carry business interruption insurance for our operations in India. If any or all of our production facilities are damaged in whole or in part and our operations are interrupted for a sustained period, there can be no assurance that our insurance policies will be adequate to cover the losses that may be incurred as a result of such interruption or the costs of repairing or replacing the damaged facilities or any third party claims. If we suffer a large uninsured loss or any insured loss suffered by us significantly exceeds our insurance coverage, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We only carry insurance covering liability for defects in the construction, materials and manufacture of WTGs, as well as against warranty claims, only for WTGs sold to customers in overseas markets. We do not have insurance coverage in relation to any such risks for WTGs sold to Indian customers.

In addition, our insurance coverage is generally subject to annual renewal. In the event premium levels increase, we may not be able to obtain the same levels of coverage in the future as we currently have or we may only be able to obtain such coverage at substantially higher cost than we are currently paying. If we are unable to pass these costs to our customers, the costs of higher insurance premiums could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Alternatively, we may choose not to insure, which, in the event of any damage or destruction to our facilities or defects to our products, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

For a summary of the terms of our insurance contracts, see "Business — Insurance" on page 74 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We may, in the future, enter into strategic alliances, investments, partnerships and acquisitions. These may harm our business, dilute your ownership interest and cause us to incur debt.

As part of our growth strategy, we may enter into strategic alliances, make strategic investments, establish partnerships and/or make acquisitions relating to raw materials, components, complementary businesses, technologies, services or products. We may not be able to identify suitable investment opportunities, partners or acquisition candidates. If we do identify suitable investment opportunities, partners or acquisition candidates, we may have difficulty in accurately assessing the candidates, risks, placing an accurate valuation on it and we may be unable to negotiate terms commercially acceptable or favourable to us or complete those transactions at all. If we acquire another company or form a new joint venture or other strategic partnership, we could have difficulty in integrating that company's business, including products, components, personnel, operations and technology, with our business. In addition, the key personnel of an acquired company may decide not to work for us. Any potential acquisition, alliance or joint venture could involve a number of specific risks, including diversion of management's attention, higher costs, unanticipated events or circumstances, legal liabilities, failure of the business of the acquired company, fall in value of investments and amortisation of acquired intangible assets, some or all of which could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In the event that we plan to acquire or invest in an overseas company, we may be required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI, other regulators and/or the Government of India and there can be no assurance that such approvals will be obtained in a timely manner or at all.

We may finance future investments, partnerships or acquisitions with cash from operations, our existing cash balances, debt financing, the issuance of additional Equity Shares or a combination of these or any other forms of financing. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to arrange financing on acceptable terms, if at all, to complete any such transaction. Investments, partnerships or acquisitions financed by the issuance of our Equity Shares would dilute the ownership interest of our shareholders and debt financing would increase our leverage and financial risks. As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have no definitive commitment or agreement for any material investment, partnership or acquisition.

The failure to keep our technical knowledge confidential could erode our competitive advantage.

Like many of our competitors, we possess extensive technical knowledge about our products. Our know-how is a significant independent asset, which may not be protected by intellectual property rights such as patents, but is protected only by keeping it secret. As a result, we cannot be certain that our know-how will remain confidential in the long run. Employment contracts with certain of our employees who have special technical knowledge about our products or our business contain a general obligation to keep all such knowledge confidential and such obligation extends for a period of two years after the termination of employment. In addition to the confidentiality provisions, these employment agreements typically contain non-competition clauses. If either the confidentiality provisions or the non-competition clauses are unenforceable, we may not be able to maintain the confidentiality of our know-how.

Even if every possible precaution, whether contractual or otherwise, is taken to protect confidential technical knowledge about our products or our business, there is still a danger that such information may be disclosed to others or become public knowledge in circumstances beyond our control. In the event that confidential technical information or know-how about our products or our business becomes available to third parties or to the public, our competitive advantage over other companies in the wind energy industry could be harmed, which could have a material adverse effect on our current business, future prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Disruptions in telecommunications and basic infrastructure could harm our ability to provide O&M services, which could result in client dissatisfaction and a reduction of our revenues.

One aspect of our O&M service methodology is to link, via satellite or telephone lines, our on-site CMSs, to our technical personnel located in our corporate offices in Pune, as well as our engineers based in the Netherlands and Germany. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to maintain active voice and data communications between our on-site O&M centres and CMSs, on the one hand, and our off-site technical and engineering personnel, on the other hand. Any significant loss in our ability to communicate could affect our ability to provide O&M services to our customers. This, in turn, could lead to delay in reactivate of broken down WTG as well as customer dissatisfaction, and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Further, any disruption in basic infrastructure could negatively impact our business since we may not be able to provide timely or adequate services to our customers. We do not maintain business interruption insurance for our India operations and may not be covered for any claims or damages if the supply of power, infrastructure or telecommunications lines is disrupted, and these disruptions have occurred in India from time to time. This may result in the loss of customers and claims for damages against us, impose additional costs on us and have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The loss of the services of our Chairman and Managing Director, or of our key senior management personnel could adversely affect our business.

Our success depends in part on the continued services of our Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. Tulsi Tanti, and other key members of senior management. If we lose the services of our Chairman and Managing Director or any of our key senior management personnel, it would be very difficult to find and integrate replacement personnel in a timely manner and could significantly impair our ability to develop and implement our business strategies. This would have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to hire and retain sufficient numbers of qualified professional personnel that we need because these personnel are limited in number and are in high demand.

If we fail to hire and retain sufficient numbers of qualified personnel for functions such as finance, marketing and sales, engineering, research and development and operations and maintenance services, our business, operating results and financial condition could be adversely affected. The success of our business will depend on our ability to identify, attract, hire, train, retain and motivate skilled personnel. Competition for qualified professional personnel is intense as these personnel are in limited supply, particularly as the wind power industry continues to grow and mature. We might not be able to hire and retain sufficient numbers of such personnel to grow our business. There can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully attract, assimilate or retain sufficiently qualified personnel.

We may infringe on the intellectual property rights of others.

While we take care to ensure that we comply with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty whether we are infringing upon any existing third-party intellectual property rights which may force us to alter our technologies, obtain licenses or significantly cease some portions of our operations. We may also be susceptible to claims from third parties asserting infringement and other related claims. Regardless of whether such claims that we are infringing patents or other intellectual property rights have any merit, those claims could: (a) adversely affect our relationships with current or future customers; (b) result in costly litigation; (c) cause product shipment delays or stoppages; (d) divert management's attention and resources; (e) subject us to significant liabilities; (f) require us to enter into royalty or licensing agreements; and (g) require us to cease certain activities.

An adverse ruling arising out of any intellectual property dispute could subject us to significant liability for damages, prevent us from using technologies or developing products, or require us to negotiate licenses to disputed rights from third parties. Although patent and intellectual property disputes in the technology area are often settled through licensing or similar arrangements, costs associated with these arrangements may be substantial and could include license fees and ongoing royalties, which could be prohibitively expensive. Furthermore, necessary licenses may not be available to us on satisfactory terms, if at all. Any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

In this connection, in January 2000 we received a letter from the administrator in bankruptcy of Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH relating to royalty payments in connection with the Technical Collaboration Agreement dated September 30, 1996 which we entered into with Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH. The administrator in bankruptcy claimed that we owed royalty payments from sales of our 0.35 MW WTG models, which were designed and developed pursuant to the terms of the Technical Collaboration Agreement. We responded to the claims by explaining that the correct amount we owed was Deutsche Marks 234,000 (i.e., Euro 119,642 or Rs. 6.3 million as of June 30, 2005) and that Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH also had obligations under the agreement that had not been complied with. On March 1, 2000 we received a letter from the administrator in bankruptcy requesting a lump sum payment of Deutsche Marks 200,000 (i.e., Euro 102,258, or Rs. 5.4 million as of June 30, 2005) as settlement of all our outstanding obligations to agreeing to Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH. We agreed to pay this amount, subject to compliance by Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH with its outstanding obligations to us under the terms of the Technical Collaboration Agreement, including reimbursement of expenses we incurred to obtain the type certification for our 0.35 MW WTG models. As Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH has not complied with these obligations, we have not yet paid the Deutsche Marks 200,000 (i.e., Euro 102,258 or Rs. 5.4 million as of June 30, 2005) to its administrator in bankruptcy and we have not received any further correspondence relating to this issue. As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH is a subsidiary of Nordex AG, one of our key competitors. There can be no assurance that the claims against us arising from the Technical Collaboration Agreement will not be revived in the future and if revived, would not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have limited protection of the "Suzlon" logo.

We have applied for a trademark on our "Suzlon" logo, which is still pending as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Our application may not be allowed or competitors may challenge the validity or scope of this application or the trademark if the application is approved. If we fail to successfully obtain or enforce our trademark, we may need to change our logo. Any such change could materially adversely impact our business and require us to incur additional costs. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Compliance with, and changes in, safety, health and environmental laws and regulations may adversely affect our results of operations and our financial condition.

We are subject to a broad range of safety, health and environmental laws and regulations in the areas in which we operate. Our manufacturing facilities located in India are subject to Indian laws and government regulations on safety, health and environmental protection. The development and operation of wind farms in India is also subject to a broad range of safety, health and environmental laws and regulations. These laws and regulations impose controls on our air and water discharges, on the storage, handling, discharge and disposal of chemicals, employee exposure to hazardous substances and other aspects of our operations and products. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, operating costs to comply with such laws and regulations. In addition, we have made and expect to continue to make capital expenditures on an ongoing basis to comply with safety, health and environmental laws and regulations. While we believe we are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, the discharge of our raw materials that are chemical in nature or of other hazardous substances or other pollutants into the air, soil or water may nevertheless cause us to be liable to the Government of India or the State Governments or Union Territories where our manufacturing facilities and wind farms are located, or to third parties. In addition, we may be required to incur costs to remedy the damage caused by such discharges or pay fines or other penalties for non-compliance.

Further, the adoption of new safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, new interpretations of existing laws, increased governmental enforcement of environmental laws or other developments in the future may require that we make additional capital expenditures or incur additional operating expenses in order to maintain our current operations, curtail our production activities or take other actions that could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flow, or affect our ability to provide, in coordination with our Associate Companies, integrated wind power solutions to customers. Safety, health and environmental laws and regulations in India, in particular, have been increasing in stringency and it is possible that they will become significantly more stringent in the future. See also "Business — Safety, Health and Environmental Regulations and Initiatives" on page 76 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The costs of complying with these requirements could be significant. The measures we implement in order to comply with these new laws and regulations may not be deemed sufficient by governmental authorities and our compliance costs may significantly exceed current estimates. If we fail to meet environmental requirements, we may also be subject to administrative, civil and criminal proceedings by governmental authorities, as well as civil proceedings by environmental groups and other individuals, which could result in substantial fines and penalties against us as well as orders that could limit or halt our operations.

There can be no assurance that we will not become involved in future litigation or other proceedings or be held responsible in any such future litigation or proceedings relating to safety, health and environmental matters in the future, the costs of which could be material. Clean-up and remediation costs of our sites and related litigation could adversely affect our cash flow, results of operations and financial condition.

Our indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus we have a significant amount of indebtedness. We have entered into agreements with certain banks and financial institutions for short term loans and long term borrowings. Some of these agreements contain certain restrictive covenants, such as requiring lender consent inter alia for issuance of new shares, incurring further indebtedness, creating further encumbrances on our assets, disposing of our assets, undertaking guarantee obligations, declaring dividends or incurring capital expenditures beyond certain limits. Some of these borrowings also contain covenants, which limit our ability to make any change or alteration in our capital structure, make investments, effect any scheme of amalgamation or restructuring, enlarge or diversify our scope of business. In addition, certain of these borrowings contain financial covenants, which require us to maintain, among other matters, specified net worth to assets ratio, debt service cover ratio, fixed asset coverage ratio and maintenance of security coverage. There can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with these financial or other covenants or that we will be able to obtain the consents necessary to take the actions we believe are necessary to operate and grow our business. A default under one debt instrument may also trigger cross-defaults under our other debt instruments. An event of default under any debt instrument, if not cured or waived, could have a material adverse effect on us. Our level of existing debt and any new debt that we incur in the future has important consequences. For example, it could:

- increase our vulnerability to general adverse economic and industry conditions;
- limit our ability to fund future working capital, capital expenditures, research and development and other general corporate requirements;
- require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to service our debt;
- limit our flexibility to react to changes in our business and the industry in which we operate;
- place us at a competitive disadvantage to any of our competitors that have less debt;
- require us to meet additional financial covenants; and
- limit, along with other restrictive covenants, among other things, our ability to borrow additional funds.

We cannot assure you that our business will generate cash in an amount sufficient to enable us to service our debt or to fund our other liquidity needs. In addition, we may need to refinance all or a portion of our debt on or before maturity. We cannot assure you that we will be able to refinance any of our debt on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

We may face labour disruptions that would interfere with our operations.

We are exposed to the risk of strikes and other industrial actions. As of March 31, 2005, we employed approximately 2,071 employees. Other than 112 employees at our operations and maintenance center in Vankusawade, none of our employees belong to a union. We believe our relationship with our employees is generally good. Nevertheless, in June and July 2004, employees at our operations and maintenance centre at Vankusawade went on strike to demand revision in wages, allowance, overtime payments and changes in working conditions. While this labour dispute was resolved amicably in August 2004, we cannot guarantee that our other employees will not unionize or that we will not experience any strike, work stoppage or other industrial action in the future. Any such event could disrupt our operations, possibly for a significant period of time, result in increased wages and other benefits or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operation. See "Business — Human Resources" on page 74 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our principal shareholders may have the ability to determine the outcome of any shareholder resolution.

Our principal shareholders, including our Promoter Group, Citicorp International Finance Corporation Inc. Chryscapital III, LLC and Government of Singapore Investment Corporation Pte Ltd entities, aggregately own 92.91% of our currently issued Equity Shares and will own 83.36 % of our issued Equity Shares at the completion of the Issue. As significant shareholders, they may have interests that are adverse to the interests of shareholders and/or our own interests and may have the ability to determine the outcome of any shareholder resolution. Specifically, our Chairman and Managing Director is the controlling shareholder of both us and our Associate Companies and so, with respect to dealings between us and our Associate Companies, has a conflict of interest and there can be no assurance that any such conflict will be resolved in our favour. As only 10.2 % of the fully diluted post-Issue capital is being offered in this Issue, you may not be able to determine the outcome of any resolution proposed at a shareholder meeting or influence any decision taken by our principal shareholders. In addition, none of our Promoter Group, Citicorp International Finance Corporation Inc. or Chryscapital III, LLC need to consider the interests of minority shareholders in making any determinations regarding shareholder resolutions.

Further, under the terms of our shareholders' agreements with each of Citicorp International Finance Corporation Inc. and Chryscapital III, LLC, or collectively the "Private Equity Investors", we cannot take and/or implement decisions relating to fundamental corporate matters, such as the acquisition of other businesses, providing for certain capital expenditures or any buyback of Equity Shares, without the written consent or affirmative vote of the Private Equity Investors. You may not be able to determine the outcome of any resolution relating to these fundamental corporate matters or influence any decision taken by the Private Equity Investors. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Investment by the Private Equity Investors" on page 89 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our agreements with our wholly-owned overseas subsidiaries are subject to transfer pricing regulations. These agreements may be subject to regulatory challenges, which may subject us to higher taxes and adversely affect our earnings.

We have entered into agreements with our wholly-owned overseas subsidiaries because a portion of our assets, such as intellectual property that we have developed and the services we provide, are transferred between us and our overseas subsidiaries. We have also entered into agreements whereby we have extended loans to some of our wholly-owned subsidiaries. In these agreements, we have determined transfer prices that we believe are the same as the prices that would be charged by unrelated parties dealing with each other at arm's length. However, if the taxing authorities of India or other jurisdictions were to successfully challenge these agreements or past transactions undertaken pursuant to the terms of these agreement, or require changes in our transfer pricing policies, we could be required to redetermine transfer prices, which may result in a higher overall tax liability to us and as a result our earnings would be adversely affected. In this regard, we are subject to risks not faced by other companies with international operations that do not create inter-company transfers.

We believe that we operate in compliance with all applicable transfer pricing laws in all applicable jurisdictions. However, there can be no assurance that we will be found to be in compliance with transfer pricing laws, or that such laws will not be modified, which, as a result, may require changes to our transfer pricing policies or operating procedures. Any modification of transfer pricing laws may result in a higher overall tax liability to us and adversely affect our earnings and results of operations.

Any future equity offerings or issue of options under our employee stock option scheme may lead to dilution of your shareholding in us.

Purchasers of Equity Shares in this Issue may experience dilution of their shareholding to the extent we make future equity offerings and to the extent additional options are issued under our employee stock option scheme.

The allocation of Equity Shares pursuant to our Employee Stock Option Plan will result in a charge to our income statement and will adversely impact our net income.

We have adopted an Employee Stock Option Plan (the "Plan") in which select employees of the Company and its subsidiaries can participate. Any issuance of Equity Shares pursuant to the Plan will result in a charge to our income statement equal to the product of such number of Equity Shares issued and the difference between the Issue Price of our Equity Shares and the price at which our employees will purchase the Equity Shares, which we currently expect will be Rs. [●] per share, which is 50% of the Issue Price. For indicative purposes only, the charge based on the upper limit of the price band, which is Rs. [●], and assuming that all the options granted are exercised representing 0.3% of our post-Issue paid-up capital, would be approximately Rs. [●] million.

We have significant planned capital expenditures; our capital expenditure plans may not yield the benefits intended. The capital expenditure mentioned in the Objects of the Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution.

Our operations require significant capital expenditure to be utilized for the purpose of setting up new manufacturing facilities, setting up of new storage facilities and expansion of our existing storage facilities. The capital expenditure plan for the setting up of new facilities and the expansion of existing facilities is Rs. 1,950.4 million. We also have other planned expenditure. For more details on our planned expenditure please refer to the section entitled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 28 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The figures in our capital expenditure plans are based on management estimates and have not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or other independent organisation. In addition, our capital expenditure plans are subject to a number of variables, including possible cost overruns; construction/development delays or defects; receipt of critical governmental approvals; availability of financing on acceptable terms; and changes in management’s views of the desirability of current plans, among others. We may also require additional financing to expand and upgrade our existing facilities. The actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may differ from our estimates as a result of, among other things, unforeseen delays or cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, engineering design changes, weather-related delays and technological changes. Some of the equipment we intend to deploy is expected to be imported and must be paid for in foreign currency. Changes in foreign exchange rates adversely affecting the value of the Rupee may adversely affect the cost of some of the projects. There can be no assurance that any capacity addition or improvement at our facilities will be completed as planned or on schedule or that we will achieve our planned capacity, operational efficiency or product base, or our targeted return on investment. In view of the reasons stated above, we cannot assure you that we will be able to execute our capital expenditure plans as contemplated. If we experience significant delays or mishaps in the implementation of our capital expenditure plans or if there are significant cost overruns, then the overall benefit of such plans to our revenues and profitability may decline. To the extent that completed capital expenditure does not produce anticipated or desired revenue or cost-reduction outcomes, our profitability and financial condition will be adversely affected.

We have not entered into any definitive agreements to utilise the proceeds of the Issue. Further, our management will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds of the Issue.

We intend to use the proceeds of the Issue for capital expenditure described in the section “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 28 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Except as stated in the section titled Objects of the Issue on page 28 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have not entered into any definitive agreements to utilise such net proceeds. We have not yet placed orders for major items of plant and machinery for certain projects. Pending any use of the proceeds of the Issue, we intend to invest the funds in liquid instruments.

We also propose to use part of our proceeds to fund joint ventures and other strategic acquisitions, as and when the opportunities arise and general corporate purposes. We have not yet identified any potential targets for the above. We may also spend a portion of the proceeds of the Issue on expansion of our business instead of financing acquisitions or joint ventures with strategic partners. Accordingly, the management will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds received by us from the Issue. We intend to rely on our internal systems and controls to monitor the use of such proceeds.

We require certain registrations and permits from government and regulatory authorities in the ordinary course of business and the failure to obtain them in a timely manner or at all may adversely affect our operations.

We require certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions for operating our business, some of which have expired and for which we have either made or are in the process of making an application for obtaining the approval or its renewal. For more information, see the section titled “Licenses and Approvals” on page 252 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. If we fail to obtain any of these approvals or licenses, or renewals thereof, in a timely manner, or at all, our business may be adversely affected.

We have a number of contingent liabilities, and our profitability could be adversely affected if any of these contingent liabilities materializes.

Our contingent liabilities as of March 31, 2005, include guarantees given by us on behalf of other companies (including our Associate Companies) in respect of loans granted to them by banks, counter-guarantees given to banks against guarantees issued by banks on our behalf, claims against us not acknowledged as debts, bills discounted with banks, uncalled liability on partly paid up shares, disputed labour cost liabilities, disputed service tax liabilities, bonds/ undertakings given by the company under duty exemption scheme to customs authorities amounting to Rs. 144.7 million. If any of these contingent liabilities materialize, our profitability may be adversely affected. For more detailed descriptions of our contingent liabilities for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2004 and 2005 see the section titled “Financial Statements” on page 150 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

There is outstanding litigation against us and the Promoter Group Companies.

We are defendants in legal proceedings incidental to our business and operations. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals and statutory authorities.

There are a total of 11 land related disputes in which SEL is a party. Apart from these, there is one civil and five tax related litigations pending against SEL.

Our director, Pradeep Kumar Khaitan is involved in 3 criminal litigations and has received 6 notices from statutory authorities, all of the above pertain to companies in which he is a director.

The Promoter Group companies are parties to 51 disputes pending before various courts, tribunals and statutory authorities, out of which 36 matters relate to land acquisition related activities.

Should any new developments arise, such as a change in Indian law or rulings against us by appellate courts or tribunals, we may need to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our current liabilities. Furthermore, if significant claims are determined against us and we are required to pay all or a portion of the disputed amounts, it could have a material adverse affect on our business and profitability.

For more information regarding litigation involving us and our Promoter Group Companies, see the section titled “Outstanding Litigation and Material Development” on page 245 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

Our multinational operations subject us to risks that could adversely affect our business.

We have direct presence in several countries, including China, Denmark, the United States and Australia and intend to expand the amount of our revenues that are derived from international markets. Our future revenue growth depends upon the successful continued expansion of our sales, marketing, support and service teams in various countries around the world where our current or potential customers are located. This expansion will require that we establish new offices, hire new personnel and manage offices in widely disparate locations with different economies, legal systems, languages and cultures and will require significant management attention and financial resources. Due to the global nature of our operations, we are affected by various factors inherent in international business activities, including:

- coordinating and managing global operations;
- political instability and related uncertainties;
- different economic and business conditions;
- difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations, including fully understanding local business and regulatory requirements;
- difficulties in sourcing sufficient quantities of raw materials and components for our WTGs to supply customers in international markets;
- immigration and labour laws of various countries may prevent us from deploying or retaining an adequate number of employees in foreign countries;
- foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations;
- restrictions on repatriation of earnings;
- tariffs and other restrictions on trade and differing import and export licensing and other legal requirements;
- multiple and possibly overlapping tax structures;

- limited protection for intellectual property rights in some countries;
- exposure to varying legal standards;
- unexpected regulatory, economic or political changes; and
- travel restrictions.

Any of these risks could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Political instability or changes in the Government could adversely affect economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

The Indian Government has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise a significant influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business, and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares, may be affected by interest rates fluctuations, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India.

Since 1991, successive Indian Governments have pursued policies of economic liberalization and financial sector reforms. The Government dissolved parliament in February 2004 and following the general elections held during April and May 2004, a new coalition Government, the United Progressive Alliance, led by the Indian National Congress party was formed. The new cabinet was sworn in on May 22, 2004. The new Government has announced its general intention to continue India's current economic and financial sector liberalization and deregulation policies. However, there can be no assurance that such policies will be continued and a significant change in the Government's policies in the future could affect business and economic conditions in India and could also adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war involving India, the United States and other countries could adversely affect the financial markets, result in loss of customer confidence and adversely affect our business.

Terrorist attacks, such as the ones that occurred in New York and Washington, D.C. on September 11, 2001 and New Delhi on December 13, 2001, as well as the bomb blasts in Mumbai on August 25, 2003, in Bali, Indonesia and in Madrid, Spain, as well as other acts of violence or war, may adversely affect Indian and worldwide financial markets. These acts may also result in a loss of business confidence and have other consequences that could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. Travel restrictions as a result of such attacks may have an adverse impact on our ability to operate effectively. Increased volatility in the financial markets can have an adverse impact on the economies of India and other countries, including economic recession.

Some parts of India have experienced communal disturbances, terrorist attacks and riots during recent years. In addition, any deterioration in relations between India and Pakistan might result in investor concern about stability in the region. Further, since 2002 there have been military hostilities and continuing civil unrest and instability in Iraq and Afghanistan. Events of this nature in the future, as well as social and civil unrest within other countries in Asia, could influence the Indian economy and could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including our Equity Shares.

Any loss of certain tax exemptions will increase our tax liability and decrease any profits we might have in the future.

The statutory corporate income tax rate in India is currently 30.0%. This tax rate is presently subject to a 10.0% surcharge and an education cess of 2.0%, resulting in an effective tax rate of 33.66%. We cannot assure you that the tax rate or the surcharge will not be increased further in the future. Presently, we benefit from the tax holidays given by the Government of India for the establishment of manufacturing facilities in backward areas (as notified by the Government). As a result of these incentives, which include a five-year full income tax holiday and five-year partial income tax holiday from Indian corporate income taxes for the operation of most of our Indian facilities, our operations have been subject to relatively low tax liabilities. Our income tax exemptions expire at various points of time. (See the section titled "Business" on page 57 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.)

We are also entitled to certain sales tax, excise and customs duty exemptions and concessions, for manufacture and sale of renewable energy products and the export of our products.

For details, please refer to the section entitled "Statement of Tax Benefits" on page 41 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. There can be no assurance that similar or greater reductions in tax benefits would not be introduced in future. When our tax benefits expire or terminate, our tax expense could materially increase, reducing our profitability.

After this Issue, the price of our Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for our Equity Shares may not develop.

The prices of our Equity Shares on the Indian stock exchanges may fluctuate after this Offer as a result of several factors, including:

- volatility in the Indian and global securities market;
- our results of operations and performance;
- performance of our competitors, the Indian wind power industry and the perception in the market about investments in the renewable energy sector;
- adverse media reports about us or the Indian wind power industry;
- changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts;
- significant developments in India's economic liberalisation and deregulation policies; and
- significant developments in India's fiscal and environmental regulations.

There has been no public market for our Equity Shares and the prices of our Equity Shares may fluctuate after this Issue. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for our Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue, or that the prices at which our Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the prices at which our Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

Notes to Risk Factors:

- The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoter is Rs. 0.22 per Equity Share and the book value per Equity Share as of March 31, 2005 was Rs. 93.7.
- The net worth of the Company including preference share capital on a consolidated basis as of March 31, 2005 was Rs. 9,039.2 million as per Indian GAAP.

SUMMARY

Business Overview

We are India's leading manufacturer of wind turbine generators, or WTGs. Our accumulated sales were 1,126.6 MW as of March 31, 2005. We also installed 42.8% of the total capacity installed in India during the year ended December 31, 2004 and were the sixth largest wind turbine manufacturer in the world in terms of annual installed capacity for the year ended December 31, 2004. (Source: BTM Consult ApS March 2005) We develop and manufacture technologically advanced WTGs with an emphasis on high performance and cost-efficient WTGs. Together with our Associate Companies in our Group, we have positioned ourselves as an integrated solution provider of services related to wind energy in the Indian market. Besides manufacturing WTGs, we are involved in wind resource mapping, identification of suitable sites and technical planning of wind power projects. We also provide after-sale O&M services for WTGs supplied by us. Our Associate Companies acquire sites we have identified as suitable for wind energy projects, which are then sold or leased to our customers, and undertake the technical implementation of wind farms, including infrastructure development, installation of WTGs and connection to power grids.

At present, India remains our key market and we intend to pursue the growth opportunities that we believe exist for providing wind energy solutions in India. With a view to pursuing growth opportunities in the global market for WTGs, we have set up our marketing headquarters in Denmark, a centre for wind energy. Our marketing activities includes establishing market presence in China and Australia and expanding our presence in the United States, where we have supplied 24 WTGs, each of 0.95 MW capacity, that were designed specifically for a U.S. wind farm project.

Our current product range includes 0.35 MW, 0.60 MW, 0.95 MW, 1.00 MW, 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs and we are among the first Asia-based companies to manufacture WTGs with MW and multi-MW capabilities (see “– Products” on page 62 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus). We consider ourselves to be an integrated developer of WTGs, focused on: the design, engineering and development of WTGs and components, the development and in-house manufacture of rotor blades for our MW and multi-MW WTGs, tubular towers, control panels and nacelle covers. Our tubular tower manufacturing activities are undertaken through our 75%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Structures. We also have established supply sources for the components that we do not manufacture in-house, such as rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTGs, gearboxes, casting parts, generators and a portion of our nacelle cover and tower requirements. These are sourced from leading suppliers, as are raw materials for WTG rotor blades, such as glass fibre, epoxy resin and foam.

We expect to begin by August 2005 in-house manufacture of generators for our WTGs through our 74.9% owned subsidiary, Suzlon Generators, a joint venture with Elin EBG Motoren GmbH of Austria. We conduct research and development activities through our subsidiaries, SEG and AERH. These subsidiaries focus on designing and developing new WTG models, upgrading our current models and developing efficient and effective rotor blade technology for our WTGs.

Manufacture of WTGs is undertaken by Suzlon Energy Limited and after-sale O&M services are provided by our wholly-owned subsidiary SWSL. Our Associate Companies, including SRL, procures sites in India that have been identified by us as suitable for WTG installation. Another Associate Company, SDL, undertakes the project execution work, including site development, civil works and electrical works, as well as erection and commissioning of WTGs and construction of power evacuation facilities. Our Associate Companies provide necessary and valuable services in relation to our activities in the Indian wind energy market. While we work closely with our Associate Companies, we do not have any equity interest in our Associate Companies, all of which are controlled by our Promoter. If these Associate Companies were to cease providing the services described above, we would be required to undertake land acquisition and infrastructure development, among other activities, directly and this would involve certain risks. See "Risk Factors - We are highly dependent on our Associate Companies in providing integrated wind energy solutions packages to customers in India; we do not control our Associate Companies".

Our design, manufacture, operations and maintenance services have been certified as ISO 9001:2000 by Det Norske Veritas. Our WTG models are generally accredited with type certification by either Germanischer Lloyd or CWET – an autonomous body attached to the MNES.

Our total income was Rs. 2,697.1 million in fiscal 2003, Rs. 8,748.6 million in fiscal 2004 and Rs. 19,659.2 million in fiscal 2005. Adjusted/recast profit after tax was Rs. 269.0 million in fiscal 2003, Rs. 1,250.6 million in fiscal 2004 and Rs. 3,858.6 million in fiscal 2005. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2005, 99.7% of our total income was from customers in India.

Competitive Strengths

We believe that the following are our principal competitive strengths:

- Focus on providing "integrated solutions" wind energy packages with our Associate Companies to customers in India. Our business model for the Indian market has historically involved, in conjunction with our Associate Companies, providing "integrated solutions" packages for wind energy projects. Our key activities include: (a) designing, developing and manufacturing WTGs; (b) wind resource mapping; (c) identifying suitable sites for wind farms; (d) coordinating with our Associate Companies in the acquisition and development of these sites and installation of WTGs; and (e) providing after-sales O&M services. This business model allows our Indian customers to benefit from the cost-efficiencies and economies of scale wind farms can offer. At the same time, our customers do not need to undertake the cumbersome processes associated with developing wind farms, which requires expertise in various areas such as wind study, land acquisition and project execution/management skills. Our Associate Companies, as part of the "integrated solutions" package, are also involved in the construction of power transmission facilities to transmit the power generated by the wind farm to the grid.
- Track record of executing, in coordination with Associate Companies, large-scale wind power projects in India. We have, along with our Associate Companies, a track record of executing a number of large-scale wind power projects in different regions in India. These complex projects have allowed our Group to develop the capabilities and expertise needed for wind farm projects and our customers benefit from the experience we have gained from operating WTGs in different operating environments and our industry knowledge, as well as from our Associate Companies' land acquisition and project management expertise. We believe that the successful development of these wind farm projects has enhanced our recognition in the Indian wind power marketplace.
- Sophisticated in-house technology and design capabilities. Through our subsidiaries' design capabilities, we have been able to develop our MW and multi-MW WTG models, as well as the rotor blades for these WTGs. We have also been able to develop many of the processes and technologies that enable us to manufacture certain key components, such as nacelle covers, nose cones and the construction of tooling and moulds used for the manufacture of rotor blades. These were achieved as a result of our recognition that various countries in Europe have developed strengths in different facets of the design of WTGs, which led to our establishment of research and development subsidiaries in Europe. Specifically, we have established a subsidiary, AE Rotor Holding B.V., based in the Netherlands to take advantage of the expertise developed in that country in aerodynamic rotor blade design and material sciences. We have also utilized the engineering skills developed in Germany in the field of WTG design by establishing Suzlon Energy GmbH. This has enabled us to access the personnel with the requisite technical background and expertise to assist us in designing, developing and upgrading our WTGs and their key components.
- Cost-efficient manufacturing and supply-chain in India. All of our current manufacturing facilities are located in India, which we believe gives us a significant cost advantage in terms of capital, manufacturing and labour costs over some of our larger competitors whose manufacturing facilities are in higher cost regions, such as Western Europe. Our manufacturing facilities are also located in western and southern India, which places them in close proximity to the states that we believe offer good potential in terms of wind energy production, such as Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka, thus reducing the logistical costs associated with the delivery of WTGs. Further, we are able to efficiently source many key components, such as castings, generators and towers, from lower-cost suppliers based in India. Beginning in August 2005, we also expect to begin receiving delivery of gearboxes manufactured by and delivered from the Indian manufacturing facility being constructed by Winergy AG, the leading supplier for WTG gearboxes, which we believe will allow us to lower costs relating to this key WTG component.

- Market leader in India. For the last seven fiscal years, we have been the leading WTG manufacturer in India in terms of annual installations, with a market share of approximately 44.5% of total installed capacity for the year ended March 31, 2005, based on data published by the MNES. We also installed 42.8% of the total capacity installed in India during the year ended December 31, 2004, with India being the third largest wind power market in terms of annual installed capacity during the same period. (Source: BTM Consult ApS March 2005) We have established a market presence in seven states, among which are the states that have the highest installed capacity of wind energy, including Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Gujarat. We also have a diverse customer base consisting of companies in the cement, steel, textile, automobile, engineering, construction and mining industries. We believe that India offers opportunities to strengthen our capabilities and to undertake, together with our Associate Companies, large-scale "integrated solution" wind energy projects. Our leading market share makes us well-positioned to leverage existing customer relationships and our reputation as India's leading WTG manufacturer to take advantage of future growth in domestic demand for renewable energy sources such as wind energy.
- Operations and maintenance expertise. We believe that our ability to provide WTG operation O&M services to our customers has helped us in assessing and enhancing the performance of WTGs under operational conditions. Our introduction of the CMS concept as part of our O&M services provides our personnel and customers with real-time data relating to the WTGs. This allows our technical personnel to control and monitor WTG performance on-line, even from remote locations, and even during adverse weather conditions. We believe this helps in reducing WTG downtime and maintenance costs. Further, our research and development teams are able to use the operational data gathered by our operations and maintenance teams in order to upgrade our current WTG models and to design, develop and roll-out newer and more cost-efficient WTG models.
- Strong management team. Our top management brings with them extensive experience in the design, engineering, manufacture, marketing and maintenance of WTGs. Our senior management team in India who are in charge of manufacturing, finance, sales, business development and strategic planning have extensive experience in the wind energy industry. We have also assembled research and development, design, engineering and marketing teams in our overseas subsidiaries with established track records in the wind energy industry.

Business Strategy

We seek to further enhance our position in India as a provider of integrated wind energy solutions and to expand our markets globally. We intend to accomplish this through:

- Expanding our WTG product line and improving existing models. We intend to leverage the WTG design and development capabilities that we have developed through our research and development subsidiaries to enhance our existing WTG models and develop new models, particularly in the MW and multi-MW class. We intend to focus on the development and construction of a gearless 1.25 MW WTG and WTGs with 1.50 MW and 2.10 MW capacity, as well as improved control systems for our current WTG models.
- Integrating manufacturing facilities. We have developed and implemented a backward integration strategy that allows us to manufacture rotor blades in-house. In March 2005 we began in-house manufacture of tubular towers through our 75% owned subsidiary, Suzlon Structures. We are also in the process of establishing in-house manufacturing capabilities for generators through our 74.9% owned subsidiary, Suzlon Generators. We believe that increasing our in-house manufacturing capabilities will allow us to lower WTG manufacturing costs, give us greater control over the supply chain for key WTG components and enable quicker and more efficient assembly and delivery of WTG components to our customers.
- Improving the cost-efficiency of generating power from wind energy. We aim to improve the cost-efficiency of power generation from wind energy by reducing the cost of generating electricity per kWh from our WTGs. We plan to achieve this goal by focusing on designing and developing more advanced WTGs, identifying sites which offer wind conditions that are optimal for WTG installations, reducing manufacturing and infrastructure costs, and by decreasing ongoing operating costs for our customers.

- Maintaining our strategic focus on the Indian market. We believe that India is and will continue to be an important growth market for wind power. We intend to continue to focus on growing our India business by leveraging our status as the leading WTG manufacturer in India and by continuing to develop, with our Associate Companies, large-scale wind farm projects. We will also continue to utilise the experience and expertise gained in our Indian operations to win and execute orders from international customers.
- Expanding our presence in international growth markets. In order to increase our share of the world market for renewable energy, we plan to continue to grow our overseas operations. We consider our key international markets to be: North America, in particular the United States, which has many sites that offer wind conditions that are optimal for WTGs and also offer tax incentives for power generated by WTGs; China, where the level of demand for energy is high and where the government is encouraging the development of renewable energy sources; and Australia, which also has sites with optimal wind conditions and where the government has declared that it intends to encourage a sustainable and internationally competitive renewable energy industry. We may also establish a presence in markets in Europe.
- Expanding manufacturing capacity. We are in the process of constructing additional manufacturing facilities in India for key WTG components and we expect these facilities to be located close to markets with growing demand for power generated by wind energy. Some of these facilities may be located in geographies that will allow us to take advantage of the fiscal incentives. In furtherance of our goal of expanding our international presence, we are planning to establish an integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China, thereby giving us manufacturing facilities in a key growth market with low costs for inputs and components. We are also evaluating the construction of rotor blade and tubular tower manufacturing facilities in the United States, in order to meet increasing demand for wind energy projects in certain regions of North America. This will reduce costs associated with the transportation and delivery of these key, but quite large, WTG components.
- Growing our business through strategic acquisitions and alliances. We will evaluate on a case-by-case basis potential acquisition targets and alliance partners that offer an opportunity to grow our business and/or expand our capabilities or geographical reach. We intend to only pursue those transactions that complement our key strengths, are synergistic and, in our assessment, have manageable integration risks.

BOOK BUILDING PROCESS

Book building refers to the process of collection of Bids, on the basis of the Red Herring Prospectus within the Price Band. The Issue Price is fixed after the Bid Closing Date/Issue Closing Date.

The principal parties involved in the Book Building Process are:

- The Company;
- The Selling Shareholder;
- Book Running Lead Managers;
- Co-Book Running Lead Manager;

- Syndicate Members who are intermediaries registered with SEBI or registered as brokers with NSE/BSE and eligible to act as Underwriters. Syndicate Members are appointed by the BRLMs and the CBRLMs;
- Escrow Collection Bank(s); and
- Registrar to the Issue.

The SEBI Guidelines have permitted an issue of securities to the public through the 100% Book Building Process, wherein not less than 60% of the Net Issue shall be allocated on a discretionary basis to QIBs. Further, not less than 10% of the Net Issue shall be available for Allotment on a proportionate basis to Non Institutional Bidders and not less than 30% of the Net Issue shall be available for Allotment on a proportionate basis to Retail Individual Bidders, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Issue Price. We will comply with the SEBI Guidelines for this Issue. In this regard, the Company and the Selling Shareholder have appointed the BRLMs and the CBRLMs to manage the Issue and to procure subscriptions to the Issue.

Pursuant to amendments to the SEBI Guidelines, QIB Bidders are not allowed to withdraw their Bid(s) after the Bid Closing Date/Issue Closing Date and for further details see the section titled “Terms of the Issue” on page 271 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The process of Book Building under SEBI Guidelines is relatively new and investors are advised to make their own judgment about investment through this process prior to making a Bid or Application in the Issue.

Illustration of Book Building and Price Discovery Process (Investors should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue)

Bidders can bid at any price within the price band. For instance, assume a price band of Rs. 20 to Rs. 24 per share, issue size of 3,000 equity shares and receipt of five bids from bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. A graphical representation of the consolidated demand and price would be made available at the bidding centres during the bidding period. The illustrative book as shown below shows the demand for the shares of the company at various prices and is collated from bids from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Price (Rs.)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
1000	23	1500	50.0%
1500	22	3000	100.0%
2000	21	5000	166.67%
2500	20	7500	250%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the issuer is able to issue the desired number of shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., Rs. 22 in the above example. The issuer, in consultation with the book running lead managers, will finalise the issue price at or below such cut off price, i.e., at or below Rs. 22. All bids at or above this issue price and cut-off bids are valid bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

Steps to be taken for bidding:

- Check eligibility for bidding, see the section titled “Issue Procedure-Who Can Bid?” on page 276 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus;
- Ensure that the Bidder has a demat account; and
- Ensure that the Bid cum Application Form is duly completed as per instructions given in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and in the Bid cum Application Form.

UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT

After the determination of the Issue Price and allocation of our Equity Shares but prior to filing of the Prospectus with the RoC, our Company and the Selling Shareholder will enter into an Underwriting

Agreement with the Underwriters for the Equity Shares proposed to be offered through this Issue. It is proposed that pursuant to the terms of the Underwriting Agreement, the BRLMs and the CBRLMs shall be responsible for bringing in the amount devolved in the event that their respective Syndicate Members do not fulfill their underwriting obligations.

The Underwriters have indicated their intention to underwrite the following number of Equity Shares:

(This portion has been intentionally left blank and will be filled in before filing of the Prospectus with the RoC)

Name and Address of the Underwriters	Indicative Number of Equity Shares to be Underwritten	Amount Underwritten (Rs. million)
JMMS	[•]	[•]
Enam	[•]	[•]
CLSA	[•]	[•]
Yes Bank	[•]	[•]

The above-mentioned amount is indicative underwriting and this would be finalized after pricing and actual allocation. The above Underwriting Agreement is dated [•].

In the opinion of our Board of Directors (based on a certificate given by the Underwriters), the resources of all the above mentioned Underwriters are sufficient to enable them to discharge their respective underwriting obligations in full. All the above-mentioned Underwriters are registered with SEBI under Section 12(1) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 or registered as brokers with the Stock Exchange(s).

Allocation among Underwriters may not necessarily be in proportion to their underwriting commitments. Notwithstanding the above table, the Underwriters shall be severally responsible for ensuring payment with respect to Equity Shares allocated to investors procured by them. In the event of any default, the respective Underwriter in addition to other obligations to be defined in the Underwriting Agreement will also be required to procure/subscribe to the extent of the defaulted amount. Allocation to QIB Bidders is discretionary as per the terms of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and may not be proportionate in any way and the patterns of allocation to the QIB Bidders could be different for the various Underwriters.

Tooling Facility

Presently we undertake tooling at various locations in rented premises in Vadodara. The introduction of new models of WTGs, setting up of new manufacturing facilities for rotor blades and nacelle covers and the increased replacement demand for our existing moulds, has resulted in the need to expand and centralize our tooling facility at Vadodara. In addition to saving in rentals, this tooling centre would help in improving operational efficiencies as the entire tooling work would be carried out from a single location. This tooling centre would be a state-of-the-art facility. We expect to use approximately Rs. 208.2 million of the net proceeds of the Fresh Issue for this purpose.

The estimated fund requirements to set up the centralized tooling facility are as follows:

Particulars	Area	Cost (in Rs. millions)
Land & Site Development	80 acres	62.0

Status of the Tooling facility

We have identified the land in the village Varnama, NH 8, Near Vadodara for this project. Land procurement is under process and is expected to be completed in second quarter of fiscal 2006. For the factory building for tooling facility, we have appointed M/s Shah & Talati to provide architectural and project management consultancy for this project. We have finalized the building plan and expect to commence construction work soon after we acquire the land. We have also identified certain equipment required for this tooling facility and are in the process of finalizing the capacity and detailed specification of equipment and getting the quotations from various suppliers. The indicative list of key plant and machinery and utilities comprise EOT cranes of 2MT to 10 MT capacity, diesel generator sets of 380 KVA and compressor of 120 cfm.

Nacelle Cover Manufacturing Facility

Presently, a part of our requirements for Nacelle covers for the WTGs manufactured at Daman are procured from vendors. To overcome the supply logistic constraints, we plan to establish a nacelle cover manufacturing facility at Daman to cater to the requirements of nacelle cover for WTG Units in Daman. We expect to use approximately Rs. 87.5 million of the net proceeds of the Fresh Issue to establish Nacelle Cover manufacturing facility.

The estimated fund requirements to set up the nacelle cover manufacturing facility are as follows:

certain equipment required for this manufacturing facility and are in the process finalizing the capacity and detailed specification of the equipment and getting the quotations from various suppliers. Since we have routinely procured such equipments in the past for our existing facilities, we are in a position to make a fair estimate of the costs involved on the basis of our past experience. Further, we already know the sources from which these equipments can be procured. In view of this, the cost estimate for the equipments yet to be ordered has been done on the basis of the Company's own internal assessment. Presently our rotor blade manufacturing facilities are located at Pondicherry and Daman with a combined capacity of 1,240 sets per annum. We have identified the areas near Bhuj, Kutch in Gujarat, and Dhule in Maharashtra as sites with high potential for wind power projects. To address the logistics needs in delivery of our products to these sites and reduce the working capital cycle, we intend to set up two rotor blade manufacturing facilities, each with capacity of 200 sets per annum, at Bhuj, Kutch, and Dhule. Our proposed facility near Bhuj, in the Kutch district in the state of Gujarat will also cater to the requirements of the Rajasthan market. Further, income received from units of a Mutual Fund specified under section 10(23D) of the Act would also be exempt as per the provisions of section 10(35) of the Act.

4. Computation of capital gains

Capital assets are to be categorized into short term capital assets and long term capital assets based on the period of holding. All capital assets (except shares held in a Company or any other listed securities or units of Unit Trust of India ('UTI') or Mutual Fund units or Zero Coupon Bonds) are considered to be long-term capital assets if they are held for a period exceeding thirty-six months. Shares held in a Company, any other listed securities, units of UTI, units of Mutual Fund and Zero Coupon Bonds are considered as long term capital assets if these are held for a period exceeding twelve months.

Section 48 of the Act, which prescribes the mode of computation of capital gains, provides for deduction of cost of acquisition/improvement and expenses incurred in connection with the transfer of a capital asset, from the sale consideration to arrive at the amount of capital gains. However, in respect of long term capital gains for resident shareholders, a benefit is permitted to substitute the cost of acquisition/improvement with the indexed cost of acquisition/improvement. The indexed cost of acquisition/improvement, adjusts the cost of acquisition/improvement by a cost inflation index, as prescribed from time to time.

As per the provisions of section 112 of the Act, long-term capital gains are subject to tax at a rate of 20 % (plus applicable surcharge and cess). However, proviso to section 112(1) specifies that if the long term capital gains arising on transfer of listed securities or units, calculated at the rate of 20% with indexation benefit exceeds the capital gains computed at the rate of 10% without indexation benefit, then such capital gains are chargeable to tax at the rate of 10% without indexation benefit (plus applicable surcharge).

Effective October 1, 2004, long-term capital gains arising on sale of equity shares and units of equity oriented mutual fund (as defined under section 10(23D)) are exempt from tax under section 10(38) of the Act subject to Securities Transaction Tax being levied under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004.

5. Exemption of capital gain from income-tax

As per section 54EC of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein capital gains arising to the Company on transfer of a long-term capital asset shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in certain notified bonds within six months from the date of transfer. However, if the Company transfers or converts the notified bonds into money (as stipulated therein) within a period of three years from the date of their acquisition, the amount of capital gains exempted earlier would become chargeable in such year. The bonds specified for this section are bonds issued by National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development ('NABARD'), the National Highways Authority of India ('NHAI'), the National Housing Bank ('NHB'), the Rural Electrification Corporation Ltd. ('REC') and Small Industries Development Bank of India ('SIDBI').

As per section 54ED of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, long-term capital gains arising on listed securities or units shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in acquiring equity shares forming part of an eligible issue of share capital. The investment is required to be made within six months from the relevant date of transfer. 'Eligible issue of capital' means an issue of equity shares which satisfies the following conditions:

- a. The issue is made by a public company formed and registered in India; and
- b. The shares forming part of the issue are offered for subscription to the public.

There is a legal uncertainty as to whether the benefits under this section can be extended to shares forming part of the offer for sale by the existing shareholders. It may be relevant to note that the Central Board of Direct Taxes ('CBDT') has clarified vide its Circular no.7/2003 dated September 5, 2003, that the term 'public issue' in the context of section 10(36) of the Act shall include the offer of equity shares in a company to the public through a prospectus, whether by the company or by the existing shareholders of the company.

2. Computation of capital gains

Capital assets are to be categorized into short term capital assets and long term capital assets based on the period of holding. All capital assets (except for shares held in a Company or any other listed securities or units of UTI or units of Mutual Fund or Zero Coupon Bonds) are considered to be long-term capital assets if they are held for a period exceeding thirty-six months. Shares held in a Company, any other listed securities, units of UTI, units of Mutual Fund and Zero Coupon Bonds are considered as long term capital assets if these are held for a period exceeding twelve months.

Section 48 of the Act, which prescribes the mode of computation of capital gains, provides for deduction of cost of acquisition/improvement and expenses incurred in connection with the transfer of a capital asset, from the sale consideration to arrive at the amount of capital gains. However, in respect of long term capital gains for resident shareholders, a benefit is permitted to substitute the cost of acquisition/improvement with the indexed cost of acquisition/improvement. The indexed cost of acquisition/improvement, adjusts the cost of acquisition/improvement by a cost inflation index, as prescribed from time to time.

As per the provisions of section 112 of the Act, long-term capital gains are subject to tax at a rate of 20 % percent (plus applicable surcharge and cess). However, proviso to section 112(1) specifies that if the long term capital gains arising on transfer of listed securities or units, calculated at the rate of 20% with indexation benefit exceeds the capital gains computed at the rate of 10% without indexation benefit, then such capital gains are chargeable to tax at the rate of 10% without indexation benefit plus applicable surcharge.

3. Exemption of capital gains arising from income tax

As per section 54EC of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein capital gains arising on transfer of a long-term capital asset shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in certain notified bonds within six months from the date of transfer. However, if the shareholder transfers or converts the notified bonds into money (as stipulated therein) within a period of three years from the date of their acquisition, the amount of capital gains exempted earlier would become chargeable in such year. The bonds specified for this section are bonds issued by NABARD, NHAI, NHB, REC and SIDBI.

As per section 54ED of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, long-term capital gains arising on listed securities or units shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in acquiring equity shares forming part of an 'eligible issue of share capital'. The investment needs to be made within six months from the relevant date of transfer. 'Eligible issue of capital' means an issue of equity shares which satisfies the following conditions:

- a. The issue is made by a public company formed and registered in India; and
- b. The shares forming part of the issue are offered for subscription to the public.

There is a legal uncertainty as to whether the benefits under this section can be extended to shares forming part of the offer for sale by the existing shareholders. At this stage, it may be relevant to note that the CBDT has clarified vide Circular no.7/2003 dated September 5, 2003, that 'public issue' in the context of section 10(36) of the Act shall include the offer of equity shares in a company to the public through a prospectus, whether by the company or by the existing shareholders of the company.

If the residential house in which the investment has been made is transferred within a period of three years from the date of its purchase or construction, the amount of capital gains tax exempted earlier would become chargeable to tax as long term capital gains in the year in which such residential house is transferred.

Similarly, if the shareholder purchases within a period of two years or constructs within a period of three years after the date of transfer of capital asset, another residential house, then the original exemption will be taxed as capital gains in the year in which the additional residential house is acquired.

(D) Benefits to the Non-Resident Shareholders

1. Dividends exempt under section 10(34) of the Act

Dividend (whether interim or final) received by a non-resident shareholder from its investment in shares of a domestic company would be exempt in the hands of the shareholder as per the provisions of section 10(34) read with section 115O of the Act.

2. Computation of capital gains

Capital assets are to be categorized into short term capital assets and long term capital assets based on the period of holding. All capital assets (except for shares held in a Company or any other listed securities or units of UTI or units of Mutual Fund or Zero Coupon Bonds) are considered to be long-term capital assets if they are held for a period exceeding thirty-six months. Shares held in a Company, any other listed securities, units of UTI, units of Mutual Fund and Zero Coupon Bonds are considered as long term capital assets if these are held for a period exceeding twelve months.

Section 48 of the Act, which prescribes the mode of computation of capital gains, provides for deduction of cost of acquisition / improvement and expenses incurred in connection with the transfer of a capital asset, from the sale consideration to arrive at the amount of capital gains. Under first proviso to section 48 of the Act, the taxable capital gains arising on transfer of capital assets being shares or debentures of an Indian Company need to be computed by converting the cost of acquisition, expenditure in connection with such transfer and full value of the consideration received or accruing as a result of the transfer into the same foreign currency in which the shares were originally purchased. The resultant gains thereafter need to be reconverted into Indian currency. The conversion needs to be done at the prescribed rates prevailing on dates stipulated. Hence, in computing such gains, the benefit of indexation is not available to non-resident shareholders.

As per the provisions of section 112 of the Act, long-term gains are subject to tax at a rate of 20 % percent (plus applicable surcharge and cess).

Effective October 1, 2004, long-term capital gains arising on sale of equity shares and units of equity oriented mutual fund (as defined under section 10(23D)) are exempt from tax under section 10(38) of the Act subject to Securities Transaction Tax being levied under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act of 2004.

Effective October 1, 2004, as per the provisions of section 111A of the Act, short-term capital gains arising on sale of equity shares and units of equity oriented mutual fund (as defined under section 10(23D)) are subject to tax at the rate of 10 per cent (plus applicable surcharge and cess), provided the transaction is chargeable to Securities Transaction Tax being levied under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act of 2004.

3. Exemption of capital gain from income-tax

As per section 54EC of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, capital gains arising to the non-resident individual on transfer of a long-term capital asset shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in certain notified bonds within six months from the date of transfer. However, if the assessee transfers or converts the notified bonds into money (as stipulated therein) within a period of three years from the date of their acquisition, the amount of capital gains exempted earlier would become chargeable in such year. The bonds specified for this section are bonds issued by NABARD, NHAI, NHB, REC and SIDBI.

As per section 54ED of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, long-term capital gains arising on listed securities or units shall not be chargeable to tax to the extent such capital gains are invested in acquiring equity shares forming part of an 'eligible issue of share capital'. The investment needs to be made within six months from the relevant date of transfer. 'Eligible issue of capital' means an issue of equity shares which satisfies the following conditions:

- a. The issue is made by a public company formed and registered in India; and
- b. The shares forming part of the issue are offered for subscription to the public.

There is a legal uncertainty as to whether the benefits under this section can be extended to shares forming part of the offer for sale by the existing shareholders. At this stage, it may be relevant to note that the CBDT has clarified vide Circular no.7/2003 dated 5 September 2003, that 'public issue' in the context of section 10(36) of the Act shall include the offer of equity shares in a company to the public through a prospectus, whether by the company or by the existing shareholders of the company.

Further, as per the provisions of section 54F of the Act and subject to conditions specified therein, long term capital gains(in cases not covered under section 10(38) of the Act) arising to an individual or HUF on transfer of shares of the Company will be exempted from capital gains tax , if the net consideration from such shares are used for purchase of residential house property within a period of one year before and two years after the date on which the transfer took place or for construction of residential house property within a period of three years after the date of transfer, provided that the individual/ HUF should not own more than one residential house other than the new residential house on the date of transfer.

Similarly, if the shareholder purchases within a period of two years or constructs within a period of three years after the date of transfer of capital asset, another residential house, then the original exemption will be taxed as capital gains in the year in which the additional residential house is acquired.

4. Tax Treaty Benefits

As per section 90(2) of the Act, the provisions of the Act would prevail over the provisions of the tax treaty to the extent they are more beneficial to the non-resident. Thus, a non-resident can opt to be governed by the beneficial provisions of an applicable tax treaty.

(E) Benefits to the Non-Resident Indian Shareholders

1. Dividends exempt under section 10(34) of the Act

Dividend (whether interim or final) received by a non-resident shareholder from its investment in shares of a domestic company would be exempt in the hands of the non-resident shareholder Company as per the provisions of section 10(34) read with section 115O of the Act.

2. Computation of capital gains

As per the provisions of section 115I of the Act, a Non-resident Indian ('NRI') as defined therein has the option to be governed by the normal provisions of the Act or the provisions of Chapter XII-A of the Act through appropriate declaration in the return of income. The said Chapter inter alia entitles an NRI to the benefits stated hereunder in respect of income from shares of an Indian company acquired, purchased or subscribed in convertible foreign exchange.

As per the provisions of section 115D read with section 115E of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, taxable long-term capital gains arising on transfer of an Indian company's shares, will be subject to tax at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess)

As per the provisions of section 115F of the Act and subject to the conditions specified therein, gains arising on transfer of a long-term capital asset being shares in an Indian Company would not be chargeable to tax. To avail this benefit the entire net consideration received on such transfer needs to be invested within the prescribed period of six months in any specified asset or savings certificates referred to in section 10(4B) of the Act.

If whole or part of such net consideration is invested within the prescribed period of six months in any specified asset or savings certificates referred to in section 10(4B) of the Act then such gains would not be chargeable to tax on a proportionate basis. For this purpose, net consideration means full value of the consideration received or accrued as a result of the transfer of the capital asset as reduced by any expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with such transfer.

The specified asset or savings certificates in which the investment has been made are restricted from being transferred within a period of three years from the date of investment. In the event of such a transfer the amount of capital gains tax exempted earlier would become chargeable to tax as long-term capital gains in the year in which such specified asset or savings certificates are transferred.

As per the provisions of section 115G of the Act, NRIs are not obliged to file a return of income under section 139(1) of the Act, if:

- Their only source of income is income from investments or long term capital gains earned on transfer of such investments or both; and
- The tax has been deducted at source from such income as per the provisions of Chapter XVII-B of the Act.

As per the provision of section 115H of the Act, when a NRI becomes assessable as a resident in India, the provisions of the Chapter XII-A can continue to apply in relation to investment made when he was a NRI. Towards this, the NRI needs to furnish a declaration in writing to the Assessing Officer along with his return of income.

3. Tax Treaty Benefits

As per section 90(2) of the Act, the provisions of the Act would prevail over the provisions of the tax treaty to the extent they are more beneficial to the non-resident. Thus, a non-resident (including NRI's) can opt to be governed by provisions of the Act or the applicable tax treaty whichever is more beneficial.

(F) Benefits to the Foreign Institutional Investor ('FII')

1. Dividends exempt under section 10(34) of the Act

Dividend income: Dividend (whether interim or final) received by the FII from its investment in shares of a domestic company would be exempt in the hands of the FII as per the provisions of section 10(34) read with section 115O of the Act.

2. Capital gains

As per the provisions of section 115AD of the Act, FIIs are taxed on the capital gains income at the following rates:

Nature of Income	Rate of tax (%) *
Long term capital gains	10
Short term capital gains	30

* Plus applicable surcharge and cess

The benefits of indexation and foreign currency fluctuation protection as provided by section 48 of the Act are not available to a FII.

From October 1, 2004 long-term capital gains arising on sale of equity shares and units of equity oriented mutual fund (as defined under section 10(23D)) are exempt from tax under section 10(38) of the Act on being subject to Securities Transaction Tax as levied under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act of 2004.

From October 1, 2004 Short-term capital gains arising on sale of equity shares and units of equity oriented mutual fund (as defined under section 10(23D) of the Act) exchange to Corporate FIIs are subject to tax at the rate of 10 per cent (plus applicable surcharge and cess) on being subject to Securities Transaction Tax levied under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act of 2004).

3. Tax Treaty Benefits

As per section 90(2) of the Act, the provisions of the Act would prevail over the provisions of the tax treaty to the extent they are more beneficial to the FII. Thus, an FII can opt to be governed by provisions of the Act or the applicable tax treaty whichever is more beneficial.

(G) Benefits to the Mutual Funds

1. Dividends exempt under section 10(34) of the Act

Dividend (whether interim or final) received by the Mutual Funds from its investment in shares of a domestic company would be exempt in the hands of the Mutual Fund as per the provisions of section 10(34) read with section 115O of the Act.

2. As per the provisions of section 10(23D) of the Act, any income of Mutual Funds registered under the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 or Regulations made there under, Mutual Funds set up by public sector banks or public financial institutions and Mutual Funds authorized by the Reserve Bank of India, would be exempt from income tax, subject to the prescribed conditions.

Electricity Demand

Global Electricity Demand

The International Energy Agency, or IEA, in its World Energy Outlook 2004, estimates that the world electricity demand will double between 2002 and 2030. Globally, the power sector is required to add an estimated 4,800 GW of capacity to meet the projected increase in electricity demand and to replace ageing infrastructure. The IEA has estimated that this would require an investment of US$ 10 trillion and more than US$ 5 trillion of that amount will be required by developing countries alone.

The IEA also expects that the predominant use of fossil fuels, such as coal, oil and natural gas, for energy production will continue in the future. Nuclear power's contribution is expected to decline and the use of renewable energy sources, such as hydroelectricity, wind power, biomass and solar, is expected to increase. The IEA also estimates that wind power share in total electricity generation will grow from 0.2% in 2002 to 3.0% in 2030 and will be the second-largest renewable source of electricity after hydroelectricity.

Indian Electricity Demand

Historically, the power industry in India has been characterized by energy shortages. According to the Central Electricity Authority, India, in fiscal 2005, demand for electricity exceeded supply by an estimated 7.3% (7.1% in fiscal 2004) in terms of total requirements and 11.7% (11.2% in fiscal 2004) in terms of peak demand requirements. Although power generation capacity has increased substantially in recent years, it has not kept pace with the growth in demand or the growth of the economy generally. According to the United Nations, India, with 355 kWh per capita electricity consumption in 2000, has one of the lowest electricity consumption levels in the world, in part due to unreliable supply and inadequate distribution networks. This contrasts with 827 kWh per capita in China, 1,878 kWh per capita in Brazil and 12,331 kWh per capita in the United States, in 2000.

As of March 31, 2005, India's power system had an installed generation capacity of approximately 115,544.8 MW. Of the installed capacity, thermal power plants powered by coal, gas, naphtha or oil accounted for approximately 69.4% of total power capacity. Hydroelectric stations accounted for approximately 26.1% and others (including nuclear stations and wind power) accounted for approximately 4.5%.

The following table presents the gap between requirement and supply of electricity in India from fiscal 2000 to 2005.

¹ BTM Consult ApS describes itself as an independent consulting firm focusing on renewable energy sources and was formed in 1986 with its registered office in Denmark. In 1996, BTM Consult ApS began producing an annual survey of the wind energy market. BTM Consult ApS states that the sources of its market data include relevant professional energy sector journals and estimates by consultants, employees of wind turbine manufacturing companies and governmental institutions. The figures used in this DRHP are based on a market study published by BTM Consult ApS in March 2005 relating to calendar 2004.

Source: Ministry of Power Annual Report 2003-04; CEA Executive Summary March 2005

The Government of India, or GoI in its mission “Power for all by 2012”, estimated that Indian installed generation capacity should be 200,000 MW by the end of its Eleventh Five Year Plan in 2012 compared to 115,545 MW as of March 31, 2005.

The GoI adopts a system of successive Five Year Plans that set out targets for economic development in various sectors, including the power sector. Each successive Five Year Plan has increased power generation capacity addition targets. The Ninth Plan targeted a capacity addition of 40,245 MW. MoP estimates indicate that only around 19,251 MW or 47.8% of the planned capacity was added during the Ninth Plan. The Tenth plan (FY 2002 – 2007) has targeted a capacity addition of 41,110 MW through Thermal, Hydro and Nuclear power plants. This includes 14,557 MW that has been planned in the first three years of the Tenth Five Year Plan against which the actual installations have been 9,692 MW at the end of the third year.

With increasing urbanization, industrial growth and per capita consumption, the gap between the actual demand and supply is likely to increase. Some latent demand for electricity may also surface in the event of wider distribution and increased reliability in power supply. In this scenario, the GoI expects that alternative sources of energy, such as wind energy and biomass, are likely to play an increasingly important role in bridging the demand supply gap.

Wind Energy Demand

Global Wind Energy Demand

The global wind energy industry is worth US$ 11.3 billion as of end 2004, according to BTM Consult ApS. Technological advances have resulted in larger and better quality WTGs with higher generation efficiencies at lower costs. We believe that heightened environmental awareness has also resulted in increased demand for “green power” in developed countries.

With over 8,000 MW of installations in 2004, the cumulative global installations of WTGs was 47,912 MW by the end of 2004. Cumulative installations have grown at a CAGR of 26.9% in the last 4 years. The following table illustrates the growth in the global wind power industry:

Calendar Year	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004

Europe accounted for 72.8% of the new installations in 2004 while 6.3% of the new capacity was installed in the Americas. Asia, including OECD Pacific almost doubled its installations to 1,648 MW thereby contributing to over 20% of the installations. The Spanish market was the largest market in the world in 2004, with 2,064 MW of installations. India, with 875 MW installed in 2004, was the largest market in Asia and the third largest market in the world in terms of annual installations in 2004.

Europe with 34,725 MW, accounts for over 72.5% of the cumulative installations as on December 31, 2004. Germany alone accounts for 34.7% of the global installations with cumulative installations of 16,649 MW at the end of 2004. According to the EWEA, in the period 1995-2000, wind power accounted for 23.4% of the net increase in generating capacity from all fuel sources across the EU. The EWEA further estimates wind to account for 50% of the net increase between 2001-2010.

According to BTM Consult ApS, wind power as a percentage of global electricity supply reached 0.57% by the end of 2004. In Denmark, wind power contributed approximately 20% to the country's electricity supply, while Germany and Spain derive approximately 6% and 5% of their electricity requirements from wind. The German government has a long term target of producing 25% of the country's electricity from wind energy by 2025. According to the EWEA, the north German state of Schleswig-Holstein has 1,800 MW of installed wind capacity, enough to meet 30% of region's total electricity demand, while in Navarra, in Spain, 50% of the consumption is met by wind power.

Based on the March 2005 report of BTM Consult ApS, the ten largest markets accounted for 84.5% of the new installations in 2004. According to the data compiled by BTM Consult ApS, Canada, Spain, Italy, France, Portugal, United Kingdom, India and China experienced strong growth in annual WTG installations in 2004. In addition, the number of countries with wind power installations grew to over 60 countries as of the end of 2004. Large multinationals such as General Electric and Siemens have entered the wind power market through the acquisition of existing wind turbine manufacturers.

Indian Wind Energy Demand

The wind power programme in India was initiated in 1983-84. From the programme's inception, the GoI has promoted a market-oriented strategy which has led to commercial development of technology. The broad based national programme includes wind resource assessment activities, research and development support, implementation of demonstration projects to create awareness, opening up of new sites, involvement of utilities and industry, growth of infrastructure capability and capacity for manufacture, installation, operation and maintenance of WTG's and policy support.

India is perhaps the only country in the world to have an exclusive Ministry for Non-Conventional Energy Source. The key functions of MNES include:

- policy making and planning;
- programme formulation and implementation
- research and development;
- technology development and commercialisation;
- promotion of demonstration and pilot projects; and
- implementation of fiscal and financial incentives

MNES through C-WET also carries out wind resource assessment studies, pursuant to which it has revised its estimate for gross wind power potential in India from 20,000 MW to 45,000 MW, assuming land availability at 1% in potential areas for wind power generation. MNES has also been working with the various state governments as a result of which states with wind power potential have introduced policies pertaining to power purchases, wheeling and banking to provide a framework for investment in wind power.

Recent regulatory enactments in India further support the absorption of renewables in the energy mix:

- The Electricity Act of 2003 requires all state-level energy regulatory commissions to ensure that electricity distributors procure a specified minimum percentage of power generation from renewable energy sources
- Maharashtra Energy Regulatory Commission has stipulated 750 MW of new wind power capacity for sale to utilities by March 2007
- Karnataka Energy Regulatory Commission has stipulated a minimum of 5% and maximum of 10% of electricity from renewables.
- Madhya Pradesh Energy Commission has stipulated 0.5% of electricity from wind power by 2007
- The state government of Maharashtra has imposed a Rs. 0.04 per unit green power cess on commercial and industrial users in order to promote non conventional energy projects

We believe that the MNES and various state governments' initiatives to provide a supportive and stable policy framework for investment in wind power have contributed to the growth of the Indian wind power industry over the last four years. The annual increase in newly installed MW capacity and the cumulative installed MW capacity for the past four years are as follows:

Newly installed capacity (MW)	236	220	423	875
YoY Growth in new installations	40%	-7%	92%	107%
Cumulative installed capacity by year end (MW)	1,482	1,702	2,125	3,000
YoY Growth in cumulative capacity	17%	15%	25%	41%

Seven states in India (Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh) account for over 99% of wind power installations in India. As of March 31 2005, Tamil Nadu had the highest share and accounted for 56.7% of the cumulative capacity. Maharashtra had the second largest installations and accounted for 12.7% of the cumulative capacity. With 875 MW of installations in 2004, India recorded one of the highest year-on-year growth rates in installed capacity. India contributed 10.7% of the total new MW additions globally, in 2004 and as of end-2004 accounted for 6.3% of cumulative MW capacity installed globally.

Key Growth Drivers

We believe that the market for wind power has become significant due to the following factors:

Increasing Electricity Demand: In World Energy Outlook 2004, IEA estimates the global electricity consumption to double between 2002 and 2030, with demand for electricity likely to increase at a much faster pace in developing countries like India and China. The IEA also estimates the share of wind power's share of total electricity generation to grow from 0.2% in 2002 to 3.0% in 2030 and that it will be the second-largest renewable source of electricity after hydroelectricity.

Increasing cost competitiveness: The continuous focus on improving the cost efficiency of WTGs has resulted in wind power becoming increasingly cost competitive compared to traditional sources of energy. The American Wind Energy Association, or AWEA, in its report dated December 22, 2000 estimated that the cost per kWh of wind generated electricity has fallen from US$ 0.38 in the early 1980s to anywhere from US$ 0.03 to US$ 0.06, at excellent wind sites. Some of the factors that have contributed and are expected to continue to contribute to reduced costs are increasing focus on larger projects, technological advancements resulting in WTGs with higher capacity, economies of scale resulting from increase in the size of WTG manufacturers and the ability to obtain financing for wind power projects.

Environmental awareness and Government Initiatives: Generating electricity from fossil energy sources releases carbon dioxide, which many claim leads to the "greenhouse effect". As such, many countries, such as India, the United Kingdom, the United States of America and Germany, have provided fiscal incentives and schemes to encourage the growth of renewables. These incentives and schemes range from preferential tariffs or tax credits for renewable energy projects to taxing those who contribute to emission of carbon dioxide.

In order to combat the greenhouse effect at a global level, the Kyoto Climate Summit was held in 1997 to further implement the commitments agreed upon at the Rio Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. According to the Kyoto Protocol, which has recently become effective, the participating countries have agreed to a long-term reduction of their carbon-dioxide emissions by an average of 5.2% compared to the level of emissions for 1990, by 2012. The greenhouse gas reduction targets have cascaded down to a regional and national level. These in turn have been translated into targets for increasing the proportion of renewable energy. Wind is a preferred source given its modular nature and ability to generate power at competitive cost and therefore many countries / associations have set targets with respect to wind power installations. Some of these include:

Country	Current (MW)	Target (MW)	Time Frame
UK	889	10000	2010
Portugal	585	3750	2010
France	386	10000	2010
Norway	158	1000	2010
Canada	444	10000	2010
Brazil	31	3000	2005
China	728	4000/20000	2010/2020
Japan	1000	3000	2010

Source: BWEA, EWEA, BTM

Also, countries such as Australia, certain states in India and 18 states in the United States, have introduced the Renewable Portfolio Standard, or RPS, which mandates that renewable energy sources contribute a specified minimum percentage of total electricity supply. In Australia, the existing Mandatory Renewable Target requires that renewable energy make up a further 2% of total power generated by 2010. Further, the system of carbon trading has also been initiated in countries in European Union and countries such as Japan. Carbon trading refers to a system wherein emitters of carbon dioxide and other harmful gases are required to purchase green certificates from clean energy producers including renewable energy producers. Trading in green certificates may also provide an additional stream of revenue for wind power projects.

Repowering: Repowering involves the replacement of old WTGs with new and more cost efficient WTG. It is expected to become one of the growth drivers in relation to the future market for wind power, particularly for countries in Europe that have a large number of ageing WTG installations with relatively low capacity and outmoded technology. s. BTM Consult ApS, in its World Market Update 2004 estimates global potential for repowering between 2,500 MW to 8,700 MW in the period 2005-2014.

Offshore Market: The offshore WTG market presents a new opportunity for wind power, especially in Europe. Several offshore projects have commenced operations, with Denmark accounting for a majority of them. Total offshore installations stood at 589 MW at the end of 2004. With the introduction of larger WTGs targeted at the offshore market, significant developments are expected in the offshore market in the future.

Market Potential

Global Wind Energy Market Potential

Wind power installations are heavily concentrated in Europe, United States, India, Japan and China, which accounted for about 90% of global wind power installations, as of 2004. Europe continues to account for over 70% of the total installed wind power. In this connection, BTM Consult ApS has conducted a study to estimate the potential of wind power. According to BTM Consult ApS, the cumulative installed capacity for wind power is expected to grow from 47,912 MW in 2004 to 117,412 MW by 2009, representing a CAGR of 19.6% and 2,35,000 MW by 2014, representing a CAGR of 17.2%. Annual installations are expected to grow from 8,154 MW in 2004 to 17,605 MW in 2009 and 29,000 MW in 2014. BTM Consult ApS estimates that the penetration of wind power in worldwide generation of electricity will increase from 0.57% in 2004 to 2.37% in 2014.

BTM Consult ApS estimates that Europe's share in cumulative installations will decline to 63.7% by 2009, with the share of the Americas (including the United States) expected to increase from 15.4% in 2004 to 19.3% in 2009. OECD-Pacific countries such as Australia, New Zealand, Japan and South Korea are estimated to increase their share of the cumulative installed capacity from 3.4% in 2004 to 5.1% in 2009. South Asia and East Asia are expected to have significant growth rates in the next five years, particularly due to countries like India and China. Its share of the cumulative installations is expected to increase from 7.9% in 2004 to 10% in 2009. The following table sets forth the forecast for wind power development from 2005 to 2009 for certain key markets:

Markets	Cumulative installed capacity as of end 2004 (MW)	Forecasted installed capacity 2005–09 (MW)	Cumulative installed capacity by end of 2009 (MW)
Europe	34,725	39,875	74,600
United States of America	6,750	12,100	18,850
India	3,000	5,300	8,300
China	769	2,350	3,119
Australia	421	1,700	2,121

Indian Wind Energy Market Potential

According to BTM Consult ApS, India is making steady progress in the development of wind power and in 2004 it was the third largest country in the world with annual installations of 875 MW, which exceeded the forecast of 500 MW issued by BTM Consult ApS. As of December 31, 2004, Denmark had cumulative installed capacity of 3083 MW and India had cumulative installed capacity of 3000 MW, BTM Consult ApS expects India to overtake Denmark in terms of cumulative capacity in 2005.

The following table sets forth the changes in the BTM Consult ApS estimates for annual installations in India from its 2002 report, 2003 report and its 2004 report.

BTM Consult ApS has estimated that cumulative installed MW capacity for wind power in India will grow from 3,000 MW in 2004 to 8,300 MW in 2009, representing a CAGR of 22.6%. The annual installed capacity is expected to grow from 875 MW in 2004 to 1,200 MW in 2008.

The GoI, through MNES, continues to encourage state governments to implement national policy guidelines set for wind power projects. Presently MNES estimates India's gross wind power capacity to be 45,000 MW (assuming that 1% of land available for wind power generation in potential areas is utilized). MNES estimates the technical potential at approximately 13,000 MW (assuming 20% grid penetration), which is expected to increase with augmentation of grid capacity. Several new initiatives are being undertaken by the MNES to reassess India's gross wind power potential.

BUSINESS

Unless stated otherwise, the financial data in this section is taken from our restated consolidated financial statements set forth in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, beginning on page 150.. In this section, any reference to "we", "us", "our" or "the Company" refers to Suzlon Energy Limited on a consolidated basis and any reference to "our Group" refers to Suzlon Energy Limited on a consolidated basis and our Associate Companies.

Overview

We are India's leading manufacturer of wind turbine generators, or WTGs. Our accumulated sales were 1,126.6 MW as of March 31, 2005. We also installed 42.8% of the total capacity installed in India during the year ended December 31, 2004 and were the sixth largest wind turbine manufacturer in the world in terms of annual installed capacity for the year ended December 31, 2004. (Source: BTM Consult ApS March 2005) We develop and manufacture technologically advanced WTGs with an emphasis on high performance and cost-efficient WTGs. Together with our Associate Companies in our Group, we have positioned ourselves as an integrated solution provider of services related to wind energy in the Indian market. Besides manufacturing WTGs, we are involved in wind resource mapping, identification of suitable sites and technical planning of wind power projects. We also provide after-sale O&M services for WTGs supplied by us. Our Associate Companies acquire sites we have identified as suitable for wind energy projects, which are then sold or leased to our customers, and undertake the technical implementation of wind farms, including infrastructure development, installation of WTGs and connection to power grids.

At present, India remains our key market and we intend to pursue the growth opportunities that we believe exist for providing wind energy solutions in India. With a view to pursuing growth opportunities in the global market for WTGs, we have set up our marketing headquarters in Denmark, a centre for wind energy. Our marketing activities includes establishing market presence in China and Australia and expanding our presence in the United States, where we have supplied 24 WTGs, each of 0.95 MW capacity, that were designed specifically for a U.S. wind farm project.

Our current product range includes 0.35 MW, 0.60 MW, 0.95 MW, 1.00 MW, 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs and we are among the first Asia-based companies to manufacture WTGs with MW and multi-MW capabilities (see "– Products" on page 62 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus). We consider ourselves to be an integrated developer of WTGs, focused on: the design, engineering and development of WTGs and components, the development and in-house manufacture of rotor blades for our MW and multi-MW WTGs, tubular towers, control panels and nacelle covers. Our tubular tower manufacturing activities are undertaken through our 75%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Structures. We also have established supply sources for the components that we do not manufacture in-house, such as rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTGs, gearboxes, casting parts, generators and a portion of our nacelle cover and tower requirements. These are sourced from leading suppliers, as are raw materials for WTG rotor blades, such as glass fibre, epoxy resin and foam.

We expect to begin by August 2005 in-house manufacture of generators for our WTGs through our 74.9%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Generators, a joint venture with Elin EBG Motoren GmbH of Austria. We conduct research and development activities through our subsidiaries, SEG and AERH. These subsidiaries focus on designing and developing new WTG models, upgrading our current models and developing efficient and effective rotor blade technology for our WTGs.

Manufacture of WTGs is undertaken by Suzlon Energy Limited and after-sale O&M services are provided by our wholly-owned subsidiary SWSL. Our Associate Companies, including SRL, procures sites in India that have been identified by us as suitable for WTG installation. Another Associate Company, SDL, undertakes the project execution work, including site development, civil works and electrical works, as well as erection and commissioning of WTGs and construction of power evacuation facilities. Our Associate Companies provide necessary and valuable services in relation to our activities in the Indian wind energy market. While we work closely with our Associate Companies, we do not have any equity interest in our Associate Companies, all of which are controlled by our Promoter. If these Associate Companies were to cease providing the services described above, we would be required to undertake land acquisition and infrastructure development, among other activities, directly and this would involve certain risks. See "Risk Factors - We are highly dependent on our Associate Companies in providing integrated wind energy solutions packages to customers in India; we do not control our Associate Companies".

Our design, manufacture, operations and maintenance services have been certified as ISO 9001:2000 by Det Norske Veritas. Our WTG models are generally accredited with type certification by either Germanischer Lloyd or CWET – an autonomous body attached to the MNES.

Our total income was Rs. 2,697.1 million in fiscal 2003, Rs. 8,748.6 million in fiscal 2004 and Rs. 19,659.2 million in fiscal 2005. Adjusted/recast profit after tax was Rs. 269.0 million in fiscal 2003, Rs. 1,250.6 million in fiscal 2004 and Rs. 3,858.6 million in fiscal 2005. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2005, 99.7% of our total income was from customers in India.

Competitive Strengths

We believe that the following are our principal competitive strengths:

- Focus on providing "integrated solutions" wind energy packages with our Associate Companies to customers in India. Our business model for the Indian market has historically involved, in conjunction with our Associate Companies, providing "integrated solutions" packages for wind energy projects. Our key activities include: (a) designing, developing and manufacturing WTGs; (b) wind resource mapping; (c) identifying suitable sites for wind farms; (d) coordinating with our Associate Companies in the acquisition and development of these sites and installation of WTGs; and (e) providing after-sales O&M services. This business model allows our Indian customers to benefit from the cost-efficiencies and economies of scale wind farms can offer. At the same time, our customers do not need to undertake the cumbersome processes associated with developing wind farms, which requires expertise in various areas such as wind study, land acquisition and project execution/management skills. Our Associate Companies, as part of the "integrated solutions" package, are also involved in the construction of power transmission facilities to transmit the power generated by the wind farm to the grid.
- Track record of executing, in coordination with Associate Companies, large-scale wind power projects in India. We have, along with our Associate Companies, a track record of executing a number of large-scale wind power projects in different regions in India. These complex projects have allowed our Group to develop the capabilities and expertise needed for wind farm projects and our customers benefit from the experience we have gained from operating WTGs in different operating environments and our industry knowledge, as well as from our Associate Companies' land acquisition and project management expertise. We believe that the successful development of these wind farm projects has enhanced our recognition in the Indian wind power marketplace.
- Sophisticated in-house technology and design capabilities. Through our subsidiaries' design capabilities, we have been able to develop our MW and multi-MW WTG models, as well as the rotor blades for these WTGs. We have also been able to develop many of the processes and technologies that enable us to manufacture certain key components, such as nacelle covers, nose cones and the construction of tooling and moulds used for the manufacture of rotor blades. These were achieved as a result of our recognition that various countries in Europe have developed strengths in different facets of the design of WTGs, which led to our establishment of research and development subsidiaries in Europe. Specifically, we have established a subsidiary, AE Rotor Holding B.V., based in the Netherlands to take advantage of the expertise developed in that country in aerodynamic rotor blade design and material sciences. We have also utilized the engineering skills developed in Germany in the field of WTG design by establishing Suzlon Energy GmbH. This has enabled us to access the personnel with the requisite technical background and expertise to assist us in designing, developing and upgrading our WTGs and their key components.
- Cost-efficient manufacturing and supply-chain in India. All of our current manufacturing facilities are located in India, which we believe gives us a significant cost advantage in terms of capital, manufacturing and labour costs over some of our larger competitors whose manufacturing facilities are in higher cost regions, such as Western Europe. Our manufacturing facilities are also located in western and southern India, which places them in close proximity to the states that we believe offer good potential in terms of wind energy production, such as Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka, thus reducing the logistical costs associated with the delivery of WTGs. Further, we are able to efficiently source many key components, such as castings, generators and towers, from lower-cost suppliers based in India. Beginning in August 2005, we also expect to begin receiving delivery of gearboxes manufactured by and delivered from the Indian manufacturing facility being constructed by Winergy AG, the leading supplier for WTG gearboxes, which we believe will allow us to lower costs relating to this key WTG component.

- Market leader in India. For the last seven fiscal years, we have been the leading WTG manufacturer in India in terms of annual installations, with a market share of approximately 44.5% of total installed capacity for the year ended March 31, 2005, based on data published by the MNES. We also installed 42.8% of the total capacity installed in India during the year ended December 31, 2004, with India being the third largest wind power market in terms of annual installed capacity during the same period. (Source: BTM Consult ApS March 2005) We have established a market presence in seven states, among which are the states that have the highest installed capacity of wind energy, including Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Gujarat. We also have a diverse customer base consisting of companies in the cement, steel, textile, automobile, engineering, construction and mining industries. We believe that India offers opportunities to strengthen our capabilities and to undertake, together with our Associate Companies, large-scale "integrated solution" wind energy projects. Our leading market share makes us well-positioned to leverage existing customer relationships and our reputation as India's leading WTG manufacturer to take advantage of future growth in domestic demand for renewable energy sources such as wind energy.
- Operations and maintenance expertise. We believe that our ability to provide WTG O&M services to our customers has helped us in assessing and enhancing the performance of WTGs under operational conditions. Our introduction of the CMS concept as part of our O&M services provides our personnel and customers with real-time data relating to the WTGs. This allows our technical personnel to control and monitor WTG performance on-line, even from remote locations, and even during adverse weather conditions. We believe this helps in reducing WTG downtime and maintenance costs. Further, our research and development teams are able to use the operational data gathered by our operations and maintenance teams in order to upgrade our current WTG models and to design, develop and roll-out newer and more cost-efficient WTG models.
- Strong management team. Our top management brings with them extensive experience in the design, engineering, manufacture, marketing and maintenance of WTGs. Our senior management team in India who are in charge of manufacturing, finance, sales, business development and strategic planning have extensive experience in the wind energy industry. We have also assembled research and development, design, engineering and marketing teams in our overseas subsidiaries with established track records in the wind energy industry.

Business Strategy

We seek to further enhance our position in India as a provider of integrated wind energy solutions and to expand our markets globally. We intend to accomplish this through:

- Expanding our WTG product line and improving existing models. We intend to leverage the WTG design and development capabilities that we have developed through our research and development subsidiaries to enhance our existing WTG models and develop new models, particularly in the MW and multi-MW class. We intend to focus on the development and construction of a gearless 1.25 MW WTG and WTGs with 1.50 MW and 2.10 MW capacity, as well as improved control systems for our current WTG models.
- Integrating manufacturing facilities. We have developed and implemented a backward integration strategy that allows us to manufacture rotor blades in-house. In March 2005 we began in-house manufacture of tubular towers through our 75%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Structures. We are also in the process of establishing in-house manufacturing capabilities for generators through our 74.9%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Generators. We believe that increasing our in-house manufacturing capabilities will allow us to lower WTG manufacturing costs, give us greater control over the supply chain for key WTG components and enable quicker and more efficient assembly and delivery of WTG components to our customers.
- Improving the cost-efficiency of generating power from wind energy. We aim to improve the cost-efficiency of power generation from wind energy by reducing the cost of generating electricity per kWh from our WTGs. We plan to achieve this goal by focusing on designing and developing more advanced WTGs, identifying sites which offer wind conditions that are optimal for WTG installations, reducing manufacturing and infrastructure costs, and by decreasing ongoing operating costs for our customers.

- Maintaining our strategic focus on the Indian market. We believe that India is and will continue to be an important growth market for wind power. We intend to continue to focus on growing our India business by leveraging our status as the leading WTG manufacturer in India and by continuing to develop, with our Associate Companies, large-scale wind farm projects. We will also continue to utilise the experience and expertise gained in our Indian operations to win and execute orders from international customers.
- Expanding our presence in international growth markets. In order to increase our share of the world market for renewable energy, we plan to continue to grow our overseas operations. We consider our key international markets to be: North America, in particular the United States, which has many sites that offer wind conditions that are optimal for WTGs and also offer tax incentives for power generated by WTGs; China, where the level of demand for energy is high and where the government is encouraging the development of renewable energy sources; and Australia, which also has sites with optimal wind conditions and where the government has declared that it intends to encourage a sustainable and internationally competitive renewable energy industry. We may also establish a presence in markets in Europe.
- Expanding manufacturing capacity. We are in the process of constructing additional manufacturing facilities in India for key WTG components and we expect these facilities to be located close to markets with growing demand for power generated by wind energy. Some of these facilities may be located in geographies that will allow us to take advantage of the fiscal incentives. In furtherance of our goal of expanding our international presence, we are planning to establish an integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China, thereby giving us manufacturing facilities in a key growth market with low costs for inputs and components. We are also evaluating the construction of rotor blade and tubular tower manufacturing facilities in the United States, in order to meet increasing demand for wind energy projects in certain regions of North America. This will reduce costs associated with the transportation and delivery of these key, but quite large, WTG components.
- Growing our business through strategic acquisitions and alliances. We will evaluate on a case-by-case basis potential acquisition targets and alliance partners that offer an opportunity to grow our business and/or expand our capabilities or geographical reach. We intend to only pursue those transactions that complement our key strengths, are synergistic and, in our assessment, have manageable integration risks.

History of our Group

Our Group's wind energy business traces its roots back to Suzlon Energy Limited, which was incorporated in 1995. Soon after our incorporation, we entered into a technical advisory and services agreement with Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH (previously known as Sudwind Windkraftanlagen GmbH), a German company with experience in WTG technology, to obtain the needed technical expertise to manufacture cost-efficient and modern WTGs.

We initially manufactured and supplied WTGs for a 3.34 MW windfarm project in Gujarat using 0.27 MW and 0.35 MW WTGs. By 1998, we had integrated the technology for 0.35 MW WTG in accordance with our technical collaboration agreement with Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH. We were also granted the right to manufacture and sell the 0.35 MW models in Asia under the terms of this technical collaboration agreement. We have also independently designed, developed and launched the MW and multi-MW series of WTGs, becoming one of the first Asian companies to manufacture 1.00 MW, 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs.

For more information on our corporate structure and our relationship with our Associate Companies, see "Structure of our Group" page 78 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 89 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Wind Farms

In implementing the "integrated solutions" approach for our Indian customers, we, along with other members of our Group, have developed and implemented several large-scale wind farms located throughout India. The concept of wind farms has been implemented in many countries, primarily in the United States and Western Europe. The advantage of wind farms is primarily related to expected economies of scale. The larger the wind farm, the greater the number of WTGs that can be installed, leading to project costs being lower on a per WTG basis. Similarly, larger projects have lower operations and maintenance costs per kilowatt-hour due to efficiencies obtained in managing a larger wind farm. According to a study by the American Wind Energy Association dated February 2005, assuming the same average wind speed of 18 mph and identical WTG sizes, a 3.00 MW wind project delivers electricity at a cost of approximately US$ 0.059 per kWh while a 51.00 MW project delivers electricity at approximately 40% less cost at US$ 0.036 per kWh.

Detailed study on wind energy resources in India for the installation of wind power projects was started in 1986 by the MNES and is currently conducted by CWET. The programme involves the identification of locations with strong winds that are close to electricity grids and have adequate land available nearby for prospective wind power projects. Once these have been identified, wind monitoring stations are established and data on wind speed and direction is collected and processed over time at various heights in a particular location. We use the data collected by CWET to conduct our own wind resource mapping activities in areas, which we believe may be suitable for wind farms. Once we are satisfied with the suitability of an area, our Associate Companies, SRL and SDL, undertake land acquisition and infrastructure development activities. We supply customers with WTGs, including rotor blades and towers, which are installed and commissioned by SDL. Operations and maintenance services for wind farms developed by our Group are provided by our subsidiary, SWSL.

Since our incorporation we and our Associate Companies have developed several wind farm projects, including:

- Vankusawade. Located on a mountain plateau 1,150 metres above mean sea level in the Satara District of Maharashtra, this site is located on one variable and rugged terrain with a length of approximately 29 kilometres. As of March 31, 2005, our Group had installed and commissioned 556 WTGs of 0.35 MW each and seven WTGs of 1.00 MW each for various customers. Facilities at the site include five CMSs, which are linked to our corporate office through V-SAT facilities. Our Group has also constructed a 220/33 kV sub-station at this site with a capacity of 150 MVA.
- Kovdya Dongar. Kovdya Dongar is approximately 80 km from the town of Pune, Maharashtra. The site is located on a plateau, 950 metres above mean sea level altitude, and has high southwesterly winds for a large part of the year because of its vicinity to the sea and its altitude. As of March 31, 2005, our Group has installed and commissioned 57 WTGs of 1.00 MW each for various customers. Facilities at the site include one CMS, which is also linked to our corporate office through V-SAT facilities. Our Group has also constructed a 110/33 kV sub-station at this site with a capacity of 100 MVA.
- Sankeneri. Located in Tamil Nadu near Kanyakumari with a planned capacity of up to 500 MW. As of March 31, 2005, our Group has installed and commissioned one WTG of 2.00 MW, 212 WTGs of 1.25 MW, one WTG of 1.00 MW and five WTGs of 0.35 MW. Facilities at the site include one CMS linked to our corporate office through V-SAT facilities, with another CMS under construction. Our Group has also constructed a 220/33 kV sub-station at this site with a capacity of 100 MVA.
- Jaisalmer. Located at Jaisalmer in the State of Rajasthan, as of March 31, 2005 this site had installations of over 160.00 MW consisting of 82 WTGs of 0.35 MW, 7 WTGs of 1.00 MW, 106 WTGs of 1.25 MW. Facilities at the site include two CMSs linked to our corporate office through V-SAT facilities. Our Group has constructed a 220/33 kV sub-station at this site with a capacity of 100 MVA.
- Chitradurga. Located at Jogimatti, Taluka Chitradurga in Karnataka, at 1,120 meters above sea level. The terrain of the site is hilly plateau; and is located around seven kilometres from Chitradurga and is accessible from the Bangalore – Mumbai highway. The total area of the wind farm site is 4.76 hectares, which is suitable for a 20 MW wind farm. Our Group has constructed a 33/66 KV sub-station at this site with a capacity of 25 MVA. As of March 31, 2005, our Group has installed and commissioned 19 WTGs of 1.25 MW each.

We and our Associate Companies are in the process of developing other wind farms, particularly in the States of Gujarat, Maharashtra, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka.

Products

Our core competencies are designing, developing and manufacturing cost-efficient WTGs, including developing and manufacturing some of the key WTG components such as rotor blades for our MW and Multi-MW class of WTGs, control panels, nacelle cover and tubular towers.

Our Product Range

Our product range covers a wide range of models, from the S.33 with 0.35 MW nominal output to the S.88 with 2.00 MW nominal output. We believe our range of WTG models allows us to supply different types of WTGs that can suit the varying needs of our customers, in terms of both cost and wind conditions at a proposed WTG site. The following table provides an overview of the types of WTGS that we currently offer:

WTG Model	Year first Sold	Number of units sold ⁽¹⁾
2000 KW	2003-04	1
1250 KW	2002-03	598
1000 KW	2000-01	79
950 KW	2003-04	24
350 KW	1995-96	785
270 KW	1995-96	2

Apart from their nominal output and size, the various WTGs in our product range vary primarily in the technology used for output regulation. Whereas our smaller turbines principally use the less complex stall regulation technology, the larger turbines, starting at 0.95 MW capacity, are typically equipped with pitch regulation. See "Wind Energy and Wind Turbine Generators – Wind Turbine Generators – Power regulation and limitation (stall and pitch regulation)" on page 83 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We believe that the advantages offered by the higher energy yield of these pitch-regulated models will in certain circumstances compensate for the higher costs associated with pitch regulation. Almost all our WTGs feature an advanced control system that includes precisely calibrated sensors that monitor factors such as temperature, wind speeds and vibrations. Our rotor blades are manufactured using the advanced Vacuum Assisted Resin Infusion Moulding, or VARIM. We believe that this results in each rotor blade having a lower weight-to-swept area ratio that assists in reducing the cost per kWh of energy produced by WTGs manufactured by us.

The following overview illustrates the distribution of our WTGs in our most important sales markets as of March 31, 2005:

During fiscal 2003 and 2004, we supplied 24 WTGs with 22.80 MW of nominal output for a wind farm project developed by DanMar and Associates Inc. in the state of Minnesota in the United States. This was the first order we received from an international customer. In the first quarter of fiscal 2006 we entered into agreements to supply 62 WTGs with 79.9 MW of capacity for wind power projects to be located in the states of Texas and Minnesota.

In addition to smaller WTGs with capacity of less than 1.00 MW, we also manufacture MW and Multi-MW class WTGs. Particularly notable in our product range are the 2.00 MW S.88, the smaller 1.25 MW and 1.00 MW models.

Multi MegaWatt Series

The S.88 2.00 MW series WTG is the largest capacity WTG model we manufacture. This model has a rotor diameter of approximately 88 metres, resulting into a swept area of approximately 6,082 square metres. It has a three-bladed rotor, each of approximately 42 metres in length. The S.88 has a cut-in wind speed of 4 m/s and can stay in operation up to a cut-out wind speed of 25 m/s, while reaching its rated output at approximately 14 m/s.

The S.88 has an electronic pitch regulation mechanism with three independent drives that turn the blades on its own axis to optimise and regulate the power output of the WTG. It is also equipped with a yaw system based on polyamide slide-bearings and electrically driven yaw drives to adjust the direction of the WTG depending on the direction of the wind.

The S.88 also has a conventional drive-train construction with a main bearing in the front of the rotor shaft that is connected to the gear-box at the other end. The gear-box is coupled with the generator, which has a flexi-slip mechanism attached to it that dampens gust loads by changing the effective value of the external resistors connected via slip-rings.

All the sub-systems of the S.88 are controlled by a micro-processor based control system that continuously monitors various parameters such as wind speed, wind direction, various operating and ambient temperature and power output, and controls the operation of the WTG to provide safe and efficient operational performance.

MegaWatt Series

Our MegaWatt series of WTGs is the largest selling member of our WTG product family as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. These WTGs are structurally similar but vary according to rotor diameter, which are optimised according to the wind-class in which they are meant to operate. For example, the S.64 1.25 MW WTG has a rotor diameter of 64 metres while the S.66 1.25 MW WTG has a rotor diameter of 66 metres.

With a swept area of over 3,200 square metres, our MegaWatt WTG models have a cut-in wind speed of approximately 3 metres/second and reach a rated output of approximately 14 metres/second. The MegaWatt WTG models also have electronic pitch regulation mechanisms with three independent drives that turn the blades on their own axis to optimise and regulate the power output of the WTG. Similar to the S.88 Multi MegaWatt WTGs, they are equipped with a yaw system based on polyamide slide-bearings and electrically driven yaw drives to adjust the direction of the WTG depending on the direction of the wind.

Our MegaWatt WTG models also have a conventional drive-train construction with a main bearing in the front of the rotor shaft that is connected to the gear-box at the other end. The gear-box is coupled to the generator through a fluid coupling which acts as a slip mechanism to dampen the loads.

As is the case with our S.88 Multi MegaWatt WTGs, the sub-systems of our MegaWatt WTG models are controlled by a micro-processor based control system that continuously monitors various parameters such as wind speed, wind direction, various operating and ambient temperature and power output, and controls the operation of the WTG to provide safe and efficient operational performance.

Product Warranties

We provide customers, which purchase our WTGs a generation warranty that can consist of either an absolute "unit" warranty on the total number of units of electricity that will be generated by the WTG or a power curve warranty on the number of units of electricity that will be generated by a WTG at different wind speeds. These generation warranties generally extend for periods ranging from one to three years from the date a WTG is commissioned.

Services

Our aim is to provide, in coordination with our Associate Companies, integrated wind energy solutions for our customers in India. In addition to our manufacture of WTGs, these solutions cover the entire technical value chain, from the identification of suitable sites and the planning of wind farms to their technical implementation. For a typical 1.25 MW WTG project, approximately 2% to 3% of the total cost to the customer covers the cost of acquiring the necessary land from SRL, approximately 16% to 20% relates to the cost of infrastructure development, including power evacuation facilities, and the balance covers the cost of the WTG.

At present, our Associate Companies and we offer the "integrated solutions" package described below only to our customers in India as we have, over the years, built up extensive local expertise in wind resource mapping throughout India and in identifying suitable sites for wind farms. For customers in other geographical markets our activities are currently limited to the supply of WTGs. Planning of wind farms

Planning wind farms includes identifying suitable sites based on wind resource data collected by us from both Government sources and from our own independent studies, inspecting the sites, calculating capacity levels, analysing project feasibility and the availability of power transmission facilities.

Land acquisition

Government land

In certain states, we and our Associate Companies apply to the relevant state governments for the allocation of land to be used for wind power projects according to the current policies in these states. In cases involving the acquisition of land classified as "forest land", we and our Associate Companies apply to the relevant government department for the diversion of the forest land under the applicable policies for such diversion so that it can be used for wind power projects. Thereafter, the state government or government department concerned processes the application and, if the application is approved, allocates the land for the development of wind power projects. Upon obtaining these approvals, we proceed with the development of the plans and designs needed to make the land suitable for wind power projects, which plans and designs are implemented by our Associate Companies. The land allotted by the government can also be transferred to third parties, such as our customers, through either a lease or a sub-lease.

Private Land

Our Associate Companies acquire suitable sites that we have identified and undertake to provide such sites exclusively to our customers. This involves extensive negotiations with the landowners, particularly in the case of privately-owned land, and can involve litigation between an Associate Company and private landowners in which we can be named as parties.

See "Risk Factors - We and our Associate Company may not be able to secure suitable locations for wind farm projects" on page xix of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, "Risk Factors - We have been named as parties in several litigation proceedings against our Associate Companies relating to acquisition of private land by our Associate Companies for the setting up of windfarm projects" on page xx of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements with group companies – Agreement for use of land" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Development and technical design of wind farms

The overall design process of a wind farm involves bringing together the individual WTGs and electrical components into an integrated solution while taking into account safety and capacity factors. Our services include micro-siting, which involves the identification (through the use of sophisticated computer models) of the exact locations where a WTG shall be installed taking into consideration the requirements of distance between two WTGs. Micro-siting helps maximize land utilization at each suitable site and assists in optimising power generation at each site.

Infrastructure development and installation of WTGs

The construction and development of infrastructure for entire wind farms is undertaken by our Associate Company, SDL. These activities include building of approach roads, evacuation facilities such as transmission lines to the nearest sub-stations – in some cases sub-stations as well – and levelling of land for WTG tower foundations. Installation of WTGs is also undertaken by SDL. First the tower is erected, after which the nacelle, hub and rotor blades are positioned and assembled with the aid of cranes. The final steps are the installation of electrical components, grid connections and commissioning. Further, each of our WTGs erected at the larger wind farm sites are connected to a CMS that is used for O&M activities. See "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements with group companies – Agreement for installation services" on page 93 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Operation and maintenance services

We offer O&M services for our WTGs, which includes round-the-clock remote and on-site monitoring, maintenance and repair of the WTGs. Our service package includes preventive and planned maintenance of WTGs, transformers and related structures. We also provide free repair and maintenance services for periods generally ranging from one to three years after WTG commissioning. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreement with Group Companies – Agreement for O&M services" on page 93 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Through SWSL we also provide O&M services to WTG customers, pursuant to agreements with terms ranging from as short as one year to as long as 17 years, with the typical term being from three to five years. These agreements are usually entered into once the free repair and maintenance period we offer has expired. As part of our O&M services, we provide a warranty on machine availability, which ranges from 95% to 97%, depending on the agreement reached with the customer, as well as warranties relating to the maximum allowable percentages of reactive power and transmission losses. After the initial operations and maintenance agreement period expires, we encourage customers to renew their service agreements with us, with a view to servicing our WTGs throughout their entire 20-year lifecycle. Customers are charged an annual maintenance fee per WTG that includes preventive maintenance and repair services, as well as the cost of spare parts up to a certain amount. As of March 31, 2005, we employed approximately 656 persons to provide operations and maintenance services to our customers. Prior to fiscal 2005, SWSL was wholly-owned by members of our Promoter Group and operations and maintenance services for our WTGs were subcontracted by us to SWSL. In April 2004, we acquired a 100% ownership interest in SWSL from members of our Promoter Group for which we paid a total consideration of Rs. 72.4 million.

We believe that the warranties we provide and the O&M services we offer help assure customers that our WTGs will operate as expected, both with regard to their availability and the level of electricity generated. For the years ended March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005, we paid customers Rs. 109.4 million and Rs. 200.3 million, respectively, arising from warranty guarantee claims.

Manufacturing Facilities

Our main manufacturing facilities are located in Diu, Daman and Pondicherry. Our WTGs are manufactured in all three locations, while our Daman and Pondicherry facilities also manufacture nacelle covers and rotor blades for our MW and Multi-MW WTGs. Control panels are manufactured in our Daman facility. Manufacturing units in Diu, Daman and Pondicherry are currently eligible for various fiscal incentives.

The following tables sets forth information regarding our existing manufacturing facilities, the installed capacity of each and details of available income tax concessions available for these facilities.

Our goal is to develop and manufacture key WTG components in-house, while at the same time coordinating the sourcing of other components and raw materials commonly available on the open market from outside suppliers. We presently concentrate on manufacturing some of the key WTG components, such as rotor blades for our MW and Multi-MW class of WTGs, control panels, nacelle covers and tubular towers. Beginning March 2005, we began manufacturing a portion of our tubular tower requirements through our 75%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Structures. We expect to begin manufacturing a significant portion of our generator requirements through our 74.9%-owned subsidiary, Suzlon Generators, in August 2005. The remaining components and various small parts are sourced from outside manufacturers either on a purchase order basis or pursuant to negotiated supply agreements. These include castings, rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTGs and various mechanical components (such as gearboxes, pitch bearings, shafts and brakes). We also source raw materials for rotor blade manufacturing, such as glass fibres, foam and epoxy resin, from outside suppliers. We expect to continue to source a portion of our tubular tower and generator requirements from outside suppliers.

Components not manufactured in-house and the raw materials for rotor blades and tubular towers are generally sourced from two or more suppliers. However, gearboxes for our WTGs are sourced solely from Winergy AG and rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTG model are sourced exclusively from LM Glasfibre (India) Ltd. As the gearboxes for our WTGs and the rotor blade for our 0.35 MW WTG must be customised to meet the specific requirements of our WTGs, we have worked closely with Winergy AG and LM Glasfibre India Ltd. so that each supplier has the ability to meet the necessary quality and technical standards for these components. It would be time-consuming and costly for us to qualify other suppliers for these components. See "Risk Factors - We are dependent on external suppliers for key raw materials and components".

In addition to our existing facilities, we are setting up new manufacturing facilities in India and expanding our existing storage facilities at Pondicherry, with a view to reducing dependence on vendors for key components, to rationalise our costs and to address the logistical needs in the delivery of our products. Given the (a) size of the potential market for WTGs in China, (b) requirements that a certain percentage of WTG project components be sourced from Chinese-based manufacturers and (c) the cost of shipping WTG components from India, we plan to construct an integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China that would manufacture WTGs and key components such as rotor blades, generators, gear boxes, towers and control panels. In the United States, we plan to construct rotor blade and tubular tower manufacturing facilities so as to reduce the costs associated with the outsourcing and/or shipping of these key WTG components and to ensure timely supply of WTGs to customers. For more information on our planned new facilities, see "Objects of the Issue " on page 28 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Sales and Marketing

Our WTGs are primarily sold by us through our sales and marketing team based in India and by our foreign sales and marketing subsidiaries and branch offices.

India

We have divided the Indian market according to the states where we have identified suitable sites for wind energy projects, specifically Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh. Marketing for each state is under the supervision of a senior management executive who directly reports to our Chairman and Managing Director. We also have sales offices in key cities such as Pune, Bangalore, Chennai, Coimbatore, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, Rajkot, Surat, Jaipur, Calcutta, Mumbai, Indore and New Delhi.

The marketing team focuses on three types of customers: (a) companies that have manufacturing units with high power consumption; (b) companies with high profitability and/or surplus liquidity that seek investment opportunities with stable returns and that offer tax benefits; and (c) power utilities and state nodal agencies. These potential customers are contacted by our marketing team, introducing them to our Group and the potential benefits of wind power. Our team conducts regular follow-up calls and visits and provide potential customers with detailed working and feasibility studies regarding wind power projects. We also organise site visits to existing wind farms. From time to time, we also obtain customers through participation in tenders by utilities, state nodal agencies and public-sector entities. As part of our standard practices, we also conduct credit checks and review the balance sheet of each potential customer in order to ensure that it has the financial capacity to acquire and operate our WTGs.

As of March 31, 2005, we employed 66 people in sales and marketing for India. As of March 31, 2005, we have sold 1,465 WTGs to Indian customers and the performance of these WTGs has resulted in a number of repeat orders from customers such as Bajaj Auto Limited, Ellora Time Ltd., the Ramco Group, MSPL Limited and Vishal Exports Overseas Ltd. and REI Agro Ltd.

As on June 30, 2005 we have agreements to supply 255 WTGs with 312.05 MW capacity to various customers.

International Markets

We are currently expanding our presence internationally, with an emphasis on North America, China and Australia. Our global marketing, sales, project and service activities are managed by our Danish subsidiary, Suzlon Energy A/S. Our international marketing activities primarily consist of cultivating contacts with wind power project developers with a view to supplying WTGs for wind power projects developed by them, advertisements placed in professional industry journals, attendance at national and international energy fairs, such as the Hanover Fair, PowerGen, WindTech Husum and PowerExpo, as well as conferences and professional seminars conducted by trade associations and various wind energy associations, such as the American Wind Energy Association and the British Wind Energy Association.

United States

In 2001, we incorporated SWECO in order to establish a presence in the United States, which is among the top three wind energy markets in the world in terms of cumulative installations. As of March 31, 2005, we employed 16 people in marketing, sales, projects and services for the United States. We expect to target the following types of customers: (a) companies interested in investing in renewable energy sources; (b) utilities; (c) wind energy project developers; and (d) municipalities, schools and cooperatives interested in establishing captive power facilities.

We intend to focus on establishing ongoing business relationships with a core group of key customers, strategic investors and financial investors, with a view to gaining access to wind power projects that these entities propose to undertake, as well as securing exclusive WTG supply agreements with these entities. We focus our direct sales efforts in three main geographic areas: the Midwest, the South (Texas, Oklahoma) and the West (California), which will allow us to concentrate on utilities and independent service operators in areas that we believe have growth potential. We may also offer customers assistance in obtaining project finance and also provide technical services relating to the installation, O&M of WTGs.

As on June 30, 2005 we have agreements to supply 62 WTGs with 79.9 MW capacity for wind power projects to be located in the states of Texas and Minnesota in the United States. During fiscal 2003 and 2004, we supplied 24 WTGs with 22.80 MW of nominal output for a wind farm project developed by DanMar and Associates Inc. in the state of Minnesota in the United States.

Europe

We have established Suzlon Energy A/S in Denmark as our global headquarters for sales outside India. We also plan to establish several marketing and project offices for the European market. As of March 31, 2005, we employed 15 people in marketing, sales, projects and services in Europe. We expect our customers in Europe to consist primarily of power utilities, wind power project developers and private investors. Initially, we intend to market our WTGs in Scandinavia, the Baltic region and Southern Europe. We may also offer customers assistance in obtaining project finance and also provide technical services relating to the installation, O&M of WTGs.

Asia Pacific (Australia and New Zealand)

Marketing activities in Australia and New Zealand are conducted by Suzlon Energy Australia Pty. Ltd., which employed nine people in marketing, sales, projects and services as of March 31, 2005. We believe that both Australia and New Zealand have substantial renewable energy resources, including wind. Customers are expected to be primarily power utilities and wind power project developers. We intend to establish market presence by undertaking a pilot project to demonstrate our capabilities as a WTG manufacturer. We also intend to undertake direct sales to both wind power project developers and utilities. We may also offer customers assistance in obtaining project finance and provide technical services relating to the installation, O&M of WTGs.

China

We have opened a representative office in Beijing, which employed four people in sales and marketing as of March 31, 2005. As of December 31, 2004, China was among the top ten nations in terms of installed wind power capacity according to the March 2005 report of BTM Consult ApS. The Chinese government is encouraging development of renewable energy sources and has declared its intention to get 10% of its electricity from renewable energy sources by 2020. We plan to incorporate a local subsidiary by the end of calendar 2005, through which we plan to construct a fully-integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China. As the energy market in China is currently dominated by state-owned utilities, we expect that these state owned utilities and their subsidiaries will be our primary customers.

Customers

Our customers in India are primarily: (a) companies that have manufacturing units with high power consumption; (b) companies with high profitability that seek investment opportunities with stable returns and that offer tax benefits; and (c) power utilities and state nodal agencies. Among our Indian customers are Alembic Ltd., Amarjothi Spinning Mills Ltd., Amarjothi Power Generation and Distribution Co. Ltd., Godrej Agrovet Ltd., Maharashtra Seamless Ltd., Revathi Equipment Ltd., Savita Chemicals Ltd., Shriram City Union Finance Ltd., Tamilnadu Newsprint & Papers Ltd., Bajaj Auto Limited, Ellora Time Ltd., the Ramco Group, Vishal Exports Overseas Ltd., Godrej Industries Limited, MSPL Limited and REI Agro Ltd. In international markets, our first international order was to supply 24 WTGs with 22.80 MW of total installed capacity for DanMar and Associates Inc., which developed a wind farm project in the state of Minnesota in the United States. We have recently entered into agreements with customers in the United States to supply 62 WTGs with 79.9 MW of installed capacity for wind power projects in the states of Texas and Minnesota.

For the fiscal years ended March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005, our single largest customer contributed 4.7% and 10.1%, respectively, to our revenues, or Rs. 404.0 million and Rs. 1,962.4 million. During each of fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, we generated 21.9% and 25.9%, respectively, of our revenues, or Rs. 1,877.5 million and Rs. 5,036.9 million, from our ten largest customers (excluding our top customer). The table below illustrates the concentration of our revenues among our top customers:

	2003	2004	2005
Top Customer	8.2%	4.7%	10.1%
Top 10 Customers (excluding our top customer)	42.1%	21.9%	25.9%

We also provide O&M services for all our customers. For this fiscal years ended March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005, revenues from O&M services contributed 0.1% and 1.0%, respectively, to our total revenues, or Rs. 5.9 million and Rs. 203.9 million.

Quality Control and Product Certification

We have a long-standing focus on processes for ensuring the manufacture of high quality WTGs. Our design and manufacturing facilities and operations and maintenance services have been certified as ISO 9001:2000 by Det Norske Veritas, which provides an internationally recognized accreditation service for WTG design and manufacture. Our WTG models are designed for a 20-year life cycle and our rotor blades undergo extensive reliability and operational testing conducted by the Technical University of Delft.

Our WTGs are also designed to meet the standards set by the two internationally-recognized independent WTG certification bodies, Germanischer Lloyd and the International Electrotechnical Commission. Once we have completed a WTG design, the design is presented for type approval and certification in accordance with the Certification of Wind Energy Conversion Systems laid down by Germanischer Lloyd. We also obtain WTG certification from the CWET - an autonomous body attached to the Indian Ministry of Non-Conventional Energy Sources - which is affiliated with the Risø National Laboratory, another internationally-recognized WTG certification agency. The certification procedure includes review of results of type tests conducted on the WTGs, review of our quality control and review and assessment of the WTG design documentation. Type tests are conducted on our WTGs by internationally accredited, independent agencies such as Deutsches Wind Energie-Institut GmbH, Germany and the Indian Centre for Wind Energy Technology. Typically, the type approval and certification process takes nine to fifteen months.

During the course of the type certification process, WTG design, prototype performance and systems are independently assessed and verified, which assists in providing assurance to customers regarding the design, performance and safety of our WTGs. Further, banks and other financial institutions often require type certification for the WTGs that our customers propose to acquire to provide financing to our customers for their purchases. In most cases, however, we are allowed to sell our WTGs on a "self-certification" basis.

As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have obtained CWET type certification and Germanischer Lloyd certification for several of our WTG models, including for our 1.25 MW WTGs. We are also in the process of obtaining type certifications for other WTG models. For details regarding type certifications for our WTG models, please see section "Licenses and Approvals" on page 252 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Logistics

The dimensions and weight of WTG assemblies are such that the delivery of WTG assemblies can, at times, constitute a considerable logistical challenge. These challenges, particularly in terms of transport vehicles and the state of transport routes, can create considerable problems, particularly in regions of India with less well developed infrastructure. It is for this reason that we conduct site suitability studies not only in terms of available wind resources but also in terms of accessibility and presence of basic infrastructure. The costs of transport can make the delivery of our MW and Multi-MW WTG models substantially more expensive in certain regions. It is for this reason that we are expanding our manufacturing facilities in India to include locations that are in proximity to potential wind farm sites in southern and western India. For international markets, we plan to establish an integrated WTG manufacturing facility in China and rotor blade and tubular tower manufacturing facilities in the United States.

Suppliers

We purchase components such as gearboxes, generators, towers, bearings and castings from several different manufacturers. We have pursued a strategy of procuring these components from manufacturers who have established themselves as suppliers of components that are compatible with our WTGs and meet our technical and quality standards, either on a purchase order basis or through negotiated supply agreements. In order to minimise the risk regarding availability of key components and of competition, we have entered into exclusive supply agreements with some of our suppliers, pursuant to which such suppliers have undertaken to maintain a minimum level of inventory to meet our demand. In turn, we provide these suppliers with advances on orders, which range from 5.0% and 25.0% of the value of orders placed, depending on the supplier and the components involved. For each of fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, on a standalone basis, the cost of imported raw materials as a percentage of SEL's cost of raw materials was approximately 54.5% and 50.2%, respectively.

We manufacture rotor blades for our MW and Multi-MW WTG models at our manufacturing facilities in Daman and Pondicherry. Raw materials for rotor blades, such as glass fibre, foam and epoxy resin are sourced from several suppliers, such as Saertex Wagener GmbH & Co. KG, Owens Corning Enterprise (India) Pvt. Ltd. and Saint-Gobain Syncoglas N.V., on a purchase order basis. As these raw materials are in the nature of commodities, we are able to source them from other suppliers in the event our current suppliers cannot meet our manufacturing needs. We purchase rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTG model solely from LM Glasfibre (India) Pvt. Ltd., the market leader for rotor blades, since this company meets our requirements as to product quality.

The chief supplier of tubular towers for India is Barakath Engineering Industries (P) Ltd., with whom we have entered into a five-year supply agreement for tubular towers. Gearboxes are supplied by Winergy AG, which is the market leader in gears for WTGs. The main suppliers of generators and generator components are Siemens Ltd. of India, Elin EBG Motoren GmbH and Winergy AG. We purchase gear rims and slewing rings from IMO Momentenlager GmbH, brake callipers from Svendborg Brakes A/S and yaw and pitch drives from Bonfiglioli Riduttori Spa. Bearings for WTG hubs are purchased from FAG Bearings India Ltd. and SKF India Ltd., while castings for our WTGs are purchased from Patel Alloy Steel (P) Ltd., in each case on a purchase order basis.

Both gearboxes for our WTGs and rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTG are sourced from single suppliers, Winergy AG and LM Glasfibre (India) Pvt. Ltd., respectively, as each supplier has demonstrated the ability to meet the necessary quality and technical standards for these components and we believe that it would be time-consuming and costly for us to qualify other suppliers for these components. Beginning August 2005, we expect that Winergy AG will begin supplying us with gearboxes produced at its newly constructed Indian production facility. We expect that this will help reduce our overall production costs by reducing the cost associated with the acquisition of this key WTG component. See "Risk Factors – We are dependent on external suppliers for key raw materials and components".

We are in the process of increasing our backward-integration by undertaking the manufacture of generators through our 74.9%-owned subsidiary Suzlon Generators, and tubular towers through our 75%-owned subsidiary Suzlon Structures. Suzlon Generators is a joint venture with Elin EBG Motoren GmbH of Austria, or ELIN, for the manufacture of slip ring generators required for our WTGs. We provide management support and procurement services. ELIN is responsible for the initial start-up and commissioning of Suzlon Generator's manufacturing plant and providing the necessary technology and know-how required for the manufacture of slip ring generators. Manufacture of generators is expected to commence in August 2005. See "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Joint Ventures" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Suzlon Structures is a joint venture with the Kalthia Group for the design and manufacture of tubular towers, which are best suited for the higher and heavier WTG installations. We provide management support to Suzlon Structures while the Kalthia Group has operational responsibility for Suzlon Structures' manufacturing plant in Gandhidham, Kutch district in the State of Gujarat. Suzlon Structures commenced manufacturing of tubular towers in March 2005 and we expect to procure a significant portion of our tubular tower requirements from Suzlon Structures. See "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Joint Ventures" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

As part of our strategy of increasing our backward integration, we may from time to time evaluate the feasibility of entering into similar joint venture agreements with partners that have developed expertise in the manufacture of key WTG components.

Competition

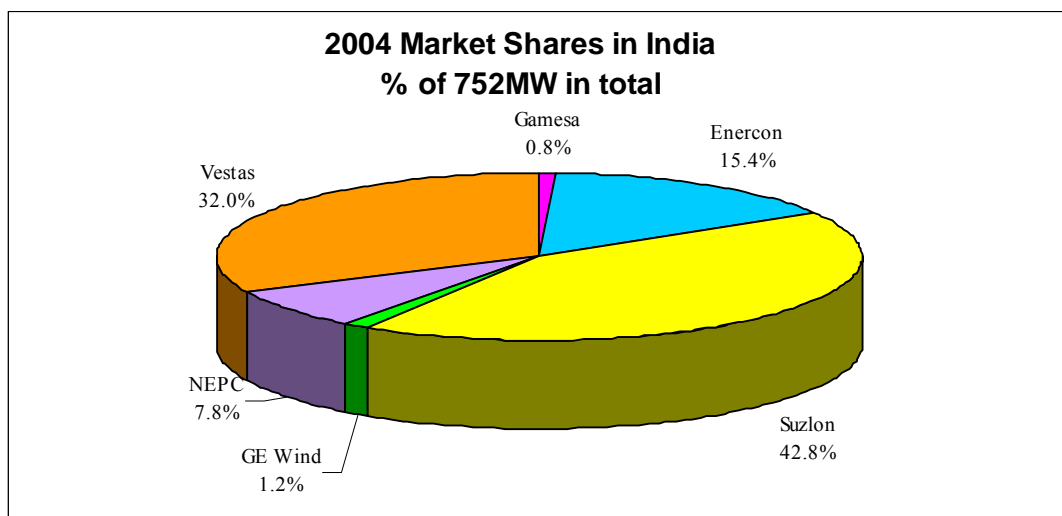

The WTG market is characterised by strong concentration among a small group of manufacturers. In calendar 2004, approximately 96.1% of the global market for WTGs, measured by installed capacity, was accounted for by only ten manufacturers, including us (Source: BTM Consult ApS – March 2005). Some individual regional markets such as China, India and Australia are dominated by just two or three manufacturers. Our primary competitors both in India and abroad are the Danish manufacturers, Vestas Wind Systems A/S and Bonus Energy (which was acquired by Siemens), the U.S. manufacturer G.E. Wind (which acquired the WTG manufacturer Enron Wind Corp.), Spanish manufacturer Gamesa Eólica, and the German companies Enercon GmbH, Nordex AG and REPower Systems AG. (source: BTM Consult ApS – March 2005)

The following table sets forth our market share and that of our competitors based on annual installed capacity during 2004 and accumulated installed capacity as of December 31, 2004:

Research and Development

We place great emphasis on continued research and development. Mastery of the construction of wind turbines in their entirety requires a precise interplay among the individual components parts to ensure the efficiency of the products. To this end, we have our research and development activities are undertaken through our two wholly-owned subsidiaries, AERH and SEG.

SEG designs and develops our new WTG models and focuses on upgrading and increasing the cost-efficiency of our existing WTG models. Our SEG team developed the design for our MegaWatt and Multi MegaWatt WTGs and is currently developing prototypes for 1.50 MW and 2.10 MW WTG models. SEG is also involved in customising the various WTG components to suit different climates, ranging from India's tropical climate to the extreme cold of northern Minnesota. As of March 31, 2005, SEG employed a total of 25 people. Our WTG design team is headed by T. Sphere, who has over 20 years of experience in the wind energy industry. See "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "Our Management" on page 98 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

AERH is a holding company for its wholly-owned subsidiary, AE Rotor Techniek B.V., or AERT. AERT designs and develops rotor blades, a critical component of WTGs, and also designs the moulds and tooling used for rotor blade manufacturing. Our team at AERT has developed designs for rotor blades for our 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs. Moulds and prototypes for rotor blades are designed by AERT, which are then built by our engineering teams in India and used in our manufacturing facilities. AERT provides on-line support to our mould, rotor blade and nacelle cover manufacturing units in India and conducts various training programmes in the Netherlands and in India for our employees. As of March 31, 2005, AERH employed a total of 24 people, including employees at AERT. Our rotor blade design team is headed by William Verheij, who has over 29 years of experience in rotor blade design and engineering. See "Structure of our Group" on page 78 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements for Technical Consultancy" on page 94 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Intellectual Property Rights and Technical Know-How

We are not currently involved in any material intellectual property litigation or enforcement. Although we believe we do not infringe on the intellectual property rights of any other party, infringement claims may be asserted against us in the future. If we were called upon to defend against a claim that we have infringed intellectual property rights, or were we compelled to litigate to assert our intellectual property rights, we could incur substantial legal and court costs and be required to consume substantial management time and resources in the process. See "Risk Factors - We may infringe on the intellectual property rights of others" on page xxv of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our application to the Registry of Trademark, Ahmedabad, for the registration of our Suzlon circle logo and WTG illustration is pending.

Like many of our competitors, we possess extensive technical knowledge about our WTGs. Our know-how is a significant independent asset, which cannot be protected by intellectual property rights such as patents, but only by keeping it secret. As a result, our employment contracts, particularly those with certain of our employees who have special technical knowledge about our WTGs or our business, contain a general obligation to keep all such knowledge confidential for the duration of the employee's employment with us, as well as assignment of rights provisions. For employees of our research and development subsidiaries, the confidentiality obligation extends for a period of two years after the termination of employment, though such provisions may be unenforceable. In addition to the confidentiality provisions, these employment agreements often contain non-competition clauses, which may not be enforceable.

We also require suppliers of key components to enter into non-disclosure arrangements to limit access to and distribution of our proprietary and confidential information.

See "Risk Factors – The failure to keep our technical knowledge confidential could erode our competitive advantage" on page xxiv of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Insurance

We maintain insurance coverage on all office premises and manufacturing units owned by us against fire, earthquake and related perils. We also maintain insurance for orders outside India for our 0.35 MW, 0.95 MW, 1.00 MW and 1.25 MW WTGs. In relation to the policies taken outside India, contingencies such as property damage and machine breakdown are part of our industrial risk coverage and actual revenue loss due to business interruption is also covered. In addition, we maintain transit insurance for the transport by rail or by road of all incoming raw materials and outgoing goods to and from locations in India and transit insurance for the transport by sea or by air for all incoming raw materials and outgoing goods from outside India to within India. This transit insurance includes damages that may be caused due to contingencies such as inland transit strikes, riots and civil commotions.

All our insurance relating to office premises and manufacturing units in India and relating to the transit of goods contain "Agreed Bank Clauses" which provide that any payments made under such policies are made to certain banks and financial institutions that have provided financing for the same.

We maintain insurance against any claim that may be made against each of our Directors and officers in their capacity as Directors while acting in that capacity.

Our insurance policies are generally for one year terms.

Human Resources

We are in a technology-driven industry and we believe that our employees are key contributors to our business success. Accordingly, we focus on attracting, training and retaining the best people possible. We believe that a combination of our position as a leading wind energy solutions provider, our working environment and competitive compensation programs allow us to attract and retain talented people. We believe our relationship with our employees is generally good. Nevertheless, in June and July 2004, employees at our operations and maintenance centre at Vankusawade went on strike to demand revision in wages, allowance, overtime payments, and changes in working conditions such as lodging and boarding facilities, transport facilities, reorganisation of working pattern, which was resolved amicably in August 2004. Other than this strike, we have never experienced a work stoppage as a result of labour disagreements. Other than the employees at our operations and maintenance centre at Vankusawade, none of our employees belong to a union.

The following table sets out the number of our employees on a consolidated basis as of the end of the last three fiscal years:

Total Number of Employees	As of March 31,
	2003	2004	2005
Sales and Marketing, Business Development and Corporate Affairs	34	46	70

Training

We place special emphasis on the training of our employees to enable them to develop their skills to meet changing WTG technology and to provide efficient and effective O&M services. We focus on an initial learning programme for our trainees as well as continuous learning programmes for all our employees. All newly-hired employees are required to attend an intensive two- to four-week, full-time training programme to familiarise them with our business and operations. We have also established a training centre near Pune that is equipped with extensive and up-to-date facilities and which offers relevant training programmes.

Employee Retention and Care

We strive to foster a feeling of well-being in our employees through care and respect. We have several structured processes including employee mentoring and grievance management programmes which are intended to facilitate a friendly and cohesive organisational culture. Off-site activities are encouraged to improve inter-personal relationships. We also acknowledge the efforts exerted by our employees by organizing an annual celebration called "Sumilan" where we recognize employees who have shown exceptional talent, sincerity and dedication.

For employees forming part of our operations and maintenance teams and who are based in remote wind farm sites, we provide residential, medical, recreational and communications facilities as part of the wind farm infrastructure.

Compensation and Performance Management

Our compensation policy is performance based and we believe it is competitive with industry standards in India. Our compensation packages are adjusted annually based on industry salary correction, compensation surveys and individual performance. From time to time, employees who have met or exceeded performance standards are awarded bonuses. We also award long-service bonuses to employees who have completed at least five years and ten years of service with us.

Employee Stock Option Plan

We have instituted a stock option plan to reward and help retain our employees and to enable them to participate in our future growth and financial success. The Plan includes provision for the grant of options to employees of SEL and the subsidiaries except our subsidiaries in the United States of America. We have granted stock options to employees pursuant to the Plan. Pursuant to the Plan, the company has granted 921,000 options to eligible employees at an exercise price, which is at a discount of 50% of the Issue Price. Under the terms of the Plan, 30% of the options will vest in the employees at the end of the first year, 30% at the end of the second year and the balance of 40% at the end of third year from the date of the grant.

Employee Post-Retirement Benefits

Our India-based employees' post-retirement benefits include a provident fund and a gratuity. Both the provident fund and the gratuity have been approved by the relevant statutory authorities. All India-based employees earning up to Rs. 6,500 per month are entitled to provident fund benefits as laid down by Indian law. Each such employee makes monthly contributions to the plan equal to 12% of the employee's basic monthly salary and we contribute a matching amount. We have no further obligations under the plan beyond our monthly contributions.

We also provide a superannuation scheme for India-based employees who earn more than Rs. 6,500 per month. We make monthly contributions to the plan equal to 10% of the employee's basic monthly salary (27% for employees at general manager and higher level). We have no further obligations under the plan beyond our monthly contributions. For this purpose we have taken a group superannuation policy with the Life Insurance Corporation of India. The policy provides for the payment of an annuity on the retirement, resignation or death of the employee. The amount of the lump sum is based on the employee's individual contribution with the Life Insurance Corporation of India.

In accordance with Indian law, we also provide our India-based employees with a gratuity consisting of a defined contribution retirement plan covering all eligible employees. For this purpose, we have taken a group gratuity policy with the Life Insurance Corporation of India. The policy provides for a lump sum payment to long-term employees at retirement or upon termination of employment due to resignation, death or disability. The amount of the lump sum is based on the employee's basic salary and years of employment.

Our employees based in other jurisdictions, such as Denmark, the Netherlands, Germany, Australia and the United States, are provided such benefits as are required by law in each such jurisdiction.

Employee Insurance

We provide all our employees with group personal accident insurance and group life insurance. We also provide medical insurance coverage for employees at manager level and above, including their direct dependents, which includes hospitalisation benefits. We have also taken "key man" insurance for two of our directors and for two directors of our subsidiary companies. See the section entitled "Our Management" on page 98 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Socio-Civic Activities

We have always emphasized providing services to the communities in which we operate, with a strong focus on healthcare. To improve the living conditions of the people in the areas surrounding wind farms we have developed with our Associate Companies, we have set up dispensaries where free treatment and medication is offered to our employees and to the local population. We offer health education programs and social services, such as family planning programs and personal hygiene and health education programs. We also organize regular dental check up camps, blood donation camps and vaccination drives in these areas.

Real Estate and Real Property

Our corporate headquarters is located at the Godrej Millennium, 5th Floor, 9, Koregaon Park Road, Pune 411 001. Our manufacturing facilities are located at Diu, Daman and Pondicherry.

We have nine properties located across India that we use for the purpose of our factories / units, out of which five are owned by us and four are leased. There are nine properties located across India that we use as office premises, of which eight are owned by us and one is leased. Further, we have eleven leased international offices across the world and one that we own. Additionally, we have leased 16 properties across India for the purposes of windfarms and we have leased approximately 54 properties across India for the purpose of guesthouses and / or offices.

Safety, Health and Environmental Regulation and Initiatives

We are subject to extensive, evolving and increasingly stringent safety, health and environmental laws and regulations governing our manufacturing processes and facilities. Such laws and regulations address, among other things, air emissions (particularly volatile organic compounds), wastewater discharges, the generation, handling, storage, transportation, treatment and disposal of chemicals, materials and waste, workplace conditions and employee exposure to hazardous substances. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, operating costs to comply with such laws and regulations. In addition, we have made and expect to make capital expenditures on an ongoing basis to comply with safety, health and environmental laws and regulations. While we believe we are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, the discharge of our raw materials that are chemical in nature or of other hazardous substances or other pollutants into the air, soil or water may nevertheless give rise to liabilities to the Government of India or the relevant State Governments and Union Territories where our manufacturing facilities are located. In addition, we may be required to incur costs to remedy the damage caused by such discharges or pay fines or other penalties for non-compliance.

Further, the adoption of new safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, new interpretations of existing laws, increased governmental enforcement of environmental laws or other developments in the future may require that we make additional capital expenditures or incur additional operating expenses in order to maintain our current operations, curtail our manufacturing activities or take other actions that could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flow. Safety, health and environmental laws and regulations in India, in particular, have been increasing in stringency and it is possible that they will become significantly more stringent in the future. The measures we implement in order to comply with these new laws and regulations may not be deemed sufficient by governmental authorities or our compliance costs may significantly exceed current estimates. If we fail to meet environmental requirements, we may also be subject to administrative, civil and criminal proceedings by governmental authorities, as well as civil proceedings by environmental groups and other individuals, which could result in substantial fines and penalties against us as well as orders that could limit or halt our operations. See "Risk Factors — Compliance with, and changes in, safety, health and environmental laws and regulations may adversely affect our results of operations and our financial condition."

To help maintain the health and safety of our employees, we provide employees at our facilities with periodic safety check-ups, safety equipment and continually update and distribute safety manuals. While minor accidents occur from time to time, no accidents which are reportable under Indian regulations have occurred since our incorporation.

Our research and development team at SEG is currently engaged in developing higher capacity, direct drive WTGs. SEG is also involved in customising the various WTG components to suit the Indian climate. For example, the entire electronic control circuits have been designed with higher thermal tolerances in order to cope with India's high ambient temperatures, while electrical and electronic systems have been upgraded to withstand surges and power fluctuations. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements with group companies – Agreements for technical consultancy" on page 94 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Suzlon Energy A/S (Denmark), or Suzlon Denmark, is our wholly-owned subsidiary that has been incorporated as our global headquarters for sales worldwide, except India, as Denmark is a recognized centre for the global wind energy business.

Suzlon Wind Energy Corporation (USA), or SWECO, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Suzlon Energy A/S that markets WTGs in the United States. During fiscal 2003 and 2004, SWECO supplied 24 WTGs with 22.80 MW capacity for a wind farm project in Minnesota that was developed by DanMar and Associates Inc. and subsequently acquired by two private investors. This was the first international order for our WTGs. SWECO has a wholly-owned subsidiary, Cannon Ball Wind Energy Park-I, LLC, which is not operating as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Sarjan Realities Limited, or SRL, is primarily engaged in acquiring land for wind farm projects. After we have conducted wind resource assessments and land surveys of sites suitable for development of wind farms, SRL, at our request, acquires land from owners either by way of purchase or lease. SRL then holds such land until a customer has executed a purchase order with us for supply of WTGs. Thereafter, SRL sells/leases/sub-leases portions of such land to such customers. Under the terms of an agreement for services between us and SRL, land acquired by SRL will be exclusively offered to our customers. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements with group companies – Agreement for use of land" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. SRL also operates two 0.35 MW WTGs in the state of Maharashtra.

Suzlon Developers Limited, or SDL, is primarily engaged in developing wind farm related infrastructure and project execution and management for our customers on the land acquired by SRL. The laying of foundations for WTG towers, the construction of the control rooms, transformers, evacuation facilities, electricals, approach roads, erection and commissioning of WTGs and all other functions relating to the construction and development of the relevant wind farm site are handled by SDL for our customers. See "History and Certain Corporate Matters – Agreements with group companies" on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Wind Energy and Wind Turbine Generators

Wind Energy

A wind turbine generator, or WTG, obtains its power input by converting the force of the wind into a torque (turning force) acting on the rotor blades. The amount of energy, which the wind transfers to the rotor blade depends on the density of the air, the rotor area and wind speed.

The following diagram illustrates how the kinetic energy from wind is converted to electricity:

The power generated by the WTG, usually at a voltage of 690 volts, is converted by a transformer to a “medium” voltage of 11 kV to 33kV – depending on the grid operator – and supplied into the grid. When several WTGs are operated together on a wind farm, the operator must ensure that turning on or stopping the WTGs does not cause electrical surges to be fed into the utility’s power grid, which could cause damage when the electricity reaches end-users.

Density of Air

The kinetic energy of a moving body is proportional to its mass (or weight). The kinetic energy in the wind thus depends on the density of the air, i.e. its mass per unit of volume. In other words, the “heavier” the air, the more energy is received by the turbine. Further, air is denser when it is cold than when it is warm. However, at higher altitudes, such as in mountainous regions, air pressure is lower and, as a result, the air is less dense.

Rotor Area

The rotor area determines how much energy a WTG is able to harvest from the wind. Since the rotor area increases with the square of the rotor diameter, a WTG of a given size will receive four times as much energy as a WTG half its size.

Wind Speed

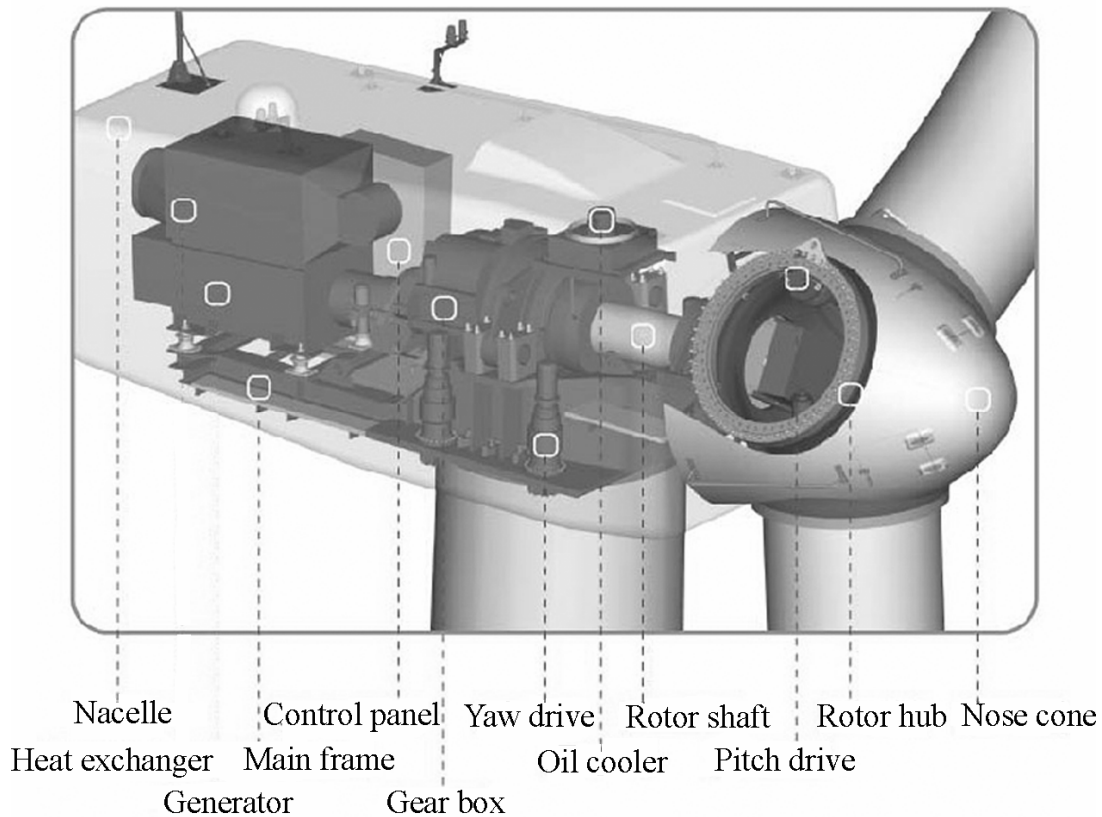

Wind speed is extremely important as the amount of energy a wind turbine can convert to electricity. The energy content of the wind varies with the cube (the third power) of the average wind speed, i.e., if wind speed is twice as fast it contains eight times as much energy.

Wind Turbine Generators

A WTG comprises a tower (or mast), a nacelle, which contains the essential mechanical and electrical parts, and a rotor blade. However, the generation of electricity by a state-of-the-art WTG is a result of the specific interplay of various highly developed and synchronised components.

The technical achievement in developing a WTG lies in harnessing the wind, the speed of which changes continually, and the power of which fluctuates depending on the air temperature, to generate a stable level of power regardless of wind conditions. The goal of the technical efforts and optimisation, therefore, is to generate the highest possible constant level of power output from all types of wind conditions. To achieve this: (a) the height of the WTG's hub must be optimized in order to balance the increased expenses associated with taller hubs with the higher wind speeds a taller hub can utilize; (b) the rotor blades must extract the maximum amount of energy from the wind and convert it into torque; (c) the drive train along with the gear and the generator must efficiently convert the captured energy to electricity with as little capacity lost as possible; (d) the power output of the WTG must be limitable to prevent damage to the turbine and adjustable to cope with the entire range of possible wind speeds; (e) the controlling electronics of variable-speed WTGs must control the interplay of all components and optimise the amount of energy captured from the wind; and (f) the WTG turbine and its individual components must have the strength to withstand the forces acting on it and to seek to achieve optimal operation for the longest possible time. In addition, for wind farms micro-siting the location of each WTG is also a key factor, as too far a space between WTGs will decrease the amount of wind intercepted while too close a spacing will lead to interference, resulting in downwind units being less productive.

The rotor blades

The rotor blades form the motor of the WTG, which uses the rotor blades to collect kinetic energy from the wind and to convert this energy into a rotation of the rotor. The area swept by the rotor blades, the aerodynamic profile of the rotor blades and the rotational speed of the rotor are the key factors determining the capacity of the WTG. In WTGs with stall-regulation, the rotor blades are fixed to the hub, whereas in WTGs with pitch-regulation, they are attached so that they can rotate along their longitudinal axis. Presently, WTGs are manufactured almost exclusively with three rotor blades.

Energy conversion via the drive train and generator

The rotor blades are attached to the hub, which in turn is connected to the rotor shaft. The rotor shaft transfers the revolutions of the rotor to a gear, which itself is linked to the generator of the WTG by way of a coupling. The unit comprising the rotor shaft, gear and generator is termed the drive train of the WTG.

The generator at the end of the drive train converts the revolutions of the rotor blades into electrical power. The WTG's gear serves to increase the rotational speed of the rotor to match the speed of the generator. Depending on the technical design, the generator can be operated either at a constant rotational speed (stall regulation) or at a variable speed.

Power regulation and limitation (stall and pitch regulation)

Depending on the technique employed to regulate and limit their capacity, WTGs are generally classified as stall-regulated or pitch-regulated.

Stall regulation

In a WTG with stall regulation, power regulation is achieved by causing the air flow to stall by means of the aerodynamic profile of the blade when a certain wind speed is exceeded, preventing the WTG from capturing an increasing amount of energy. In order to increase the energy yield in lower power classes, it is possible to design the generator in such a way that it can operate two different nominal rotational speeds in order to generate power more efficiently at various wind speeds.

Stall-regulated WTGs are braked through the front 1.5m to 3m of the relevant rotor blade which can be rotated around its longitudinal axis. This is achieved through a hydraulic mechanism, which can turn the blade tip “out of the wind”, acting as a type of aerodynamic brake similar to the landing flaps of an airplane. The brakes in every WTG serve as emergency brakes and – similarly to the hand brake in a car – to immobilise and secure the mechanical components.

Pitch regulation

In a WTG with pitch regulation, power regulation is achieved by mounting the rotor blades on the hub so that they can be rotated around their longitudinal axis, in order to control their aerodynamic properties and thus their capacity to capture energy according to the wind conditions. When wind speeds (and thus the wind’s energy content) are low, the rotor blades can be turned “into the wind” so that their angle of attack is maximized and, when a strong air flow creates too much energy, they can be turned out of the wind. Pitch-regulated WTGs are braked by allowing the rotor blades to flap like flags in the wind.

In addition, the nominal rotation speed of the generator in WTGs with pitch regulation can be adjusted to the prevailing wind conditions. These WTGs are therefore also described as variable-speed WTGs. In these units, an inverter is installed between the generator and the power grid, which enables the generator to generate electricity at different frequencies.

The electronic controls in variable-speed wind turbines

In variable-speed WTGs with pitch regulation, the electronic controls are the “brain” of the WTG and adjust the angle of incidence of the rotor blades with the generator to keep them working smoothly together. The electronic controls measure the generator’s power output and, through the pitch regulation, adjust the angle of incidence of the rotor blades accordingly. If the generator’s power output appears to be dropping, the rotor blades are turned slightly more into the wind, but if the generator’s power output exceeds a pre-defined maximum limit, the electronic controls cause the pitch regulation system to turn the rotor blades out of the wind.

The use of pitch regulation and the related control options ensures that the wind turbine manufactures the maximum possible energy output from the wind in all wind conditions, taking into account not only variable wind speeds, but also the energy density of the wind. The colder the air, i.e. the denser the air surrounding the WTG, the higher the energy density. Consequently, cold wind blowing at the same speed as a warm wind carries more kinetic energy than warm wind. In order to obtain optimal energy output, the angle of incidence of the rotor blades can be adjusted as necessary. The advantages inherent in this method for the optimisation of output, in turbines with a capacity of approximately 1.5 MW or more or in regions with particularly difficult wind conditions, outweigh the substantial additional costs of pitch regulated systems.

Other wind turbine components

Another component, the manufacture of which we are now developing expertise in through our 75%-owned subsidiary Suzlon Structures, is the support system, i.e. the tower of the WTG. Strong forces act on the mast over the entire life of the WTG; the nacelle of our largest model, the 2.0 MW S.88, weighs approximately 67 tonnes, and its rotor blades weigh approximately 30 tonnes. The tower has to withstand these forces and provide a secure foundation to the nacelle and the rotor without swaying due to changes in wind force, as this would result in the destruction of the WTG.

REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

Introduction

The wind power programme in India was initiated towards the end of the Sixth Plan in 1983-84. India is perhaps the only country in the world to have an exclusive Ministry for Non-Conventional Energy Sources (“MNES”). In 1980, CASE (Commission on Alternative Sources of Energy) was set up to look into feasibility of tapping into sources of renewable energy. In 1982, a separate Department of Non-Conventional Energy Sources (“DNES”) was created under the aegis of Ministry of Energy for promoting activities relating to development, trial and induction of variety of renewable energy technologies for use in different sectors. In 1992 the MNES started functioning as a separate Ministry to develop all areas of renewable energy. Policy guidelines were issued by the MNES to all the States during the mid Nineties with a view to promote commercial development and private investment in this sector. The guidelines pertain to areas such as provision of facilities for wheeling, banking, third party sale, and buy-back of electricity. Nine states have introduced renewable energy policies following the MNES’s Guidelines in the country.

MNES

The mandate of MNES includes research, development, commercialisation and deployment of renewable energy systems / devices for various applications in rural, urban, industrial and commercial sector.

In order to ensure quality of wind farm projects and equipments, the MNES introduced the “Guidelines for wind power projects” (“MNES Guidelines”) in July 1995 for the benefit of SEBs, manufacturers, developers and end-users of energy to ensure proper and orderly growth of the wind power sector. The MNES Guidelines are periodically updated and issued. The MNES Guidelines, inter-alia, make provision for proper planning, siting, selection of quality equipment, implementation and performance monitoring of wind power projects. The MNES Guidelines seek to create awareness in various stakeholders about planned development and implementation of wind power projects.

In the 1987, MNES established the “Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency Limited” (IREDA), a financial institution to complement the role of MNES and make available finance to renewable energy projects. IREDA functions under administrative control of MNES. IREDA is involved in extending financial assistance and related services to promote deployment of renewable energy systems in India.

In addition, MNES has established various specialised technical institutions to carry out its mandate. In relation to the wind energy sector, the “Centre of Wind Energy Technology (C-WET) at Chennai is the major specialised technical institution, inter alia looking into technology development, testing and certification. In addition, it has also been playing vital role in the wind resource assessment programme of the country.

Manufacture of wind turbine generators and setting up of wind farms

We are required to obtain all generic approvals for setting up a manufacturing facility in India like any other manufacturing facility in India. In addition, renewable energy generated product manufacturer are required to be registered with MNES as an approved manufacturer of WTG.

The MNES Guidelines set out the conditions that are required to be met for establishing wind farms and manufacturing and supplying equipment for wind power projects. These conditions include submission of detailed project reports, approval of sites for wind power installations, type certification by independent testing and certification agencies (either C-WET or International certification agency) to ensure quality of the WTGs manufactured. Further, it is also stipulated that the manufacturing facilities should obtain third party certification from DNV or Lloyds in relation to either product inspection or the ISO 9000 series of standards for internal quality control in manufacture (normally ISO 9001 or 9002) and for field installations. In addition, manufacturers and developers are also required to provide their technical capability and infrastructure.

For testing and certification, C-WET has evolved a Type Approval Provisional Scheme 2000 (TAPS - 2000) for India, which is in line with International Certification Schemes for wind turbines. In May 1999, MNES removed the requirement of certification by foreign agency and allowed the manufacturers to offer

WTG on self-certification basis. Under the self-certification scheme, the manufacturer is required to certify on its own about the quality and performance of WTG supplied by it. This self-certification scheme has been extended from time to time and the current scheme is effective till September 2005.

Please see the section titled “Statement of Tax Benefits” on page 41 for various tax benefits available to manufacturers of WTGs.

Infrastructure development for wind power projects

Land

The land used for setting up wind power projects may be private land, revenue land (Government owned) or forest land. Private lands are purchased directly from the owners and in the event such land is agricultural land, such land is converted into non-agricultural land, if so required by the Government.

In case of land owned by the Government, it is made available by the respective state governments on long-term lease or out right sale basis as per the prevailing policies of the concerned State Government. Certain state Governments like, Gujarat and Rajasthan has special policies for allotment of Revenue lands for wind power projects.

In Rajasthan, for example, allotment of land is carried out only after an application is submitted for the same to the state nodal agency, Rajasthan Renewable Energy Corporation Limited (RRECL). The evaluation of the application for allotment of land is done by an empowered committee constituted by the state government. This application is evaluated on grounds such as amount of land already allotted to the particular developer, micro-siting drawing of proposed land, likely date of commissioning of the project on the land applied for. The RRECL recommends allotment and on basis of the report submitted by the local tehsildar and other local officials, the district revenue authorities makes the allotment.

The government of Gujarat has announced a special policy for allotment of revenue land for the purposes of setting up wind farm projects. Under the said policy, a maximum of one hectare of land per WTG is allotted to the applicants by the district revenue authorities on the basis on applications made in accordance with the said policy. The said land is allotted on long-term basis generally for a period of twenty years at a fixed rent of Rs. 10,000 per annum per hectare.

In case of forest land, the Ministry of Environment and Forest has announced a special policy in November 2003, which is updated from time to time, which elaborates the procedures and guidelines for diversion of the forest lands under the Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980 for the purpose of establishing wind power projects. The said guidelines, inter alia, provide for the following:

- Areas like national parks and sanctuaries, areas of outstanding natural beauty, natural heritage site, sites of archaeological importance and sites of special and scientific interests and other important landscapes cannot be considered for wind power projects;
- Wind power projects are required to be located at a safe distance (1 km. or more) from these sites;
- Distance from the industrial coasts is required to be a minimum of 3.5 km;
- Specific guidelines in order to protect the natural habitats of birds and animals are required to be observed;
- To ensure optimal use of forest land, it has been stipulated that WTGs of capacity of at least 1 MW should be allowed as a matter of policy; and
- NOC from local bodies is also mandatorily required.

Evacuation

In order to evacuate the power generated by the wind power project, creation of proper evacuation facilities in form of Internal lines, external high voltage lines and substations becomes essential. These infrastructure are created either by manufacturer or developer on case-to-case basis with a proper permission and payment of requisite fees by and to SEB/ state nodal agencies.

Other clearances

Depending upon the location of the wind power project, we require to take additional permissions/authorizations. For example additional permissions may be required in the event that a wind power project is being set up close to an air force base.

Wind power generation

Under the Electricity Act 2003, which repealed all the earlier enactment pertaining to this sector, the activity of generation of the power does not require any license or permission. Persons engaged in the generation of electricity from wind power are required to register the project being undertaken with State Nodal Agency and obtain permission for inter-grid connectivity from the utility.

The electricity generated from the wind power project can be used for captive consumption, sale to utility or for transaction under open access as per the prevailing state policy as well as regulatory orders, if any. Various states have announced administrative policies relating to wheeling, banking and buy-back of power. The summary of the policies issued by seven states is given below:

Further, the Electricity Act, 2003 also mandates that all regulatory commissions should procure certain percentage of power generation from renewable energy sources by all distribution companies. In line with the same;

- the Maharashtra Electricity Regulatory Commission has stipulated that 750 MW of supply of electricity shall be sourced from wind power by 2007, the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission has stipulated a minimum of 5% and a maximum of 10% and the Madhya Pradesh Electricity Regulatory Commission has stipulated 0.7% from wind power by 2007.

As far as the tariff and wheeling charges are concerned, it is stipulated that they should be decided by respective regulatory commissions as provided under the Electricity Regulatory Commissions Act, 1998.

Direct Taxes

Under the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Rules made thereunder, specific concessions have been made available to non-conventional energy sector, including wind energy.

- Accelerated 80% depreciation has been provided on specified renewable energy based devices/projects including wind mill and devices that run on wind mills.
- Income earned by way of dividends, interest or long term capital gains by industrial undertakings set up in any part of India for the generation or generation and distribution of power at any time during the period beginning on the April 1, 1993 and ending on the March 31, 2006, is also exempt from tax.
- Section 80-IA of the Income Tax Act, 1961 provides for deduction from the total income of an assessee, of profits from an undertaking set up in any part of India for the generation or generation and distribution of power, which begins to generate power during the period April 1, 1993 to March 31, 2006. This deduction is subject to payment of MAT,

HISTORY AND CERTAIN CORPORATE MATTERS

Our History

The Company was incorporated in 1995 by Tulsi Tanti. Tulsi Tanti was primarily in the textile business and was introduced to wind energy through a wind power project that he had commissioned for his textile factory. The first subscribers to the Memorandum were the family members and friends of Tulsi Tanti.

The Company entered into a technical collaboration agreement in 1995 with a German company, Sudwind GmbH Windkraftanlagen to source the latest technology for the production of WTGs in India. Sudwind GmbH Windkraftanlagen was subsequently taken over by Sudwind Energiesysteme GmbH (“Sudwind”). The parties entered into a fresh agreement dated September 30, 1996, under which Sudwind proposed to share technical knowhow relating to 0.27 MW, 0.30 MW, 0.35 MW, 0.60 MW and 0.75 MW WTGs in consideration for royalty to be paid on the basis of each WTG sold over the course of five years from the date of this agreement.

The Company obtained the official non-exclusive, non-transferable license for the manufacturing, marketing, dealing and servicing of APX-60 type blades from the trustee of Aerpac B.V upon its liquidation, for consideration of Euro 200,000 vide an agreement that was entered into between the trustee of Aerpac B.V and the Company dated June 4, 2001. This license is valid for an indefinite period. The Company entered into an agreement dated April 10, 2001 with Enron Wind Rotor Production B.V for the acquisition of the moulds and the production line and technical support and assistance for the production of the rotor blade type APX 60-P in India for total consideration of Euro 500,000. Enron has granted these rights for the manufacturing, marketing and dealing with the products for an indefinite period.

The Company introduced the concept of total solutions wherein, in addition to the supplies of equipments, the client is offered project execution work comprising land acquisition, site development, erection and commissioning, foundation and other civil work and O&M services. These services are offered in conjunction with the Associate Companies.

SWSL, a subsidiary of the Company, was incorporated in 1998 with the objective of providing O&M for wind power projects set up by the Company. The Company has also set up technological development centres in Germany and The Netherlands through wholly owned subsidiaries. SEG, incorporated in 2001 and earlier known as AX 215 Verwaltungsgesellschaft mbH became a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company in 2002. AERT, a wholly owned subsidiary of AERH, which in turn is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, was incorporated in 2001 to engage in the development of technology for rotor blades, a key component of WTGs.

Further, Suzlon Energy A/S, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company was incorporated in August, 2004 to supervise the international marketing activities of the Company. It is proposed that the entire non-India marketing activities of the Company shall be coordinated through Suzlon Energy A/S. SWECO, now a wholly owned subsidiary of the Suzlon Energy A/S, was incorporated in 2001 to market, the WTGs manufactured by the Company in U.S.A. Further, Suzlon Energy A/S has another wholly owned subsidiary, Suzlon Energy Australia Pty Limited, which was incorporated in 2004 to access the wind energy market in Australia. Suzlon Energy B.V. earlier known as AE-Rotor B.V., The Netherlands, a wholly owned subsidiary of AERH, which is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, was incorporated in 2001 to market the rotor blades manufactured by the Company.

Cannon Ball Wind Energy Park-I, LLC (“Cannon Ball”) was incorporated as a limited liability company in July, 2002 for the purpose of setting up a wind power project in North Dakota, USA. Cannon Ball is a wholly owned subsidiary of SWECO which is a subsidiary of Suzlon Energy A/S. Further, a representative office of the Company was also set up in China in 2003 to explore the Chinese market.

The Articles of the Company were amended by way of a resolution passed at its EGM on June 16, 2005. The said amendment changed the definition of 'promoters' as provided in the Articles to include only Tulsi Tanti as a 'promoter'. Prior to this amendment, the definition provided that 'promoters' shall mean Tanti Family, Parmar family and Suzlon Capital Limited.

Transfer of Equity Shares of Chryscapital

Chryscapital transferred 4,610,000 and 2,580,000 Equity Shares held by it to Government of Singapore Investment Corporation Pte Ltd entities on July 6, 2005 and July 11, 2005 at a price of Rs. 365.18 per Equity Share.

Joint Ventures

Suzlon Structures

Tulsi Tanti had executed a memorandum of understanding with Kalpesh Kalthia dated June 1, 2004 for setting up a unit in joint venture with the Kalthia group for the manufacture of tubular structures and towers to meet the requirements of the Company. In pursuance of this memorandum of understanding, Suzlon Structures was incorporated in 2004. This memorandum of understanding was superseded by a new memorandum of understanding dated January 20, 2005 between the Company and Kalpesh Kalthia ("Kalthia MoU"). In terms of the Kalthia MoU, the Company is required to hold 75% of the equity and preference share capital of Suzlon Structures while the balance is required to be held by the Kalthia Group. It is stipulated that in the event that either of the two groups fail to bring in the required funds for the capitalisation of this company, then the other group can subscribe to such additional percentage of equity capital. There has been no formal shareholder agreement or joint venture agreement executed pursuant to the Kalthia MoU. Under the Kalthia MoU, while there is no restriction on transfer of shares within the respective groups, the parties are prohibited from transferring their shares to any third party. It is provided that the two groups shall have the right to acquire further equity and preference shares in same proportion from each other at the end of each financial year on the basis of the valuation as provided in the Kalthia MoU. Further, it is required that the holding of the Company shall not fall below 51% till the entire debt of Suzlon Structures is repaid. In the event that the holding of the Company falls below 50%, a separate agreement shall be required to be entered into to ensure better control mechanism.

The Kalthia MoU provides that the day-to-day operations of Suzlon Structures is the responsibility of the Kalthia Group, while the overall control vests with the Company. Further the Company shall source its tubular tower requirements for the states of Gujarat, Rajasthan and Maharashtra and if cost effective, for the states of Andhra Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh and Karnataka from Suzlon Structures and Suzlon Structures in turn, shall give priority to the orders placed by the Company. It has been agreed that either group shall not enter into joint venture with any third party for similar products. Further it has been agreed that the parties herein shall arrange loans to the tune of 70% of the project costs and that the Company shall furnish a corporate guarantee and the Kalthia Group shall furnish a personal guarantee of one of their directors to secure such debt.

Suzlon Generators

The Company has executed a joint venture agreement ("JVA") with Elin dated May 7, 2004 for setting up a unit for the development, manufacture and supply of generators to the Company with the objective of reducing costs of imports and achieve backward integration, pursuant to which, Suzlon Generators has been set up. The JVA provides that the Company and Elin shall hold 75% and 25% respectively, of equity share capital of the company so formed. Further, under the JVA, the parties are prohibited from transferring their shareholding unless they have offered the same to the other party at a price determined by an independent valuer appointed by the parties. Under the JVA, Elin is required to share technical information and raw material requirements to facilitate identification of the supplier and vendors in India. It is provided that the intellectual property and design rights developed by the Suzlon Generators shall vest with the Company. However, Suzlon Generators is entitled to use these rights exclusively for the manufacture of permanent magnet generators. The JVA provides that the Company shall endeavour to purchase the entire production of Suzlon Generators and in the event that it fails to do so, it shall work together with Elin to develop mechanisms for utilizing the surplus. The parties have agreed not to set up a competitive unit in Asia during the subsistence of this JVA.

Promise vis-à-vis performance

Issue Details	Issue size (Rs. / million)	Time of Issue
Right Issue of 3,325,000 equity share of Rs. 10/- each for cash at a premium of Rs. 5/- per shares.	49.875	Issue open date: June 30, 1997 Issue close date: July 30, 1997 Date of completion of dispatch of the share certificates: September, 1997

SNS Textiles Ltd. made the issue with the object to finance the cost of diversification into spinning of polyester viscose yarn and expansion of its existing furnishing fabrics capacity and to meeting the margin for working capital requirements. The said objectives were achieved. The projections of sales and profitability were made as follows:-

(In Rupees million)
Financial Year	Projected sales	Actual sales	Variance (%)	Projected Net Profit	Actual Net Profit	Variance (%)
1996-97	540.70	534.70	-1.11%	15.90	11.20	-29.56%
1997-98	812.10	520.90	-35.86%	43.40	4.60	-89.40%
1998-99	849.60	401.30	-52.77%	57.70	(68.20)	-218.20%

The turnover and net profit of the company showed a declining trend. The factors attributable are as under:

- Decrease in realization price of the products of the company.
- Downturn in general economic conditions.
- Increase in the power cost due to upward revision of electricity charges by state owned utilities
- High interest rates on loans taken by the company adversely impacted the company's profitability.
- Increase in major raw material prices i.e. polyester staple fibre and viscose staple fibre also adversely impacted the company's profitability.
- Delay in implementation of spinning project and furnishing fabrics project resulted in cost overruns and the commencement of repayment obligations to banks/financial institutions.

Owing to the adverse factors mentioned above, SNS Textiles became a sick company having eroded its net worth and registered with the Board of Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (Bearing Regd. no. 316/2001 dated July 20, 2001). As of March 31, 2005 the net worth of the company has become positive by Rs. 5.28 million. The company has applied for withdrawal from BIFR proceedings.

FOR RESTATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(I) NOTES ON ADJUSTMENTS

1. Changes in Accounting Policies and Estimates

a) Depreciation

For and upto the year ended March 31, 2000, the Company had been providing for depreciation on its fixed assets on the straight line method ('SLM') based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956 ('the Act'). From April 1, 2000, the Company had changed the method of depreciation from SLM to written down value ('WDV') method based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Act. The additional impact due to the change in the method of depreciation from SLM to WDV, which was charged to the profit and loss account of the year ended March 31, 2001 has been adjusted to the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2000.

For and upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the company had been providing depreciation on its fixed assets on WDV method based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV of the Act. Effective April 1, 2004, the company revised its depreciation policy to depreciate its fixed assets based on the estimated useful lives of the fixed assets or at the WDV rates specified in Schedule XIV to the Act, whichever is higher.

Accordingly, the depreciation on fixed assets has been recomputed based on the revised estimated useful lives for the years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. Further, the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2000 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of changes pertaining to prior years till March 31, 2000.

b) Provision for Generation Guarantee

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, generation guarantee expense was provided for at a predetermined rate for each Wind Turbine Generator ('WTG'). During the year ended March 31, 2005, the company changed its basis for providing power generation guarantee to an amount determined after considering various technical factors like wind velocity, grid availability, plant load factor, load shedding, historical data etc.

Accordingly, the provision for generation guarantee has been recomputed for the years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005, using the same basis for computing generation guarantee provision as applied in the current year. Further, the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2000 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of change pertaining to prior years till March 31, 2000.

c) Diminution in the value of investments

Upto the year ended March 31, 2001, the Company valued long-term investments at cost without making a provision for diminution, other than temporary, in the carrying value of the long-term investments. With effect from year ended March 31, 2002, the company changed its accounting policy, to comply with Accounting Standard-13 ('AS-13') 'Accounting for Investments' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI') to provide for diminution, other than temporary, in the carrying value of its long-term investments.

Accordingly the effect of diminutions, other than temporary, in the carrying value of long-term investments has been recomputed and restated for the year ended March 31, 2001.

d) Dividend Income from subsidiaries

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the Company accounted for dividend income on receipt basis. During the year March 31, 2005, the company has changed its policy to recognize dividend when the right to receive payment is established. Further, the dividend income from subsidiary companies declared after the year end is accounted during the year. Accordingly, the dividend income from subsidiary companies has been restated for prior years.

e) Deferred Tax

The company adopted Accounting Standard 22, ('AS-22') 'Accounting for taxes on Income' issued by the ICAI for the first time in preparing the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003.

For the purpose of this statement, AS-22 has been applied for the years ended March 31, 2001 and 2002 as if it was applicable since then. Accordingly, the deferred tax asset/liability has been recomputed in the respective years of origination, considering the adjustment on account of changes in the accounting policy and other changes with the corresponding effect to the statement of profits and losses, as restated.

Further, the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2000 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of deferred tax asset/liability as on that date and accordingly the amount earlier adjusted to the opening general reserves for the year ended March 31, 2003, on account of first-time application of the standard has been reversed appropriately in the summary statement of profits and losses, as restated, and summary statement of assets and liabilities, as restated.

2. Other Adjustments

a) Prior Period Items

In the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, the company had classified certain items of income/expense as prior period. For the purpose of this statement, the said income/expenses have been appropriately adjusted in the respective years.

3. Current Tax impact of adjustments

Current tax impact of adjustments relate to tax effect on adjustments made for restatement of the financial statements. The company had filed Income-tax returns, wherein the tax liability was computed as per the provisions of Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') for the years ending on March 31, 2004, 2003, 2002 & 2001. Hence, the tax effects have been recomputed, at the MAT rate applicable to these respective years for adjustments which have altered the book profits for those years.

The effect of adjustments relating to financial years ending prior to March 31, 2001 has been adjusted against the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2000.

4. Material Regroupings

a) Cost of goods sold

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, '(increase)/decrease in stocks' was classified under 'Income' and 'Consumption of raw material' was disclosed as a separate line item in the profit and loss account. During the current year ended March 31, 2005, the company has changed its classification and accordingly 'Consumption of raw material' and '(increase)/decrease in stocks' has now been grouped under 'Cost of Goods sold'. The classification in the summary statement of profits and losses as restated, for the previous years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004 has been regrouped and disclosed accordingly.

b) Operating and other expenses

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, Manufacturing and Operating Expenses and Selling and Administrative Expenses were disclosed as separate line items in the Profit and Loss Account. During the current year ended March 31, 2005 the Company has combined these expenses under Operating and Other Expenses. The classification in the summary statement of profits and losses as restated, for the previous years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004 has been regrouped and disclosed accordingly.

c) Netting off of Advance tax and Provision for taxation

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, advance tax paid was grouped under Loans and Advances and the corresponding provision for tax was shown under Provisions. During the current year ended March 31, 2005, the Company has netted off the advance tax paid against the provision and the net impact is disclosed either under Provisions or under Loans and Advances. The classification in the restated summary statement of assets and liabilities, for the previous years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004 has been regrouped and disclosed accordingly.

d) Capital Work-in-Progress

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, Capital Advances were grouped under Advances Recoverable In Cash Or Kind Or For Value To Be Received and hence classified as part of Loans and Advances. During the current year ended March 31, 2005, these have been regrouped under Capital Work-in-Progress. The classification in the restated summary statement of assets and liabilities, for the previous years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004 has been regrouped and disclosed accordingly.

5. Non-Adjustment items

a) Leave encashment

Upto the year ended March 31, 2002 the Company accounted for leave encashment as and when claimed by the employees. Further, for the year ended March 31, 2003 the company provided for leave encashment on the basis of accumulated leave, lying to the credit of the employees as at the end of the year.

During the year ended March 31, 2004, the company changed the basis of providing leave encashment to an amount determined on actuarial valuation basis from the year ended March 31, 2004, as prescribed by Accounting Standard-15 ('AS-15') 'Accounting for Retirement benefits in the statement of employers' issued by the ICAI. No adjustment has been made for earlier periods since in the opinion of the Company the impact of the same on the summary statement of profits and losses, as restated is not material.

b) Inventory Valuation

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the company did not include freight inward and insurance costs in the valuation of inventory.

The company modified the basis from the year ended March 31, 2005, to bring the same in line with Accounting Standard on 'Valuation of Inventories' ('AS-2'). No adjustments have been made in the financial statements for the earlier years in the absence of available information. However, in the opinion of the Company the impact of the same on the summary statement of profits and losses, as restated is not material.

c) Short/excess provision for Income Tax

The profit and loss account of certain years include amounts paid/provided for or refunded, in respect of shortfall/excess income-tax arising out of assessments, appeals etc. Since in the opinion of the Company, the impact of the same is not material, no adjustments have been made in respect of this item.

(II) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention to comply in all material respects, with the mandatory accounting standards issued by The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'), generally accepted accounting principles, and provisions of Companies Act, 1956 ('the Act') following mercantile system of accounting as adopted consistently by the Company. Accounting policies not referred to otherwise, are consistent with generally accepted accounting principles.

b) Use of Estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with the generally accepted accounting principles requires estimates and assumptions to be made that may affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimated.

c) Revenue Recognition

Sale of goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognised when significant risks and rewards in respect of ownership of the goods are transferred to the customer, as per the terms of the respective sales order.

Interest

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable. In case of interest charged to customers, interest is accounted for on availability of documentary evidence that the customer has accepted the liability.

Dividend

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the right to receive payment is established. Dividend from subsidiary companies declared after the year end, is accounted during the year as required by Schedule VI to the Companies Act, 1956.

d) Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes all expenditure necessary to bring the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Own manufactured assets are capitalised inclusive of all direct costs and attributable overheads. Capital Work in Progress comprises of advances paid to acquire fixed assets and the cost of fixed assets that are not yet ready for their intended use as at the balance sheet date. In the case of new undertaking, pre-operative expenses are capitalised upon the commencement of commercial production.

Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for their acquisition. Cost of an internally generated asset comprises all expenditure that can be directly attributed, or allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis, to creating, producing and making the asset ready for its intended use.

The carrying amounts of the assets belonging to each cash generating unit ('CGU') are reviewed at each balance sheet date to assess whether they are recorded in excess of their recoverable amounts, and where carrying amounts exceed the recoverable amount of the assets' CGU, assets are written down to their recoverable amount. Further, assets held for disposal are stated at the lower of the net book value or the estimated net realisable value.

e) Depreciation/Amortization

Depreciation/Amortisation is provided on the written down value method ('WDV'), unless otherwise mentioned, pro-rata to the period of use of assets and is based on management's estimate of useful lives of the fixed assets or at rates specified in Schedule XIV to the Act, whichever is higher:

Type of asset	Rate
Leasehold land	Amortised over the period of lease
Office building	5%
Factory building	10%
Plant and machinery	13.91%
Moulds	13.91% or Useful life based on usage
Patterns	30% or Useful life based on usage
Wind research and measuring Equipment	50%
Computers and software	40%
Office equipment	13.91%
Furniture and fixture	18.10%
Motor car and Others	25.89%
Trailers	30%
Intangible Assets	Amortised on a straight line basis over a period of five years

f) Inventories

Inventories of raw materials, semi-finished goods, work in progress and finished goods are valued at the lower of the cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost is determined on a first-in-first-out basis.

The cost of work-in-progress, semi-finished goods and finished goods includes the cost of material, labour and manufacturing overheads.

Stock of land and land lease rights is valued at lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined based on the weighted average basis. Net realisable value is determined by management using technical estimates.

- g) Investments
Long Term Investments are carried at cost. However, provision is made to recognise a decline, other than temporary, in the value of long term investments.
Current investments are carried at lower of cost and fair value, determined on an individual basis.
- h) Foreign currency transactions
Transactions in foreign currencies are normally recorded at the average exchange rate prevailing in the month during which the transaction occurred. Foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing rate. Non-monetary items carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate that existed when the values were determined.
- Exchange differences arising as a result of the above are recognised as income or expense in the Profit and Loss Account, except in case of liabilities incurred for acquiring imported fixed assets, where the differences are adjusted to the carrying amount of such fixed assets in compliance with the Schedule VI of the Act.
- In case of forward contracts, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate, being the premium or discount, at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognized as income or expense over the life of the contract. Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the profit and loss account in the reporting period in which the rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract is recognised as income or as expense for the period.
- Foreign Operations
The financial statements of integral foreign operations are translated as if the transactions of the foreign operations have been those of the Company itself.
- i) Borrowing Costs
Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to revenue.
- j) Retirement and other employee benefits
Defined Contributions to provident fund and family pension fund are charged to the Profit and Loss Account on accrual basis and paid to the relevant authorities.
Liabilities with regard to gratuity are determined under Group Gratuity Scheme with Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) and the provision required is determined as per actuarial valuation carried out by LIC, as at the balance sheet date.
Contributions to Superannuation fund with LIC through its employees' trust are charged to the profit and loss account on an accrual basis.
The Company makes a provision in its books for unutilised leave lying to the credit of employees, subject to the maximum period of leave, based on actuarial valuation as at the balance sheet date.
- k) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets
A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.
Contingent Liabilities are disclosed by way of Notes to the accounts.
Contingent assets are not recognized.
- l) Income Tax
Tax expense for a year comprises of current tax and deferred tax. Current tax is measured after taking into consideration deductions and exemptions admissible under the provisions of The Income Tax Act, 1961.
Deferred tax reflects the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income for the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years. Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised.

Deferred tax resulting from timing differences which originate during the tax holiday period but reverse after tax holiday period is recognised in the year in which the timing differences originate using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

m) Lease Assets

Operating Leases:

Assets acquired as leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating lease. Lease rentals are charged off to the Profit and Loss Account as incurred.

Initial direct costs in respect of assets given on lease are expensed off in the year in which such costs are incurred.

n) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting preference dividends and attributable taxes) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for any bonus shares issued during the year and also after the balance sheet date but before the date the financial statements are approved by the Board of Directors.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for bonus shares as appropriate.

Notes :

- The ratios have been computed as below :

Earnings per share (Rs.)	$\frac{\text{Net profit as restated, attributable to equity shareholders}}{\text{Weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year/ Period}}$
Return on Net Worth (%)	$\frac{\text{Net profit after tax, as restated and after deducting dividend on Preference shares redeemable within 12 months from March 31, 2005}}{\text{Net worth less preference shares redeemable within 12 months from March 31, 2005}}$
Net Assets Value per Equity Share (Rs.)	$\frac{\text{Net worth less all preference capital}}{\text{Number of equity shares outstanding at the end of the year}}$
Total Debt/ Equity Ratio	$\frac{\text{Long term debt + Short term debt}}{\text{Equity share Capital + Preference Share Capital + Reserves and Surplus (Preference share capital excludes those preference shares redeemable within twelve months from March 31, 2005)}}$
Interest Coverage Ratio	$\frac{\text{Profit before interest and taxes ('PBIT')}}{\text{Interest expenses}}$
Debt Service Coverage Ratio	$\frac{\text{Profit after tax + Depreciation + Interest on Long Term Loan}}{\text{Interest on Long term Loan + Repayment of long term Loan}}$

Notes :

- Networth means Equity Share Capital + Preference Share Capital + Reserves and Surplus – Miscellaneous expenditure not written off or adjusted.
- The figures disclosed above are based on the standalone restated financial statements of Suzlon Energy Limited.
- Of the total equity capital of 86,922,900 equity shares, 57,948,600 equity shares were issued as bonus shares in the ratio of 2 equity shares of every 1 equity share held during the financial year 2004-05. Further, after the balance sheet date, on June 16, 2005, a further issue of 173,845,800 shares was made as bonus shares in the ratio of 2 equity shares for every 1 equity share held. These, as per the requirements of Accounting standard-20 'Earnings per share ('AS-20') issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'), have been considered in the computation of weighted average number of shares for computation of EPS.

5. As per the requirement of AS-20, issued by the ICAI, the corresponding figures relating to all previous reporting periods have been restated to give the effect of bonus shares. In respect of bonus shares on those equity shares which were issued during the year the weight of the bonus shares has been considered as outstanding from the date the consideration for the shares on which bonus shares issued was received. Since, these equity shares were not existing during the previous years no effect of restatement has been given for the bonus shares on these equity shares in the corresponding number of shares of the previous years. The position taken by the Company has also been supported by an independent opinion of an expert.
6. As per the terms of agreement with the preference shareholders holding 10,000,000 redeemable preference shares of Rs.100 each (referred to in Schedule O, Note 3b of the standalone financial statements of Suzlon Energy Limited), these preference shares, are to be compulsorily redeemed if an Initial Public Offering ('IPO') occurs before December 31, 2005. Since, the Company is in the process of filing its Offer Document with the Securities and Exchange Board of India ('SEBI'), management considers it reasonably certain that the IPO will occur before December 31, 2005 and hence the redeemable preference shares will be redeemed in full. Accordingly, no dilutive effect of these preference shares has been considered. In the event that the IPO does not occur before December 31, 2005, the Preference shareholders will be entitled to convert the Preference Shares at certain specified prices in the future. If the most favourable conversion price to the preference shareholders is considered, the diluted EPS for the current year would be Rs.14.05 per share.

Consolidated Financial Information as per audited consolidated financial statements

1. We have examined the attached restated summary statement of consolidated assets and liabilities of the Group as at March 31, 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005 and the attached restated summary statement of consolidated profits and losses for the years ended on those dates ('Summary Statements') [See Annexure I and II to this report] as prepared by the Company and approved by the Board of Directors. These profits have been arrived at after making such adjustments and regroupings as in our opinion are appropriate and more fully described in the notes on adjustments appearing in Annexure III to this report. The Summary Statements for the years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 are based on the consolidated financial statements of those years, which have been audited solely by SNK. Further, the impact of retrospective adjustments on account of changes in accounting policies and estimates, prior period items and regroupings in the years March 31, 2002, 2003, and 2004 have been verified by SNK, which SRB has relied upon for the purpose of this report. SRB has not carried out any audit tests or review procedures for those years since they did not perform the audit. The summary statements for the year ended March 31, 2005 is based on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2005, which have been jointly audited by SNK and SRB.

2. The consolidated financial information is based on the audited balance sheets and profit and loss accounts of the respective companies being consolidated. In respect of those companies where neither SNK nor SRB are the auditors, we have relied on the financial statements of the subsidiaries which have been reported upon by the respective auditors and which have been prepared under the relevant applicable Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ('GAAP') of the country where the subsidiary is registered. Adjustments have been made to realign the significant accounting policies of these subsidiaries to those of SEL which have been reviewed jointly by us for the year ended March 31, 2005. Further, where the reporting dates of the respective subsidiary is not the same as SEL, adjustments have been made for the effects of significant transactions or other events that have occurred between the reporting date of the subsidiary and the date of SEL's financial statements. For the year ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 these adjustments have been verified by SNK, which SRB has relied upon. For the year ended March 31, 2005, the statutory auditors of the respective companies have either audited or conducted a limited review of the significant transactions that have occurred between the reporting date of the subsidiary and the date of SEL's financial statements, on which we as joint auditors have placed reliance.

ANNEXURE III- NOTES ON ADJUSTMENTS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES FOR CONSOLIDATED RESTATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

PERTAINING TO PARENT COMPANY, SUZLON ENERGY LIMITED

Listed below are the adjustments which have been made in the restated summary statements of consolidated profits and losses and consolidated assets and liabilities, to the extent they pertain to the parent company, Suzlon Energy Limited. Adjustments, which get eliminated on consolidation, have been excluded from the list of adjustments given below.

1. Changes in Accounting Policies and Estimates

a) Depreciation

For and upto the year ended March 31, 2000, the Company had been providing for depreciation on its fixed assets on the straight line method ('SLM') based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956 ('the Act'). From April 1, 2000, the Company had changed the method of depreciation from SLM to written down value ('WDV') method based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Act. The additional impact arising due to the change in the method of depreciation from SLM to WDV, which was charged to the profit and loss account of the year ended March 31, 2001, has been adjusted to the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001.

For and upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the Company had been providing depreciation on its fixed assets on WDV method based on the rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Act. Effective April 1, 2004, the Company revised its depreciation policy to depreciate its fixed assets based on the estimated useful lives of the fixed assets or at the WDV rates specified in Schedule XIV to the Act, whichever is higher.

Accordingly, the depreciation on fixed assets has been recomputed based on the revised estimated useful lives for the years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. Further, the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of changes pertaining to prior years till March 31, 2001.

b) Provision for Generation Guarantees

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, generation guarantee expense was provided for at a predetermined rate for each Wind Turbine Generator ('WTG'). During the year ended March 31, 2005, the company changed its basis for providing power generation guarantee to an amount determined after considering various technical factors like wind velocity, grid availability, plant load factor, load shedding, historical data etc.

Accordingly, the provision for generation guarantee has been recomputed for the years ended March 31, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. Further, the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of change pertaining to prior years till March 31, 2001.

c) Diminution in the value of investments

Upto the year ended March 31, 2001, the Company valued long-term investments at cost without making a provision for diminution, other than temporary, in the carrying value of the long-term investments. With effect from year ended March 31, 2002, the company changed its accounting policy, to comply with Accounting Standard-13 ('AS-13') 'Accounting for Investments' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI') to provide for diminution, other than temporary, in the carrying value of its long-term investments.

Accordingly the effect of diminutions, other than temporary, in the carrying value of long-term investments has been recomputed and restated for the year ended March 31, 2001, which has been adjusted in the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001.

d) Deferred Tax

The Company adopted Accounting Standard 22, ('AS-22') 'Accounting for taxes on Income' issued by the ICAI for the first time in preparing the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003. For the purpose of this statement, AS-22 has been applied for the years ended March 31, 2001 and 2002 as if it was applicable since then. Accordingly, the deferred tax asset/liability has been recomputed in the respective years of origination, considering the adjustment on account of changes in the accounting policies and estimates and other changes with the corresponding effect to the summary statement of consolidated profits and losses, as restated.

The Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001 has been appropriately adjusted to reflect the impact of deferred tax asset/liability as on that date and accordingly the amount earlier adjusted to the opening reserves for the year ended March 31, 2003, on account of first-time application of the standard has been reversed appropriately in the summary statement of consolidated profits and losses, as restated and summary statement of consolidated assets and liabilities, as restated.

2. Other Adjustments

a) Prior Period Items

In the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, the company had classified certain items of income/expense as prior period. For the purpose of this statement, the said income/expenses have been appropriately adjusted in the respective years.

3. Current Tax impact of adjustments

Current tax impact of adjustments relate to tax effect on adjustments made for restatement of the financial statements. The company had filed Income-tax returns which computed the tax liability as per the provisions of Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') for the years ending on March 31, 2004, 2003, 2002 & 2001. Hence, the tax effect of adjustments which have altered the book profits for these years, have been recomputed, at the MAT rate applicable to these respective years.

The effect of adjustments relating to financial years upto March 31, 2001 has been adjusted against the Accumulated Profit and Loss balance as at April 1, 2001.

4. Material Regroupings

a) Cost of goods sold

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, '(increase)/decrease in stocks' was classified under 'Income' and 'Consumption of raw material' was disclosed as a separate line item in the profit and loss account. During the current year ended March 31, 2005, the company has changed its classification and accordingly 'Consumption of raw material' and '(increase)/decrease in stocks' has now been grouped under 'Cost of Goods sold'. The classification in the restated summary statement of consolidated profits and losses, for the previous years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 have been regrouped accordingly.

b) Operating and other expenses

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, 'Manufacturing and Operating Expenses' and 'Selling and Administrative Expenses' were disclosed as separate line items in the Profit and Loss Account. During the current year ended March 31, 2005 the Company has combined these expenses under 'Operating and Other Expenses'. The classification in the restated summary statement of consolidated profits and losses for the previous years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 have been regrouped accordingly.

c) Netting off of Advance tax and Provision for taxation

During the current year ended March 31, 2005, the Company has netted off the advance tax paid against the provision and the net impact is disclosed either under 'Provisions' or under 'Loans and Advances'. The classification in the restated summary statement of consolidated assets and liabilities, for the previous years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 have been regrouped accordingly.

d) Capital Work-in-Progress

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, Capital Advances were grouped under 'Advances Recoverable in Cash or Kind or for Value to be Received' and hence classified as part of Loans and Advances. During the current year ended March 31, 2005, these have been regrouped under 'Capital Work-in-Progress'. The classification in the restated summary statement of consolidated assets and liabilities, for the previous years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 have been regrouped accordingly.

5. Non-Adjustment items

Upto the year ended March 31, 2002 the Company accounted for leave encashment as and when claimed by the employees. Further, for the year March 31, 2003 the company provided for leave encashment on the basis of accumulated leave, lying to the credit of the employees at the end of the year.

During the year ended March 31, 2004, the company changed the basis of providing leave encashment to actuarial valuation basis, as prescribed by Accounting Standard-15 ('AS-15') 'Accounting for Retirement benefits in the statement of employers' issued by the ICAI. No adjustment has been made for earlier periods since in the opinion of the Company the impact of the same on the restated summary statements of consolidated profits and losses is not material.

b) Inventory Valuation

Upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the company did not include freight inward and insurance costs in the valuation of inventory. The company modified the basis from the year ended March 31, 2005, to bring the same in line with Accounting Standard-2 ('AS-2') on 'Valuation of Inventories'. No adjustments have been made in the financial statements for the earlier years in the absence of available information. However, in the opinion of the Company the impact of the same on the restated summary statements of consolidated profits and losses is not material.

c) Short/excess provision for Income-Tax

The profit and loss account of certain years includes amounts paid/provided for or refunded, in respect of shortfall/excess income-tax arising out of assessments, appeals etc. Since in the opinion of the Company, the impact of the same is not material, no adjustments have been made in respect of this item.

(II) NOTES ON ADJUSTMENTS IN CONSOLIDATED RESTATED SUMMARY STATEMENTS PERTAINING TO SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES

Listed below is the adjustment which has been made in the restated summary statements of consolidated profits and losses and consolidated assets and liabilities, to the extent they pertain to the subsidiaries. Adjustments, which get eliminated on consolidation, have been excluded from the list of adjustments given below.

1. Changes in Accounting Policies and Estimates

Valuation of Inventory of Foreign Subsidiaries

For and upto the year ended March 31, 2004, the inventories of foreign subsidiaries as at year end were converted using exchange rates, prevailing at year-end, as per the requirements of the then prevailing Accounting Standard – 11 'Accounting for the Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates' (AS-11) issued by the ICAI. Effective April 1, 2004, AS-11 has been revised, which now requires the inventories to be valued at rates prevailing on the date of transaction. Accordingly, the Company adopted the revised AS-11 for the first time in preparing the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2005. For the purpose of this statement, AS-11 (revised) has been applied for the years ended March 31, 2002, 2003 and 2004 as if it was applicable since then. Accordingly, the closing balance of inventory has been recomputed in the respective years, with the corresponding effect to the restated summary statement of consolidated profits and losses.

(III) BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND PRINCIPLES OF CONSOLIDATION

1. Basis Of Preparation Of Consolidated Financial Statements

The consolidated financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention, on an accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in India, to reflect the financial position of the Company and its subsidiaries.

2. Principles Of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements relate to Suzlon Energy Limited ('the Company') and its subsidiaries (together referred to as 'Suzlon'). The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the following basis:

- a) The financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after fully eliminating intra group balances and intra group transactions. The unrealised profits or losses resulting from the intra group transactions have been eliminated as per Accounting Standard 21 – Consolidated Financial Statements issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI').
- b) The excess of the cost to the Company of its investment in the subsidiaries over the Company's portion of equity on the acquisition date is recognised in the financial statements as Goodwill. The Company's portion of the equity in the subsidiaries at the date of acquisition is determined after realigning the material accounting policies of the subsidiaries to that of the parent and adjusting the charge/(reversal) on account of realignment to the accumulated reserves and surplus of the subsidiaries at the date of acquisition.
- c) The Consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and necessary adjustments required for deviations, if any, are made in the consolidated financial statements and are presented in the same manner as the Company's standalone financial statements.

(IV) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Use of Estimates

The presentation of Financial Statements in conformity with the generally accepted accounting principles requires estimates and assumptions to be made that may affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimated.

c) Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes all expenditure necessary to bring the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Own manufactured assets are capitalised inclusive of all direct costs and attributable overheads. Capital Work in Progress comprises of advances paid to acquire fixed assets and the cost of fixed assets that are not yet ready for their intended use as at the balance sheet date. In the case of new undertaking, pre-operative expenses are capitalised upon the commencement of commercial production.

The carrying amount of the assets belonging to each cash generating unit ('CGU') are reviewed at each balance sheet date to assess whether they are recorded in excess of their recoverable amounts, and where carrying amounts exceed the recoverable amount of the assets' CGU, assets are written down to their recoverable amount. Further, assets held for disposal are stated at the lower of the net book value or the estimated net realisable value.

d) Intangible AssetsResearch and Development Costs

Development cost incurred on an individual project is carried forward when its future recoverability can reasonably be regarded as assured.

Any expenditure carried forward is amortized over the period of expected future sales from the related project, not exceeding five years.

The carrying value of development costs is reviewed for impairment annually when the asset is not in use, and otherwise when events and changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable.

Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for their acquisition. Cost of an internally generated asset comprises all expenditure that can be directly attributed, or allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis, to creating, producing and making the asset ready for its intended use.

e) Depreciation/Amortization

Depreciation/Amortisation is provided on the written down value method ('WDV') unless otherwise mentioned, pro-rata to the period of use of assets and is based on management's estimate, , of useful lives of the fixed assets or at rates specified in Schedule XIV to the Companies Act 1956 ('the Act'), whichever is higher:

f) Inventories

Inventories of raw materials, semi-finished goods, work in progress and finished goods are valued at the lower of cost and estimated net realisable value. Cost is determined on a first-in-first-out basis.

The cost of work-in-progress, semi-finished goods and finished goods includes the cost of material, labour and manufacturing overheads.

Inventories of traded goods are stated at the lower of the cost and net realizable value.

Stock of land and land lease rights is valued at lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average basis. Net realisable value is determined by management using technical estimates.

g) Investments

Long Term Investments are carried at cost. However, provision is made to recognise a decline, other than temporary, in the value of long term investments.

Current investments are carried at lower of cost and fair value, determined on an individual basis.

h) Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are normally recorded at the average exchange rate prevailing in the month during which the transaction occurred. Outstanding balances of foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing rate.

Non-monetary items carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction; and non monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate that existed when the values were determined.

Exchange differences arising as a result of the above are recognised as income or expense in the Profit and Loss Account, except in case of liabilities incurred for acquiring imported fixed assets, where the differences are adjusted to the carrying amount of such fixed assets in compliance with the Schedule VI of the Act.

In case of forward contracts, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate, being the premium or discount, at the inception of a forward exchange contract is recognized as income or expense over the life of the contract. Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the profit and loss account in the reporting period in which the rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract is recognised as income or as expense for the period.

i) Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to revenue.

j) Retirement and other employee benefits

Defined Contributions to provident fund and family pension fund are charged to the Profit and Loss Account on accrual basis and paid to the relevant authorities.

Liabilities with regard to gratuity, where applicable, are determined under Group Gratuity Scheme with Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) and the provision required is determined as per actuarial valuation carried out by LIC, as at the balance sheet date.

Contributions to Superannuation fund with LIC through its employees' trust are charged to the profit and loss account on an accrual basis.

The provision in the books for leave lying to the credit of employees, subject to the maximum period of leave, are made on the basis of actuarial valuation as at the balance sheet date.

k) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

A provision is recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Contingent Liabilities are disclosed by way of notes to the accounts. Contingent assets are not recognized.

Tax expense for a year comprises of current tax and deferred tax. Current tax is measured after taking into consideration deductions and exemptions admissible under the provisions of applicable laws.

Deferred tax reflects the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income for the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years. Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Deferred tax assets arising on account of unabsorbed depreciation or losses under tax laws are recognised only when there is a virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

Deferred tax resulting from timing differences which originate during the tax holiday period but reverse after tax holiday period is recognised in the year in which the timing differences originate using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

m) Lease Assets

Operating Leases

Assets acquired as leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating lease. Lease rentals are charged off to the Profit and Loss Account as incurred.

Initial direct costs in respect of assets given on lease are expensed off in the year in which such costs are incurred.

n) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting preference dividends and attributable taxes) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for any bonus shares issued during the year and also after the balance sheet date but before the date the financial statements are approved by the Board of Directors.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for bonus shares as appropriate.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

You should read the following discussion of our financial condition and results of operations together with our audited and restated consolidated financial statements under Indian GAAP including the schedules, annexure and notes thereto and the reports thereon, which appear in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, beginning on page 150. Indian GAAP and U.S. GAAP differ in certain material respects. Unless otherwise stated, the financial information used in this section is derived from our audited consolidated financial statements under Indian GAAP, as restated.

Our fiscal year ends on March 31 of each year, so all references to a particular fiscal year are to the 12-month period ended March 31 of that year. In this section, any reference to "we", "us" or "our" refers to Suzlon Energy Limited on a consolidated basis.

Overview

We are India's leading manufacturer of wind turbine generators, or WTGs. Our accumulated sales were 1,126.6 MW as of March 31, 2005. We also installed 42.8% of the total capacity installed in India during the year ended December 31, 2004 and were the sixth largest wind turbine manufacturer in the world in terms of annual installed capacity for the year ended December 31, 2004. (Source: BTM Consult ApS March 2005) We develop and manufacture technologically advanced WTGs with an emphasis on high performance and cost-efficient WTGs. Together with our Associate Companies in our Group, we have positioned ourselves as an integrated solution provider of services related to wind energy in the Indian market. Besides manufacturing WTGs, we are involved in wind resource mapping, identification of suitable sites and technical planning of wind power projects. We also provide after-sale O&M services for WTGs supplied by us. Our Associate Companies acquire sites we have identified as suitable for wind energy projects, which are then sold or leased to our customers, and undertake the technical implementation of wind farms, including infrastructure development, installation of WTGs and connection to power grids.

Our product range includes 0.35 MW, 0.60 MW, 0.95 MW, 1.00 MW, 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs and we were among the first Asian-based companies to manufacture WTGs with MW and multi-MW capabilities. (See "Business — Products" on page 62 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.) We consider ourselves to be an integrated developer of WTGs, focused on the design, engineering and development of WTGs and components, as well as on the development and manufacture of rotor blades for our MW and multi-MW WTGs, control panels and nacelle covers. Recently, we have begun focusing on the development and manufacture of key components for WTGs such as control panels, generators and tubular towers. We also have an established supply management function for the components that we do not manufacture in-house, such as rotor blades for our 0.35 MW WTGs, gearboxes, castings and a portion of our generator, nacelle cover and tower requirements. These components are sourced from leading external suppliers, either on a purchase order basis or through negotiated supply agreements. We have also entered into supply agreements for raw materials used in the construction of rotor blades, such as glass fibre, epoxy resin and foam.

- (1) Suzlon Wind Energy Corporation and Suzlon Energy Australia Pty Limited have become 100.0% subsidiaries of Suzlon Energy AS effective March 1, 2005.
- (2) Suzlon Wind Energy Corporation has a 100%-owned subsidiary Cannon Ball Wind Energy Park; and AE Rotor Holding BV has two 100%-owned subsidiaries AE Rotor Techniek BV and Suzlon Energy BV.

We acquired 100% of the shares in SWSL in the beginning of fiscal 2005 and began including SWSL in our consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2005 from April 8, 2005. Therefore, our fiscal 2005 results include revenues and expenses attributable to SWSL that were not included in our results for fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2003.

Key factors influencing results of operations

Several factors influence our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow significantly. The key factors affecting our operations include:

- General economic and business conditions in India: India has been our principal market and we derive a substantial portion of our revenues from the Indian market. We therefore are affected by general economic conditions in the country, particularly economic conditions affecting the Indian power sector. India's GDP growth, industrial growth and power demand has been and will continue to be important factors in determining our operating results and future growth.
- Demand for power and specifically from wind energy sources: Changes in prices of oil, coal, natural gas and other conventional energy sources influence the demand for renewable energy sources such as wind power. The demand for power in general and from wind energy in particular has been and will continue to affect our operating results and future growth.
- Government policies including taxes and duties affecting wind energy sector: Historically, the wind energy industry and we in particular have benefited from fiscal benefits extended to investments in wind energy by state governments in India, the Indian central government and foreign governments. Changes in these policies have affected, and will continue to affect, the investment plans of our customers and us and our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Price of raw materials and components used in the manufacture of WTGs and their availability: Raw materials and components used in manufacturing of WTGs are sourced from domestic as well as international suppliers and the price thereof is dependent on various factors over and above supply and demand factors. The fluctuations in prices of such raw materials and components and their availability (which is primarily driven by our suppliers' manufacturing capacities and capital expenditure plans, as the components are primarily customized for our requirements) will affect our operating results. We are in the process of expanding our in-house manufacturing capabilities with a view to reducing our dependency on outside suppliers for key components such as tubular towers and generators. (See "Business – Manufacturing Facilities" on page 66 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.)
- Fluctuations in exchange rates and interest rate: Since our imported purchases are invoiced in foreign currencies, the rate of exchange between such currencies and the Rupee will affect our operating results to the extent it is not passed on to our customer by commensurate escalation in our prices. Similarly, changes in interest rates, both international and domestic, affect our operating results and the viability of wind power projects in general, as interest rates affect the ability of potential customers to obtain financing for wind power projects.
- Seasonality in our operations: WTG installations in India are affected by seasonal variations. The number of WTG installations are typically higher during the second and fourth quarter of each fiscal year in order for customers to avail of relevant tax incentives and to take advantage of high wind seasons. The majority of our sales and direct expenses occur during these two quarters. However, we believe that this will lessen as we expand our international operations, as well as our domestic operations to states, such as Tamil Nadu and Kerala, that have different high wind seasons.

- Our ability to expand international operations: Historically, India has remained our primary market. We are in the process of enhancing our international presence, although this involves meeting challenges such as competitive pressures, the acceptance of our products in these markets and other risks, including our limited experience in these international markets.
- Ability to design and market technologically advanced and cost-competitive WTG models: Although we have successfully launched 1.00 MW, 1.25 MW and 2.00 MW WTGs, our operating results and future growth depends on our ability to continue to develop and market technologically advanced and cost competitive WTG models.
- Our ability to source and manage working capital requirements: Our business operations are working capital intensive. The element of seasonality results in fluctuations in inventory of WTG components, with inventory levels higher during certain quarters of our fiscal year. Historically we have managed to optimize our working capital cycle time and to source the required working capital from banks and internal cash accruals. Our operating results and future growth depend on our ability to optimize the working capital cycle time and to source adequate working capital commensurate with the size of our business.

For more information on these and other factors/developments which have or may affect us, see "Risk Factors" on page xii of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "Business" on page 57 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Sales

Sales of WTGs and WTG components

Our sales include income derived from the sale of WTGs and WTG components such as rotor blades and nacelles.

All the terms of WTG orders, including the technical specifications of the WTG or WTG components to be supplied, payment terms and delivery schedules, are set forth in the purchase order issued by the customer and accepted by us. Income from WTG sales is recognized at the time of dispatch to the customer of the final WTG component, which is when the significant risks and rewards in respect of WTG ownership are transferred to our customer in accordance with the terms of its order.

The following table breaks down our WTG sales for the last three fiscal years per WTG model:

Model	For the year ended March 31,
	No. of WTGs	MW	No. of WTGs	MW	No. of WTGs	MW

2.00 MW	-	-	1	2.0	-	-
Total	74	73.0	215	241.7	451	507.7

We provide customers with a generation warranty for each WTG sold by us for the periods generally ranging from one to three years from commissioning date that covers either the number of units of power generated or a power curve based on assumption regarding wind speed and machine and grid availability.

We also provide free operation and maintenance services for periods generally ranging from one to three years after commissioning date. We generally charge a higher price for WTGs that are covered by generation warranties exceeding one year and for which we provide more than a year's free operation and maintenance services. See "Risk Factors — We face product liability and warranty risks and may face related claims" on page xviii of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Operations and Maintenance

Up to and including fiscal 2004, we did not derive substantial income from providing operations and maintenance services. However, in fiscal 2005 we acquired a 100% ownership interest in SWSL from members of our Promoter Group. Historically, SWSL had provided operations and maintenance services for all WTGs sold by us.

As such, beginning in April 2005, income from sales also includes fees for operation and maintenance services provided to our customers, which are provided after the expiration of the free operation and maintenance period which we provide to purchasers. Fees for operations and maintenance services are generally calculated as a fixed sum per WTG purchased by the customer and payable either on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis, depending on the terms of the operation and maintenance agreement separately entered into with the customer. The terms of these agreements generally range from one to 17 years. For more information, see "Risk Factors — We face product liability and warranty risks and may face related claims" on page xviii of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and "Business — Products — Operation and Maintenance Services" on page 66 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Sale of Power

We have installed WTGs at certain sites as follows, primarily as pilot projects for our WTG models and to avail of tax incentives offered by certain India states. The electricity generated from these WTGs is sold to state electricity boards and to private parties.

Company	Installed Capacity	State
Suzlon Energy Limited	0.225 MW	Gujarat
Suzlon Green Power Limited	3.80 MW	Maharashtra
	2 MW	Rajasthan
Suzlon Wind Farm Services Limited	0.7 MW	Maharashtra
	6.00 MW	Andhra Pradesh
	1.00 MW	Rajasthan

The income from sale of power in fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005 was Rs. 14.0 million, Rs. 29.0 million and Rs. 43.3 million, respectively.

Other Income

Other income consists primarily of interest received from bank deposits, interest received from customers for delayed payments and interest on loans granted to Associate Companies, as well as dividend income, net profits from the sale of investments and other miscellaneous income, which is primarily comprised of rent for premises leased by certain of our Associate Companies. See "-Related Party Transactions" on page 142 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Other income also includes income from the sale of tax incentives relating to our activities in the state of Maharashtra. Other income as a percentage of total income was 3.4%, 2.0% and 1.2% in fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, respectively. The following table sets forth details of other income for the last three fiscal years.

Expenditures

Our total expenditures are comprised of:

- Cost of Goods Sold;
- Operating and Other Expenses;
- Employees' Remuneration and Benefits;
- Financial Charges;
- Depreciation; and
- Preliminary Expenditures Written Off.

Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold represents the raw materials and components utilized in the manufacture of WTGs and WTG components sold during each accounting period. The cost is measured using the value of our stock of raw materials and components at the beginning of the accounting period plus raw materials and components purchased during the such period (or portion thereof) less the value of our stock of raw materials and components at the close of the accounting period.

Cost of goods sold also includes the increase or decrease, as the case may be, of inventory, which represents the difference between the value of stock of semi-finished and finished goods and work in progress on the last day of our fiscal year as compared to the first day of our fiscal year. Stocks of raw materials, components, semi-finished and finished goods and work in progress are valued at the lower of cost and estimated net realizable value. Cost is determined on a first-in-first-out basis. The cost of work in progress, semi-finished and finished goods includes the cost of materials, labour and manufacturing.

In addition, as we import a portion of our raw material and component requirements, which are principally de-nominated in foreign currencies such as the Euro, the Danish Kroner ("DKK") and U.S. Dollars, our costs are affected by fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Rupee and these currencies. All foreign currency transactions are recorded at the rate of exchange prevailing at the date of the transaction, as discussed in greater detail on Note (IV)(h) to our consolidated financial statements on page 206 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. For more information regarding the effect of fluctuation of the exchange rate between the Rupee and these currencies on the cost of material consumed, please see "Risk Factors — Fluctuation in the value of the Rupee against other currencies could adversely affect the cost of our borrowings and repayment of indebtedness, the costs of our raw materials and revenues from exports" on page xxiii of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Maintenance Warranty and Guarantee Expenses

We provide customers with generation warranty for each WTG sold by us. This warranty can consist of (a) a "unit" warranty on the number of units of electricity that will be generated by the WTG based on assumptions regarding machine and grid availability or (b) a power curve warranty pursuant to which we warrant that a WTG will produce a specified number of units of electricity based on assumptions regarding wind speed, machine availability and grid availability. These generation warranties generally extend for periods ranging from one to three years from the date a WTG is commissioned. We also provide free operation and maintenance services for periods generally ranging from one to three years after WTG commissioning. See "Risk Factors — We face product liability and warranty risks and may face related claims" on page xviii of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Provisions for our estimated liability with regard to maintenance warranty and guarantee expenses for WTGs for which we extend a unit warranty are made in the fiscal year the WTG is sold based on our technical evaluation, terms of our contract with the customer and past experience regarding the capabilities of our WTGs. We also make provisions for estimated liquidated damages relating to delays in the supply of WTGs to customers. The provisions are reviewed every fiscal year and necessary revisions are made in order that the provisions correctly represent our expected future liability for warranties and guarantees we have provided. During fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, the total amounts paid for warranty and guarantee claims were Rs. 199.8 million, Rs. 109.4 million and Rs. 200.3 million, respectively.

R & D certification and Product Development & Quality Assurance

This represents the expenses incurred on research and development, certification of WTGS by technical institutes, expenses on new product development and upgrading existing products and expenses on outsourcing to third parties of inspections of components purchased from our suppliers, as well as components manufactured in-house.

Expenses relating to remuneration to employees engaged in the foregoing activities and administrative and operating expenses of our research and development subsidiaries in Germany and the Netherlands are included as part of the relevant line items and are not included as research and development expenses.

During fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005, the total amounts paid for administrative and operating expenses of our research and development subsidiaries in Germany and the Netherlands (including depreciation) were Rs. 75.1 million, Rs. 106.2 million and Rs. 157.8 million, respectively.

Other expenses include expenses that are related to our sales and marketing activities, as well as other administrative expenses.

Employees' Remuneration and Benefits

Employees' remuneration and benefits includes salaries, wages, allowances, incentives and bonuses, contribution to provident and other funds and staff welfare expenses. During fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005, these totaled Rs. 122.8 million, Rs. 269.4 million and Rs. 617.7 million, respectively, corresponding to 4.6%, 3.1% and 3.2% of total income during each such fiscal year. Upward adjustments to employee wages are usually made during the first quarter of each fiscal year.

Employee Stock Option Plan

The AGM of the Company on June 16, 2005, approved an Employees Stock Option Plan, or the Scheme, for the issue of up to 1,000,000 options to the our employees (except employees of Subsidiaries in the United States of America). Pursuant to the Scheme, the Company has granted 921,000 options to eligible employees at an exercise price, which is at a discount of 50% of the Issue Price. Under the terms of the Scheme, 30% of the options will vest in the employees at the end of the first year, 30% at the end of the second year and the balance of 40% at the end of third year from the date of the grant. An employee's ability to exercise his options is subject to his or her continued employment with us.

The impact of our ESOP on our profit and loss statement is expected to be as follows:

Our earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization for fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005 were Rs. 416.1 million, Rs. 1,624.8 million and Rs. 4,926.9 million respectively.

EBITDA is not a measure of performance under Indian GAAP and you should not consider EBITDA as an alternative to (a) operating profit or net profit (as determined in accordance with Indian GAAP) as a measure of our operating performance, (b) cash flow from operating, investing and financing activities (as determined in accordance with Indian GAAP) as a measure of our ability to meet cash needs or (c) any other measures of performance under Indian GAAP. We believe that EBITDA is a measure of a company's operating performance because it assists in comparing performance on a consistent basis without regard to depreciation and amortization, which can vary significantly depending upon accounting methods (particularly when acquisitions are involved) or non-operating factors. Accordingly, we have included this information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus to permit a more complete and comprehensive analysis of our operating performance relative to other companies. Because all companies do not calculate EBITDA identically, our presentation of EBITDA may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies. The following table presents the manner in which EBITDA is reconciled to Profit After Tax:

	For the year ended March 31, (amounts in Rs. millions)

Financial Charges

The following table breaks down our financial charges and the percentage of each item relative to total income for each of the last three fiscal years.

		% of Total Income		% of Total Income		% of Total Income

Total.....	88.6	3.3%	275.6	3.2%	458.3	2.3%

Interest on fixed loans represent interest expense incurred during each fiscal year on our secured and unsecured long-term debt. Other interest primarily relates to interest expenses incurred during each fiscal year on short-term loans from banks and other financial institutions and on credit provided to us under supplier lines of credit. Bank charges represent processing fees for various loans and facilities, charges for letters of credit and bank guarantees and other charges levied by banks.

Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated using the Written Down Value method and prorated to the period of use based on either management's estimate of the useful lives of our fixed assets or at the rates specified in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act, whichever results in higher depreciation expense.

For more information on our depreciation policies, please refer to Noye (IV)(e) to our restated consolidated financial statements beginning on page 150 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Preliminary expenditures written off

These are expenses incurred during incorporation, expansion of manufacturing facilities or increases in capital, among others, which are classified as preliminary expenses in our financial statements. These are amortized over five fiscal years in accordance with our accounting policies, which are consistent with Indian GAAP.

Profit Before Taxes and Exceptional Items

Our profit before taxes and exceptional items for fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005 was Rs. 227.2 million, Rs. 1,212.2 million and Rs. 3,973.6 million, respectively.

Exceptional Items

This includes both income and expenditures that do not arise during the ordinary course of our business and are not expected to be recurring in nature, as set forth in the following table.

	2003	2004	2005
Write Back of Creditors.....	-	122.5	-
Excess Provision
Written Back.....	172.0	144.4	-
Total	172.0	266.9	-

Prior to fiscal 2003, we had provided warranties to customers in Maharashtra that the WTGs we had sold to them would comply with specified plant load factors, or PLF, and we had made provisions to cover potential liabilities under these PLF warranties. As and when these PLF warranties expired during fiscal 2003 and fiscal 2004, we wrote back these provisions that we had made in prior fiscal years.

During fiscal 2004 we wrote back liabilities to certain suppliers totaling Rs. 122.5 million (net of foreign exchange fluctuation provisions made for such liabilities). These liabilities were written back after our management determined that these liabilities were no longer owed to such suppliers because of disputes on defects in the products designed/supplied by such suppliers and our counterclaims against these suppliers for losses and expenses.

Taxation

Income Taxes are accounted for in accordance with AS – 22 issued by the ICAI on “Accounting for Taxes on Income”. Taxes comprise both current and deferred taxes

Provision for current taxes is made at current tax rates after taking into consideration the benefits admissible under the provisions of the Income Tax Act 1961. The major benefit we avail of is under Section 80IB of the Income Tax Act 1961 as our manufacturing facilities are located in industrially backward areas as defined in the statute. However, in case our liability for current taxes as calculated is less than 7.5% of our book profit (as defined by statute), we are liable to pay the Minimum Alternate Tax, or MAT, in accordance with Section 115JB of the Income Tax Act 1961.

Deferred taxes arise from timing differences between recording our book profits and our taxable profits that originate during an accounting period and which can be reversed in subsequent periods. Deferred taxes are measured using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted as of the date of financial statements in which they are recorded. We provide for deferred tax liability on such timing differences subject to prudent considerations in respect of deferred tax assets. Significant sources of deferred tax liabilities and assets include: the timing difference in recording depreciation under Indian GAAP and under the Income Tax Act, 1961; and the inadmissibility of provisions for guarantees and warranties under Income Tax Act 1961 and benefits available under Section 80IB of the Income Tax Act 1961.

Minority Interest

For fiscal 2003, we added back a total of Rs. 3.8 million corresponding to the share of the minority shareholders of Suzlon Green Power Limited in the net loss of this subsidiary during that fiscal year and our share in the profit of Suzlon Capital Limited, in which we had a 20% ownership interest. In March 2004, we acquired the balance of the shares in Suzlon Green Power Limited that we did not own and sold our minority interest in Suzlon Capital Limited. For fiscal 2005, we have added back Rs. 2.1 million corresponding to the share of the minority shareholder of Suzlon Structures in the net loss of that subsidiary, which was incorporated in May 2004.

Transfer to Goodwill

After the acquisition of the minority interest in Suzlon Green Power Limited in March 2004, in accordance with Accounting Standard 21 ("AS 21") issued by the ICAI, 20% of Suzlon Green Power Limited's net loss for entire fiscal year was recorded as a pre-acquisition loss and recorded as goodwill.

Net Profit Before Adjustments

Our profit before adjustments for fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005 was Rs. 375.9 million, Rs. 1,453.2 million and Rs. 3,653.4 million, respectively.

Adjustments

Our consolidated financial information of each of fiscal 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005 has been restated in compliance with SEBI guidelines. In accordance with Indian GAAP, the effects of the restatement are shown as a cumulative effect on our adjusted profit after tax rather than as restatements of individual line items in our income statement. Consistent with this presentation, in the comparison of our results of operations from fiscal period to fiscal period, we have provided a discussion of the effects of the restatement on our adjusted profit at the end of each such fiscal period to fiscal period comparison.

In accordance with SEBI guidelines, our previous years' financial statements included as part of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus have been restated to conform to methods used in preparing our latest financial statements, as well as to conform to any changes in accounting policies and estimates. The cumulative effects of these adjustments for fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005 were Rs. (106.9) million, Rs. (202.6) million and Rs. 205.2 million, respectively. The principal adjustments to our financial statements, including on account of changes in accounting policies and estimates, are described below:

Changes in Accounting Policies and Estimates

Depreciation

Up to the year ended March 31, 2000, we provided for depreciation on our fixed assets using the straight-line method based on the depreciation rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act for each relevant class of assets. Beginning April 1, 2000 and through March 31, 2004, we used the write down value method for depreciation, based on depreciation rates specified under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act for each relevant asset. Beginning April 1, 2004, we revised our depreciation policy to depreciate fixed assets based on the higher of depreciation expense calculated using the write down value method at rates specified under the Companies Act, and at rates based on our management's determination of the estimated useful lives of our fixed assets.

Provision for Generation Guarantee

Up to the year ended March 31, 2004, provisions for generation guarantees in our profit and loss statements were based on predetermined rates set by our management for each WTG. During the year ended March 31, 2005, we changed the basis for determining the amount of provisions for generation guarantee to an amount that is determined based on various factors, such as wind velocity, grid availability, plant load factor, load shedding and historical operational data.

Diminution in the value of investments

Through the year ended March 31, 2001, we valued long-term investments at cost without making any provisions for diminution, other than temporary diminution, in the carrying value of these long-term investments. From April 1, 2002, we changed our accounting policy in order to comply with Accounting Standard 13 ("AS-13") "Accounting for Investments" issued by the ICAI and began making provisions for diminution, other than temporary diminution, in the carrying value of our long-term investments.

Deferred Tax

We adopted Accounting Standard 22 ("AS-22") "Accounting for taxes on Income" issued by the ICAI for the first time in preparing our financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003. For the purpose of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, AS-22 has also been applied to the years ended March 31, 2001 and 2002 as if it was applicable in those years.

Our deferred tax assets/liabilities have also been recomputed to take into account the effects of changes in deferred taxes for prior years resulting from the accounting changes discussed in this section of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Other Adjustments

Prior Period Items

In our financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2001, 2002 and 2003, we had classified certain items of income and expense as prior period adjustments. In accordance with SEBI guidelines, these items of income and expenses have now been recognized in the years in which they were earned or incurred, as the case may be.

Current tax impact of adjustments

Our current tax expenses in each period has been recomputed and adjusted in order to reflect the changes discussed above.

Net Profit as Restated

Our Net Profit as Restated for fiscal 2003, fiscal 2004 and fiscal 2005 was Rs. 269.0 million, Rs. 1,250.6 million and Rs. 3,858.6 million, respectively.

Critical Accounting Policies

Preparation of financial statements in accordance with Indian GAAP, the applicable accounting standards issued by the ICAI and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act require our management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions regarding uncertainties that affect the reported amounts of our assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. These judgments, assumptions and estimates are reflected in our accounting policies, which are more fully described in the report of our Chartered Accountants appearing on page 150 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Certain of our accounting policies are particularly important to the portrayal of our financial position and results of operations and require the application of significant assumptions and estimates of our management. We refer to these accounting policies as our "critical accounting policies". Our management uses our historical experience and analyses, the terms of existing contracts, historical cost convention, industry trends, information provided by our agents and information available from other outside sources, as appropriate, when forming our assumptions and estimates. However, this task is inexact because our management is making assumptions and providing estimates on matters that are inherently uncertain.

For more information on our significant accounting policies, please refer to Schedule XIV to our restated consolidated financial statements beginning on page 150 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

While we believe that all aspects of our financial statements should be studied and understood in assessing our current and expected financial condition and results, we believe that the following critical accounting policies warrant additional attention:

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sale of goods is recognized when the significant risks and rewards in respect of ownership of the products are transferred to the customer, in accordance with the terms of the purchase order issued by the customer. Interest income is recognized on proportion of time, except for interest received from customers, which is recognized on documentary evidence for acceptance of liability. Dividend income is recognized on establishment of right to receive.

Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are stated at cost (including all expenditure necessary to bring the asset to its working condition for intended use) less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Intangible assets are recorded at the consideration paid for their acquisition. Manufactured assets and other internally generated assets comprise of all direct costs and all expenditure that can be directly attributed or allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to creating, producing or making the assets ready for its intended use. Pre-operative expenses for new undertakings are capitalized on commencement of commercial production. Assets held for disposal are stated at lower of net book value or estimated net realizable value.

The carrying amounts of assets belonging to each cash generating unit are assessed at each balance sheet date and where the carrying amounts are in excess of their recoverable amount, the assets are written down to their recoverable amount.

Depreciation / Amortization

Depreciation/Amortization is calculated using the Written Down Value method and prorated to the period of use based on either management's estimate of the useful lives of our fixed assets or at the rates specified in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act, whichever results in higher depreciation expense.

Inventories

Inventories of raw materials, semi finished goods, work in progress and finished goods are valued at lower of the cost and estimated net realizable value. The cost of semi finished goods, work in progress and finished goods includes cost of material, labour and manufacturing overheads is determined on a FIFO basis.

Stock of land and lease rights is valued at lower of the cost and estimated net realizable value. Cost is determined on weighted average basis. Net realizable value is determined by management using technical estimates.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Transactions in foreign currency are normally recorded at the exchange rate prevailing at the date of the transaction. The following table shows the reporting rate for various items:

Particulars	Reporting rate
Monetary Items	Closing rate
Non monetary items:
- Carried in terms of historical cost denominated in foreign currency	Rate prevailing at the date of transaction
- Carried at fair value / similar valuation denominated in foreign currency	Rate prevailing at the date of determination of such value

Exchange differences arising as a result of the above are recognized as either income or expenditures in our profit and loss account, except liabilities incurred for acquiring imported fixed assets, in which case the exchange gain or loss is adjusted to the carrying amount of the fixed asset concerned. In the case of forward contracts, the premium or discount at the inception of the contract is recognized as income or expense over the life of the contract. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of forward exchange contract or exchange differences arising out of such contracts are recognized as income or expense for the period. The financial statements of integral foreign operations are translated as if the transactions of the foreign operations were ours.

Provisions for maintenance warranties and guarantees

Provisions for operation and maintenance guarantees are made on the basis of (a) expected operation and maintenance expenditures over the period of the free operation and maintenance provided to customers and (b) claims on account of failure of WTG parts. The provision for generation guarantees is made on the basis of expected claims for generation shortfalls over the guarantee period, based on assumptions regarding, among other matters, wind velocity, grid availability, load shedding and historical operating data. Provisions for liquidated damages are made for expected claims relating to non-fulfillment of delivery commitments.

Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

A provision is recognized when we have a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to their present value. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the management's current best estimate of the amount required to settle the obligation. Contingent liabilities are disclosed by way of notes to our consolidated financial statements. Contingent assets are not recorded.

Results of Operations — Fiscal 2005 compared to Fiscal 2004

An overview of trends and developments and a comparison of significant items of income and expenditure for fiscal 2005 compared to fiscal 2004 are provided as follows:

- Increase in the number of WTGs sold to 451 in fiscal 2005 from 215 in fiscal 2004;
- Increased demand for energy related to the continued growth of the Indian economy;
- First full-year of operations of the our new manufacturing facilities Pondicherry during fiscal 2005;
- Entry into new markets such as Karnataka;
- The acquisition of SWSL in April 2005, which increased our income from operation and maintenance services; and
- Equity and Preference Share financing totaling Rs. 2,000.0 million obtained from the Private Equity Investors.

Income

Our total income increased by 124.7% to Rs 19,659.2 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 8,748.6 million in fiscal 2004. This increase was primarily due to increased WTG sales.

Sales

Total sales increased by 126.5% to Rs. 19,424.8 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 8,575.0 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was due to the increase in WTG sales in fiscal 2005 to 451 WTGs (with an aggregate capacity of 507.70 MW) as compared to 215 WTGs sold in fiscal 2004 (with an aggregate capacity of 241.65 MW). Factors contributing to our increased sales included: increased demand arising from the continued growth of the Indian economy; an improvement in the price per MW of capacity sold, due to the increase in the number of 1.25 MW WTG models sold; the first full year of operations of our new manufacturing facilities in Pondicherry during fiscal 2005; and sales in new markets such as Karnataka, where we sold 90 of our 1.25 MW WTG model in fiscal 2005.

Our sales income in fiscal 2005 also included Rs. 195.5 million from operations and maintenance fees received by SWSL, which we acquired in April 2004 and began consolidating in our financial statements beginning fiscal 2005.

Other Income

Other income increased by 35.0% to Rs. 234.4 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 173.6 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was primarily due to increases in interest income and dividends.

Expenditures

Cost of Goods Sold

Our cost of good sold increased by 105.3% to Rs. 11,376.8 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 5,541.4 million in fiscal 2004 as the increase in WTG production and sales during fiscal 2005 led to a corresponding increase in the total cost of materials used for WTG manufacture. However, as a percentage of total income, cost of goods sold declined to 57.9% of total income in fiscal 2005 from 63.3% of total income in fiscal 2004. This was due to economies of scale attributable to our increased production, as well as improvements and upgrades made to the technical design and specifications of our WTGs that served to lower manufacturing costs.

Operating and Other Expenses

Operating and other expenses increased by 108.5% to Rs. 2,737.7 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 1,313.0 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was primarily due to an increase in provisions for maintenance, warranty and guarantee expenses by 152.3% to Rs. 1,029.1 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 407.9 million in fiscal 2004, which resulted from increases WTG sales in fiscal 2005 as compared to fiscal 2004 and a change in our provisioning estimates.

Other expenses increased by 242.6% to Rs. 509.4 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 148.7 million in fiscal 2004 primarily due to higher operation and maintenance charges arising from extending the operation and maintenance warranty periods for certain customers and voluntary modifications and updates made to our customers' WTGs at our cost with a view to reducing future maintenance costs. Infrastructure development expenses increased to Rs. 146.3 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 17.4 million in fiscal 2004 as a result of the construction of transformers and sub-stations on wind farm sites. Provisions for doubtful debts, which includes both receivables from customers and other loans and advances extended by us, increased by 111.6% to Rs. 93.3 million during fiscal 2005 from Rs. 44.1 million during fiscal 2004 due to the aging of certain receivables.

As a percentage of total income, operating and other expenses declined to 13.9% in fiscal 2005 from 15% in fiscal 2004 as fixed and semi-variable expenses such as advertising and sales promotion expenses and administrative expenses were spread over a larger volume of sales. Further, our strategy of locating our manufacturing facilities in India close to our principal Indian markets led to lower logistical costs, such freight, packaging and forwarding charges, which declined as a percentage of total income to 1.3% in fiscal 2005 from 1.7% in fiscal 2004.

It should be noted that due to a revision of our estimates regarding the operational reliability of our WTGs based on our review of WTG operations over the past few years, in fiscal 2005 we adjusted our policy on provisions for maintenance, warranty and guarantee expenses. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2005 compared to Fiscal 2004 - Net Profit as Restated" on page 228 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Employees' Remuneration and Benefits

Employees' remuneration and benefits expenses increased by 129.3% to Rs. 617.7 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 269.4 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was due to increase in number of employees to 2,071 as of the end of fiscal 2005 from 949 as of the end of fiscal 2004, primarily resulting from the inclusion of SWSL's 656 employees as part of our total workforce following our acquisition of SWSL in April 2005 and an increase in the number of employees of our overseas subsidiaries.

Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA)

EBITDA increased by 203.2% to Rs. 4,926.9 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 1,624.8 million in fiscal 2004. As a result of our increased WTG sales in fiscal 2005, the improvement in the price per MW of capacity sold and the decline in our cost of goods sold and other operating expenses as a percentage of total income, EBITDA as a percentage of total income increased to 25.0 % in fiscal 2005 from 18.6% in fiscal 2004.

See "- Results of Operations – EBITDA" on page 219 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus for an explanation of EBITDA and the manner in which it is reconciled to Indian GAAP operating measures.

Financial Charges

Financial charges increased by 66.3% to Rs. 458.3 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 275.6 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was primarily due to an increase in our total debt to Rs. 3,958.1 million as of March 31, 2005 from Rs. 2,383.6 million as of March 31, 2004 and the consequent increase in interest expenses to Rs. 352.5 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 215.5 million in fiscal 2004. The additional debt consisted primarily of financing obtained during fiscal 2005 to fund the additional working capital required to meet the increased demand for and sales of our WTGs during fiscal 2005. As a percentage of total income, finance charges declined to 2.3% in fiscal 2005 from 3.2% in fiscal 2004 due to improvements our management of our working capital requirements and in the rupee and foreign currency mix of our borrowings. We also benefited from the equity financing obtained from the Private Equity Investors, which served to reduce our dependence on bank financing during fiscal 2005.

Depreciation

Depreciation expense increased by 262.4% to Rs. 493.2 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 136.1 million in fiscal 2004, primarily due to the full-year impact of depreciation of our Pondicherry and Daman manufacturing facilities and changes in estimates of the useful lives of certain of our fixed assets, such as moulds and patterns and metmasts. In previous fiscal years these assets were depreciated over their estimated useful lives. Beginning in fiscal 2005, acquisition costs of these assets were fully depreciated and carrying costs of such assets from previous years were also fully depreciated.

It should be noted that in fiscal 2005 we revised our depreciation policy due to management's reassessment of the estimated economic useful lives of certain of our fixed assets, such as moulds and patterns, metmasts and other low cost assets. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2005 compared to Fiscal 2004 – Net Profit as restated" on page 228 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Preliminary expenditure written off

In fiscal 2005 we wrote off preliminary expenditure in the amount of Rs. 1.8 million, compared to Rs. 0.9 million in fiscal 2004.

Profit Before Taxes and Exceptional Items

As a result of the foregoing, profit before taxes and exceptional items increased by 227.8% to Rs 3,973.6 million (or 20.2% of total income) in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 1,212.2 million (or 13.8% of total income) in fiscal 2004.

Exceptional Items

Exceptional items recorded during fiscal 2005 totaled nil, compared to Rs. 266.9 million during fiscal 2004. The exceptional items in fiscal 2004 included a one-time write back of unclaimed amounts due from certain suppliers totaling Rs. 122.5 million and a write back of provisions in the amount of Rs. 144.4 million relating to PLF warranties that had already expired.

Taxation

Current Taxes

Current taxes increased by 271.2% to Rs. 489.1 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 131.8 million in fiscal 2004 due to the increase in our book profits for tax purposes, as well as the partial expiry of the Section 80IB tax holiday for our manufacturing unit in Daman, which began operations in fiscal 2000.

Deferred Taxes

Deferred tax assets increased by 77.9% to Rs. 167.4 million in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 94.1 million in fiscal 2004. The increase was due to timing differences arising because of our policy of expensing provisions for maintenance warranties and guarantees under Indian GAAP in the year in which the WGT is sold, as opposed to the requirements of the Income Tax Act, 1961, which allows provisions to be deducted for income tax purposes only in the year in which these provisions are utilized.

In fiscal 2005 we adjusted our policy on provisions for maintenance warranties and guarantees and depreciation, which resulted in changes to our deferred taxes. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2005 compared to Fiscal 2004 – Net Profit as Restated" on page 228 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Minority Interest

For fiscal 2005, we added back Rs. 2.1 million corresponding to the share of the minority shareholder in the net loss of Suzlon Structures for fiscal 2005. Suzlon Structures was incorporated during fiscal 2005. There were no charges relating to minority interests during fiscal 2004.

Transfer to Goodwill

During fiscal 2004, after we acquired the minority interest in Suzlon Green Power Limited we were required, in accordance with Accounting Standard 21 ("AS 21") issued by the ICAI, to record as goodwill 20% of Suzlon Green Power Limited's net loss for all of fiscal 2004. We did not record any transfers to goodwill during fiscal 2005.

Net Profit Before Adjustments

Net Profit before adjustments increased by 151.4% to Rs. 3,653.4 million (or 18.6% of total income) in fiscal 2005 from Rs. 1,453.2 million (or 16.6% of total income) in fiscal 2004.

Net Profit as Restated

Our net profit as restated for fiscal 2005 has been restated due to, among other matters, changes in accounting policies and estimates and material adjustments, as well as certain items attributable to prior periods. As a result, our adjusted profit increased by 208.5% to Rs. 3,858.6 million in fiscal 2005, compared to Rs. 1,250.6 million for fiscal 2004.

The main adjustments for fiscal 2005 were as follows:

- Depreciation expense declined by Rs. 69.4 million due to revisions to the estimated useful lives of certain assets. As a result, our depreciation expense for previous fiscal years correspondingly increased.
- Provisions for maintenance guarantees and warranties declined by Rs. 206.3 million due to the change in estimates regarding the operational reliability of our WTGs. Provisions for maintenance guarantees and warranty expenses for previous fiscal years have increased correspondingly.
- Our deferred tax assets declined by Rs. 68.8 million as a result of the foregoing adjustments.

The main adjustments for fiscal 2004 were as follows:

- Depreciation expenses increased by Rs. 41.1 million as a result of the revisions and adjustments discussed above.
- Provisions for maintenance guarantees and warranties increased by the Rs. 221.0 million due the revised estimates regarding the operational reliability of our WTGs.
- Our deferred taxes increased by Rs. 46.1 Million due to the foregoing adjustments.
- Our current taxes declined by Rs 8.0 million as a result of the foregoing adjustments.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS — FISCAL 2004 COMPARED TO FISCAL 2003

An overview of trends and developments and a comparison of significant items of income for fiscal 2004 compared to fiscal 2003 are provided as follows:

- Increase in the number of WTGs sold to 215 in fiscal 2004 from 74 in fiscal 2003;
- Increased demand for energy related to the growth of the Indian economy;
- Completion of our first international order, which was to supply 24 WTGs of 0.95 MW each in the United States;
- Increased sales during fiscal 2004 of our 1.25 MW WTG models, which were introduced during fiscal 2003; and
- As a percentage of total income, cost of good sold increased to 63.3% of total income in fiscal 2004 from 57.4% in fiscal 2003, primarily due to an increase in the cost of raw materials such as steel and an increase in the cost of imported components due to the appreciation of the Euro against the Rupee.

Income

Total income increased by 224.4% to Rs. 8,748.6 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 2,697.1 million in fiscal 2003. This increase was primarily due to increased WTG sales.

Sales

Sales increased by 229.1% to Rs. 8,575.0 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 2,605.7 million in fiscal 2003. During fiscal 2004 we sold 215 WTGs (with an aggregate capacity of 241.65 MW) as compared to 74 WTGs sold during fiscal 2003 (with an aggregate capacity of 75.00 MW). The increase in sales was attributable to the following factors: (a) increased demand for WTGs in India; (b) increased sales in the Tamil Nadu market during fiscal 2004 following our entry into that market in fiscal 2003; (c) increased market acceptance and sales of our 1.25 MW WTG model to 162 WTGs in fiscal 2004 from 48 in fiscal 2003; and (d) the sale of 24 WTGs (with an aggregate capacity of 22.80 MW) in the United States, which was our first international order.

Other Income

Other income increased by 89.9% to Rs. 173.6 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 91.4 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was primarily due to increase in interest income and dividends, as well as profits on the sale of our investment in Suzlon Capital Limited to our Promoters.

Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold increased by 257.9% to Rs 5,541.4 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 1,548.3 million in fiscal 2003. This increase was attributable to the increase in WTG production and sales, which led to corresponding increase in the total cost of materials used in WTG manufacture. As a percentage of total income, cost of good sold increased to 63.3% of total income in fiscal 2004 from 57.4% in fiscal 2003, primarily due to an increase in the cost of raw materials such as steel and an increase in the cost of imported components due to the appreciation of the Euro against the Rupee.

Operating and Other Expenses

Operating and other expenses increased by 115.3% to Rs 1,313.0 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 609.9 million in fiscal 2003, as our increased WTG production and sales resulted in the increase of variable expenses such as provisions for maintenance and warranty and guarantee expenses. Warranty and guarantee expenses increased by 396.8% to Rs 407.9 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 82.1 million in fiscal 2003. Write offs for bad debts and provisions for doubtful debts increased to Rs. 48.0 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. Nil in fiscal 2003. However, operating and other expenses as a percentage of total income declined to 15.0% during fiscal 2004 from 22.6% in fiscal 2003. This was primarily due to our fixed and semi-variable operating expenses, such as selling and promotion costs and administrative expenses being spread over a larger amount of total income, as well as to savings in logistic costs as our strategy of locating our manufacturing units in close proximity to our principal Indian markets resulted in our lowering freight, packaging and forwarding charges as a percentage of total income from to 1.7% in fiscal 2004 from 3.8% in fiscal 2003.

It should be noted that due to a revision of our estimates regarding the operational reliability of our WTGs based on our review of WTG operations over the past few years, in fiscal 2005 we adjusted our policy on provisions for maintenance, warranty and guarantee expenses. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2004 compared to Fiscal 2003 – Net Profit as Restated" on page 232 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Employees' Remuneration and Benefits

Employee remuneration and benefits expenses increased by 119.3% to Rs 269.4 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 122.8 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was primarily due to the increase in the number of our employees to 949 as of March 31, 2004 from 480 as of March 31, 2003, particularly the number of employees for our overseas subsidiaries.

Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization

EBITDA increased by 290.5% to Rs. 1,624.8 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 416.1 million in fiscal 2003, primarily due to improvements in operating efficiency. As a result of the increase in WTG sales during fiscal 2004 and the improvement in the ratio of our operating expenses to our total income, EBITDA as a percentage of total income increased to 18.6% in fiscal 2004 from 15.4% in fiscal 2003.

See "- Results of Operations – EBITDA" on page 219 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus for an explanation of EBITDA and the manner in which it is reconciled to Indian GAAP operating measures.

Financial Charges

Financial charges increased by 211.1% to Rs. 275.6 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 88.6 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was primarily due to the increase in our total debt to Rs. 2,383.6 million as of March 31, 2004 from Rs. 1,036.1 million as of March 31, 2003 and the consequent increase in the total interest expense to Rs. 215.5 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 64.4 million in fiscal 2003. The additional debt incurred related to additional working capital required to meet the increase in demand for our WTGs.

Depreciation

Our depreciation expense increased by 36.6% to Rs 136.1 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 99.6 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was primarily due to depreciation relating to our additional manufacturing facilities established at Pondicherry and Daman during fiscal 2004, as well as to higher depreciation of assets used in the ordinary course of business, such as computer equipment and office furnishings.

In fiscal 2005 we revised our depreciation policy due to management's reassessment of the estimated economic useful lives of certain of our fixed assets, such as moulds and patterns, metmasts and other low cost assets. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "-Results of Operations - Fiscal 2004 compared to Fiscal 2003 – Adjusted/Recast Profit" on page 232 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

In fiscal 2004 we wrote off preliminary expenditure in the amount of Rs. 0.9 million, compared to Rs. 0.7 million in fiscal 2003.

Profit Before Taxes and Exceptional Items

As a result of the foregoing, our profit before taxes and exceptional items increased by 433.5% to Rs 1,212.2 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 227.2 million in fiscal 2003.

Exceptional Items

Exceptional items recorded during fiscal 2004 increased by 55.2% to Rs. 266.9 million, compared to Rs. 172.0 million during fiscal 2003. Extraordinary items in fiscal 2004 included Rs. 122.5 million of unclaimed amounts owing to suppliers that were written back as discussed in "-Results of Operations-Extraordinary and Exceptional Items", as well as Rs. 144.4 million in provisions for potential PLF warranty claims that were written back after the expiration of the relevant warranties.

Taxation

Current Taxes

Current taxes increased by 327.6% to Rs 131.7 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 30.8 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was due to the increase in our taxable profits, particularly our Other Income, which is not eligible for tax exemptions.

Deferred Taxes

Deferred tax assets increased to Rs. 94.1 million in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 0.1 million in fiscal 2003. The increase was due to timing differences arising from our policy of expensing provisions for maintenance warranties and guarantees under Indian GAAP in the year the provision is made, as opposed to the requirements of the Income Tax Act, 1961, which allows provisions to be deducted for income tax purposes only in the year in which these provisions are utilized.

In fiscal 2005 we adjusted our policy on provisions for maintenance warranties and guarantees and depreciation, which resulted in changes to our deferred taxes. The adjustments are discussed in "-Results of Operations – Adjustments" on page 222 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the effect of the adjustments on our profit after tax is discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2004 compared to Fiscal 2003 – Net Profit as Restated" on page 232 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Minority Interest

For fiscal 2003, we added back a total of Rs. 3.8 million corresponding to the share of the minority shareholders of Suzlon Green Power Limited in the net loss of this subsidiary during that fiscal year and our share in the profit of Suzlon Capital Limited, in which we had a 20% ownership interest. In March 2004, we acquired the balance of the shares in Suzlon Green Power Limited that we did not own and sold our minority interest in Suzlon Capital Limited. As a result, we did not record any minority interests during fiscal 2004.

Transfer to Goodwill

During fiscal 2004, after we acquired the minority interest in Suzlon Green Power Limited we were required, in accordance with Accounting Standard 21 ("AS 21") issued by the ICAI, to record as goodwill 20% of Suzlon Green Power Limited's net loss for all of fiscal 2004. We did not record any transfers to goodwill during fiscal 2004.

Net Profit Before Adjustment

As a result of the foregoing, net profit before adjustment increased by 286.6% to Rs 1,453.2 million (or 16.6% of total income) in fiscal 2004 from Rs. 375.9 million (or 13.9% of total income) in fiscal 2003.

Net Profit as Restated

Our net profit as restated for fiscal 2004 has been restated due to, among other matters, changes in accounting policies and estimates and material adjustments, as well as certain items attributable to prior periods. As a result, our adjusted profit increased by 364.9% to Rs. 1,250.6 million in fiscal 2004, compared to Rs. 269.0 million for fiscal 2003.

The main adjustments for fiscal 2004 are discussed in "- Results of Operations - Fiscal 2005 compared to Fiscal 2004 – Net Profit as Restated" on page 228 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The main adjustments for fiscal 2003 were as follows:

- Depreciation expenses increased by Rs. 13.9 million due to the revision of estimates relating to the useful lives of certain assets.
- Provisions for maintenance guarantees and warranties increased by Rs. 103.3 million due to the revised estimates regarding the operational reliability of our WTGs.
- Our deferred tax assets increased by Rs. 13.7 million due to the foregoing adjustments.

Seasonality and Inflation

Seasonality has historically had an impact on our results of our operations. In India, which is currently our primary market, WTGs sales are usually higher during the second and fourth quarters of each fiscal year. The second and fourth quarters are when a majority of the WTG sales are made so that customers can avail of accelerated depreciation incentives relating to the acquisition of power generation equipment and to ensure that WTGs are commissioned before the onset of the annual monsoon season. Therefore, a large portion of revenue is generated and cost of materials are incurred during these two fiscal quarters. See "Risk Factors – Our revenues and results of operations fluctuate depending on many factors, particularly on the timing of sales, and can vary significantly from period to period, which could adversely affect our results of operations and could cause our share price to decline" on page xv of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

During fiscal years 2003, 2004 and 2005, the All India Wholesale Price Index (all commodities) increased by 3.1%, 5.3% and 6.5% respectively. Inflation has not had a significant effect on our results of operations to date.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary liquidity requirements have been to finance our working capital requirements and our capital expenditures. We have met these requirements from cash flows from operations, equity capital contributions from private equity investors and short-term and long-term borrowings.

Net Working Capital

As of March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005, our consolidated net working capital, defined under Indian GAAP as the difference between (a) current assets, loans and advances and (b) current liabilities and provisions, was Rs. 4,141.1 million and Rs. 9,667.5 million, respectively.

Current Assets, Loans and Advances

Current assets, loans and advances (or Total Current Assets) consist of inventories, unsecured sundry debtors, cash and bank balances and loans and advances. Total Current Assets as of March 31, 2004 and March 31, 2005 were Rs. 8,137.7 million and Rs. 17,476.5 million, respectively.

The following table sets forth details of our Total Current Assets:

Inventory

Inventories, which is comprised of raw materials, semi-finished goods, work-in-progress, finished goods and land/lease rights, as of each of March 31, 2003, 2004 and 2005 was valued at Rs. 1,343.8 million, Rs. 2,212.8 million and Rs. 5,755.7 million, respectively.

Sundry Debtors

Sundry debtors consist of receivables from customers. In turn, these receivables are divided into those that have been outstanding for periods up to six months and those that have remained outstanding for over six months. Receivables that have been outstanding for more than six months are sub-divided into those that are considered good based on our internal guidelines and those that are considered doubtful. Provisions are made for all receivables that management has determined are doubtful. The following table presents the details of our debtors:

	As of March 31,

Amounts due from debtors outstanding for more than six months (excluding deferred credit receivables) as a percentage of total debtors has declined from 23.7% in fiscal 2003 and 34.7% in fiscal 2004 to 13.9% in fiscal 2005. The total for fiscal 2003 included amounts due from small and medium-sized customers which experienced delays in obtaining financing for the WTGs purchased from us. The total for fiscal 2004 included a large amount due from our first customer in the United States which was invoiced in September 2003 but was only able to pay us after March 31, 2004. The delay resulted from delays by our U.S. customer, a partnership of farmers in Minnesota, in obtaining equity commitments from John Deere and Edison Capital to enable them to project finance the development of their wind farm. The improvement during fiscal 2005 has primarily been due to the improved ability of our customers to obtain financing for their WTG acquisitions the increase in the number of financial institutions willing to finance these purchases and our acquiring larger customers from our larger WTG models. As a result, our ability to collect payments from customers has improved, although we are still actively pursuing efforts to further improve our collection efforts. See "Risk Factors - Our revenues and results of operations fluctuate depending on many factors, particularly on the timing of sales, and can vary significantly from period to period, which could adversely affect our results of operation and could cause our share price to decline" on page xv of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Amounts due from Deferred Credit Receivables relate primarily to our entry into the Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan markets during fiscal 2003, as well as to the introduction of new WTG models during the same fiscal year. At the time we entered the Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan markets, the practice of WTG manufacturers was to provide customers anywhere from 24 to 36 months to pay for WTG purchases. We adopted this practice in fiscal 2003 for our initial customers in Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan in order gain entry into these new markets. Beginning in fiscal 2004 we ceased offering these extended payment terms to customers in Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan and now offer these customers payment terms in line with the terms we offer other customers in India, which is payment from three to six months from invoice date.

Loans and Advances

Loans and advances consist of unsecured loans and advances that are considered good. These include, among other items, amounts retained by customers as security deposits, as well as advances to Associate Companies that are recoverable in cash or in kind or for value to be received (net of provisions for doubtful advances). As of March 31, 2003, 2004 and 2005, loans and advances totaled Rs. 1,160.9 million, Rs. 1,801.4 million and Rs. 3,247.3 million, respectively. Provisions for doubtful advances were Rs. Nil, Rs. 40.0 million and Rs. 33.5 million for each of fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005, respectively.

Current Liabilities and Provisions

Current liabilities and provisions consist primarily of liabilities to sundry creditors, provisions for guarantees and warranties, advances from customers and liabilities for interim dividends as well as provisions for dividend payments, wealth taxes, dividend taxes and income taxes.

The following table presents details of our current liabilities and provisions:

	As of March 31, (amounts in Rs. millions)

Operating profits before working capital changes (net of tax) increased due to the growth of our operating income in fiscal 2005. Cash flow from exceptional and extraordinary items mainly represents write backs of excess provisions for operation and maintenance warranties, generation guarantees and write backs of amounts due to creditors. Changes in net working capital arise from changes in working capital requirements, which vary depending on our production volume.

Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities represents capital expenditure, investments, intercorporate deposits (primarily to Associates Companies, including SDL and SRL) and income from dividends and interest. The table below summarizes our net cash used in investing activities for fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005:

Net Cash Generated from (Used in) Financing Activities.....	593.2	1,088.3	2,384.4

Capital Expenditures

Our capital expenditures in fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005 totaled Rs. 550.0 million, Rs. 817.5 million and Rs. 1,787.4 million respectively. Expenditures were used to fund the construction of new manufacturing facilities at Pondicherry, Daman, Gandhidham and Chakan at Pune, as well as of our offices at Mumbai, Chennai and Delhi and the acquisition of assets used in the ordinary course of business, such as computer equipment and office furnishings, as well as the acquisition of SWSL for Rs. 72.4 million in April 2005.

We expect to continue investment in establishing new manufacturing facilities in Vadodara, Daman, Mandvi and Nandurbar, Hyderabad, China and the United States, in improving and expanding our existing manufacturing facilities and construction of corporate offices and a corporate learning center at Pune. To this end, our Board has approved capital expenditures of Rs. 7,518.3 million for fiscal 2006. We also intend to invest some of our budgeted capital expenditure in our subsidiaries and joint ventures in connection with their expansion plans. We may from time to time in the course of expanding our international presence, consider making equity investments in, acquisitions of or mergers in targeted international markets and/or enter into strategic alliances.

We expect to fund our capital expenditure requirements through a combination of funds generated from operations, net proceeds of the Fresh Issue and borrowings. Our capital expenditure plans are subject to a number of variables, including: possible cost overruns; governmental approvals including approvals of regulators in our target markets; availability of financing on acceptable terms; and changes in management's views of the desirability of current plans, among others. We cannot assure you that we will execute our capital expenditure plans as contemplated. For more information, please see "Objects of the Issue" on page 28 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We rely on both Rupee and foreign currency-denominated, secured and unsecured short-term and long-term borrowings.

Total consolidated debts were Rs. 1,036.1 million, Rs. 2,383.6 million and Rs. 3,958.1 million as of March 31, 2003, 2004 and 2005, respectively. The weighted average rate of interest with respect to outstanding long-term loans for the respective periods was 12.249%, 9.683% and 8.310% per annum, respectively.

We fund our short-term working capital requirements through cash flow from operations, overdraft facilities with domestic banks, short- and medium-term borrowings from banks and financial institutions. Consolidated short-term borrowings were Rs. 322.2 million, Rs. 1,155.8 million and Rs. 2,221.3 million as of March 31, 2003, 2004 and 2005 respectively.

The following table breaks down our total indebtedness:

The terms of certain of our borrowings contain certain restrictive covenants, such as requiring lender consent inter alia for incurring further indebtedness, creating further encumbrances on our assets, disposing of our assets, undertaking guarantee obligations, declaring dividends or incurring capital expenditures beyond certain limits. Some of these borrowings also contain covenants, which limit our ability to make any change or alteration in our capital structure, make investments, effect any scheme of amalgamation or restructuring, enlarge or diversify our scope of business. Certain of our long-term debt are secured by a charge over our immoveable and moveable property, and certain of our short-term debt are secured by a charge on our current assets, including, but not limited to, our inventory and receivables.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosure about Market Risk

We are exposed to market risk from changes in foreign exchange rates and interest rates. The following discussion is based on our consolidated financial statements under Indian GAAP.

Interest Rate Risk

Our financial results are subject to changes in interest rates, which may affect our debt service obligations. Our long-term Rupee-denominated debts, which bear interest at floating rates linked with prime lending rates of the respective lenders, as determined from time to time totaled Rs. 406.9 million outstanding as at March 31, 2005. Our long-term foreign currency-denominated debts, which bear interest at floating rates linked with six-month U.S. Dollar LIBOR totaled Rs. 589.5 million outstanding as at March 31, 2005. Approximately 99.5% of our short-term Rupee-denominated debts, which totaled Rs. 2,211.2 million outstanding as at March 31, 2005, bear interest at floating rates linked with prime lending rates of the respective lenders, as determined from time to time.

We use derivative instruments to hedge against adverse movements in interest rates with the objective of reducing the cost of debt. The underlying notional amounts covered as of March 31, 2005 under one contract was Rs. 100.0 million and U.S.$ 2.0 million under a separate contract. The values of these derivative instruments are subject to movements in interest rates and may result in a negative carry from time to time.

Upward fluctuations in interest rates increase the cost of both existing and new debts. An increase in interest rates of 1% on our existing floating rate debts would increase our annual interest charges by Rs. 32.1 million based upon the long-term and short-term loans outstanding as at March 31, 2005.

Exchange Rate Risk

We maintain accounting records and prepare our financial statements in Rupees, although our export sales are priced in U.S. Dollars. Similarly, we import a significant amount of raw materials and key components and most of these imports are denominated in foreign currencies such as the Euro, the DKK and the U.S. Dollar. Additionally, changes in exchange rates influence the cost of our borrowings denominated in currencies other than Rupees and the Rupee value of such borrowings in our balance sheet.

The following table summarizes certain information regarding the proportion of our non-Rupee denominated debt to our total outstanding debt.

	As at March 31
	2003	2004	2005
Total foreign currency denominated debt (U.S. Dollars millions)	1.9	5.0	18.9
Total foreign currency denominated debt (Rs. millions)	88.9	219.9	827.4
Total foreign currency-denominated debt as percentage of total outstanding debt.....	8.6%	9.2%	20.9%

From time to time, we use derivative instruments to hedge our foreign exchange exposure. Nevertheless, a weakening of the Rupee against the Euro, the U.S. Dollar and other major foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on our cost of borrowing and imports and consequently may increase the cost of financing and raw materials. At the same time, it will generally cause a foreign exchange gain on sales to international customers. Our foreign subsidiaries operate in respective countries in their respective currencies. We are subject to translation gains and losses on the assets and liabilities of such subsidiaries for the purpose of consolidation in our financial statements.

In addition, we have experienced and can be expected to continue to experience foreign ex-change losses and gains on obligations denominated in foreign currencies in respect of our borrowings, debtors and creditors.

Commodity Price Risk

We are exposed to market risk with respect to the prices of raw material and components used in the manufacture of WTGs and WTG components. These commodities include steel and copper. The costs for these raw materials and components are subject to fluctuation based on commodity prices. The costs of components and various small parts sourced from outside manufacturers may also fluctuate based on their availability from suppliers. In the normal course of business, we purchase these raw materials and components either on a purchase order basis or pursuant to supply agreements.

Effect of New Accounting Pronouncements

The following are accounting pronouncements issued by the ICAI during the last three fiscal years that have had an effect on our financial reporting:

Accounting for Taxes on Income

The ICAI issued Accounting Standard 22 ("AS 22") for Taxes on Income, which prescribes guidelines for addressing the problem of permanent and timing differences between accounting income and taxable income. It is not applicable to taxes on distribution of dividends. Under AS 22, tax expense for an accounting period is the total of current tax and deferred tax. Deferred tax is the tax effect of timing differences; permanent differences do not result in deferred tax assets or liabilities and hence should not be recognized. AS 22 also states that considerations of prudence should not be ignored while recognizing the impact of timing differences and prescribes conditions under which deferred tax assets should not be recognized. AS 22 came into effect for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2001 and became mandatory for us for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2002. This accounting standard has had an impact on our reported profit after tax as the tax impact of timing differences is now recognized as an expense or an item of income.

Accounting for Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

The ICAI issued Accounting Standard 29 ("AS 29") for Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets, which prescribes appropriate recognition criteria and measurement bases to be applied for Provisions and Contingent Liabilities. AS 29 requires that an enterprise should disclose sufficient information to enable users to understand their nature, timing and amount. AS 29 came into effect for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2004 and became mandatory for us from that date. We do not believe that adoption of AS 29 has had a material impact on our financial statements and results of operations.

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. Under the current foreign investment policy applicable to us foreign equity participation up to 100% is permissible under the automatic route.

The Company is in the process of applying to the Reserve Bank of India for permission for the sale of Equity Shares as part of the Issue.
